STUDENTS TO FEATURE MUSIC AND HUMOROUS SKITS IN PROGRAM

The first of the two laudatory programs to be presented at the high school this spring will be staged tomorrow evening, starting at 8:00 o'clock. The senior and freshmen classes are uniting their efforts to make this the best program of the year. The junior and sophomore classes will put on their program next month and will try to outdo the first program.

Featuring the program will be a William Fox moving picture, "The Power of the Press" in which Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., takes the leading role.

An original play, "A Vitaphone Act," by Bessie Stewart, Ruth Bettis and Clifford Darr, will consist of a boys and girls chorus of twelve voices consisting of the following students: Ruth Bettis, Vernice Hauk, Laudelle Williams, Bessie Stewart, Nellie Sankey, Bernice Cline, Freeman Squires, Ralph Hughes, Milton Doane, Alan Schantol, Henry Trinkka, and Clifford Darr.

There will also be a prologue to the picture and several specialty acts the exact nature of which will not be revealed before the evening of the performance.

The admission charges are 35 cents and 15 cents. Tickets may be had from any member of either the senior or freshman classes.

Mrs. William Baker is in charge of the program preparation. Clifford Darr is the manager of the event.

"CHASING RAINBOWS" IS NOW AT FOX-McDONALD

One of the most spectacular technical scenes ever filmed was staged for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Chasing Rainbows," now playing at the Fox-McDonald Theatre. A dancing and singing ensemble of two hundred persons participated in this splashing finale number.

The scene was built about the song hit, "Happy Days are Here Again," written for the musical comedy production by Jack Yellen and Milton Ager.

Charles King and Bessie Love, the principals, sing and dance the number with members of the supporting cast, Marie Dressler, Polly Moran, Jack Benny, George K. Arthur, Eddie Phillips, and Youcca Troubetsky, taking bows before the final curtain.

The scene is presented with vivid colors, the motif being Parisian Monmartre with girls dressed in colorful and voluminous skirts that swirl and the boys clad in military uniforms.

That S. S. Van Dine's best seller, "The Bishop Murder Case," is fully as exciting on the screen as it is in book form, will be indicated at the Fox-McDonald Theatre Sunday, where the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talking thriller opens to an enthusiastic reception.
