TWENTY NEW SINGERS JOIN CHORAL SOCIETY AT MEETING MONDAY

Twenty additional singers turned out last Monday evening for the second meeting of the Springfield Choral Society. This made the total sixtytwo, and Ernest McKinney, director of the chorus, and Dr. W. C. Rebhan, representative of the Lions club which is sponsoring the singers group both expressed themselves as pleased beyond all expectations.

The meeting night has been changed from Monday to Thursday. This was done to enable those of the singers who desire to take part in the Eugene- oratorio to sing with both groups

Miss Winifrid Tyson was chosen to serve as official accompanist.

It was also decided at the meeting Monday night to reduce the size of the orchestra which is to be organized to appear with the singers, and to increase the membership of the chorus. It was agreed to increase group of singers to between sixty and sixty-five voices.

The music was used for the first time Monday and three of the chorus numbers were practiced.

The first public appearance of the singers will be on Good Friday when they will present an oratorio, "The Redemption."

IRE OF JUNIOR CLASS AROUSED BY RING STORY

Several members of the Junior class at the high school have taken exception to the action of the local school board when it expressed itself at the last meeting as not being entirely pleased with the present system of having students purchase pins and rings during their last years in school. The juniors, it seems, took the matter too personally. They presumed that the school board objection were based on the action of their class alone which is not true. The members of the board had in mind the junior classes of the past several years when they spoke of the trouble which was experienced in raising funds to pay for the jewelry after it had been ordered. According to the members of this year's junior class the pins and rings did not remain in the local express office overnight after their arrival before they were paid for and taken to the high school.

MASONIC STAG PARTY HELD HERE ON TUESDAY

Parrots have come in for a lot of unfavorable publicity lately because of a strange disease which has at-tacked several persons and which is attributed to infection brought by cer-tain parrots from South America. Physicians and health officials say there is no danger of catching "parrot fever" from a bird which has been in the family for any considerable time. The parrot is probably the most in-telligent of all birds, and the fact that it can be taught to talk makes it alit can be taught to talk makes it alit can be taught to talk makes it al-most a human companion. And, like human beings, parrots develop person-al attachments to such a degree that they often pine away and die when separated from their particular friends. Don't let anybody kill your correct inst because a few parrots are parrot just because a few parrots are suspected of being disease-carriers.

FEMINISTS Ganna Walska, the Polish singer who has been married to two American multi-millionaires, has convinced the U S. Customs Court that a married woman can have a legal residence separate from that of her husband. That saves Ganna from paying duties on French gowns imported from her Paris "home," though her husband lives in Lake Forest, Illinois,

This decision is hailed as a great victory by the ultra-ieminists, whose purpose in life seems to be to break up the American home and put mar-ried life on the plane of the cheapest illicit love-affair. Because this "modern" idea runs contrary to the most deepseated traditions every expression deepscated traditions every expression of it gets a lot of publicity, which is probably what Ganna and the other feminists want. But it by no means follows that American family life is in danger. Home and babies and a husband with a good job are what the overwhelming majority of American girls still want in marriage. STYLE

The fur coats and silk stockings worn by the American stenographers who accompanied the delegates from this country to the Naval Disarma-ment Conference at London made a greater impression on English newspaper men than anything else about the delegation. Londoners never saw working girls dressed "smartly." The young women from the diff-erent departments in Washington who were taken over to do the clerical meth departments and do the clerical were taken over to do the clerkal work for the delegation were not picked for their beauty but solely because they were the most efficient at their jobs. In any part of America, city or country village, they would attract no special attention. We are so used to seeing our girls well-dressed and "smart" in manner and dressed and "smart in manner and appearance that we do not realize that nowhere else in the world do any but ultra-fashionables and actresses on parade wear the latest styles in clothes.

OVERHEATED IRON BURNS HOLE IN WALL AT NIGHT

A pressing iron which had been forgotten and left with the current on burned a hole almost thru the wooden wall between the Service Cleaners and Springfield laundry last Thursday night before it was discovered by an employee of the laundry who saw the red hot iron glowing on the other side of the wall. He climbed over the transom into the cleaner portion of the building and removed the iron. No damage was done to either business by the iron.

CLIFFORD WEAVER NOT MARRIED LAST WEEK

When is a joke not a joke? Last week a report spread around this part of the country that Clifford Weaver of Thurston, son of A. W. Weaver, had been married at Salem. It seems that in sending his father a package Mr. Weaver jokingly signed it Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Weaver thus leading his parent to believe that he had been married.

is felt today throughout the Nation, both North and South. In this own time even the North did not appreciate him. Dr. Albert Shaw, the distinguished Editor of the Review of Reviews, brings this out graphically in a new two-volume book which reprints the most complete collection ever made of the newspaper cartoons, campaign posters and other pictorial representations of Lincoln during his rise to fame and his tenancy of the White House. Even without Dr. Shaw's illuminating text the pictures show Lincoln as more grossly maligned and bitterly lampooned, even in the house of his friends, than any other man who ever rose to the Presidency. Only after his tragic death did the people of the North begin to realize that a great man had led them. We are prone to forget that no man appears great to his contemporaries.

LIGHT

Fifty years from now the world may regard the discoveries made in our time about light as the greatest scientific advance of all time. Light cures disease, ordinary sunlight, light produced in various ways by artificial means. Ordinary window glass keeps the healthful part of the sunlight out of the house. New kinds of glass let it in. In fifty years every modern home will be equipped with the new glass and illness wil be less common Light stimulates growth of both animals and plants. An English far-mer proved that exposing young pigs to ultra-violet light made them worth double their farrow-mates at six months. A French scientist recently months. A French scientist recently grew strawberries in a cellar, ripening in half the normal time, using arti-ficial light. They cost $5 apiece, but the time will come when out-of-sea-son fruits and vegetables can be grown in the North by artificial light as cheaply as now in Plorida. MAYOR'S HISTORY TOLD
