

CREAMERY MAY CHOOSE APRIL 1 FOR OPENING; DECISION NOT FINAL

The Springfield Creamery will probably be opened for business on April 1, according to Pyle and Griffin, managers. It is possible, however, that the work can be completed before that time.

A new concrete floor was poured over the old one this week. The interior is now being painted and the cooling rooms will be cemented over the thick cork walls this week.

Most of the new equipment arrived last Saturday and will be installed very soon. Among this new equipment was a large springless scale, an ice chopper, and ice cream mixer, a pasteurizing machine and other technical equipment.

It is expected that work on the outside of the building will be started next week.

In this picture Garbo scores the triumph of her career, her voice recording splendidly, adding power to her dramatic instinct and bringing fascination in multiple quantities to her personality.

As the heroine of Eugene O'Neil's play of regeneration, Garbo contributes a performance of great poignancy and effectiveness. Never has she before reached such heights of emotionalism.

Clive Brook, who was Ruth Chatterton's leading man in "Charming Sinners," is to be seen and heard in support of the Paramount star for the second time when "The Laughing Lady" comes to the Fox McDonald Theatre Sunday.

In this comedy-drama of society life which deals with wealthy New Yorkers, their foibles and doings, Miss Chatterton is the wife of a wealthy banker who thinks more of his Wall street than he does of his home sweet home. She becomes the innocent victim of a scandal at Southampton, fashionable seaside resort, and when her husband learns of it through the press, he divorces her without further ceremony.

Clive Brook is the friend of the husband and the lawyer who effects the victory for him against his wife in the divorce trial.

TO BAN 36,000 UNFIT CARS FROM PACIFIC COST ROADS THIS YEAR

Thirty-six thousand unfit automobiles will be removed from the Pacific Coast highways during the coming year in an effort which is part of a national Highway Safety plan which is being undertaken by various companies in the automobile industry, as announced by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The program will involve an expenditure of approximately $1,262,000 on the Pacific Coast. Nationally, the motor companies plan to scrap 400,000 old automobiles in 1930, involving an expenditure of approximately $15,000,000.

The number of cars which it is estimated will be scrapped in each of the states on the coast is as follows: California 26,450; Washington 5560, Oregon 3520.

The program is characterized as "perhaps the greatest single safety movement in industrial history," by Alvan Macauley, president of the Automobile Chamber, and former chairman of its Street Traffic Committee.

"This widespread experiment will strike right at the heart of the unsafe vehicle problem by eliminating a huge block of those cars which are in the poorest condition," says Macauley.

One of the hazards of the highway situation has been the rattle-trap car which keeps re-appearing on the road after it has presumably been sent to the discard. The aim of this program is to guarantee the actual scrapping of the vehicle. The plan will be worked out by each company participating, in line with its general sales policies and the volume of its production.

R. H. Grant is chairman of the committee which worked out the details of the program. Other members include C. H. Bliss, J. E. Fields, Paul G. Hoffman, H. W. Peters, Courtney Johnson and Edward S. Jordan.

HAROLD LLOYD RETURNS TO SCREEN IN TALKIES

After an absence of nearly a year and a half, Harold Lloyd is returning to the screen, making the occasion an auspicious one by presenting his first all-talking picture, "Welcome Danger" at the Bell Theatre, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The comedian spent many months mastering the new screen technique, and in "Welcome Danger" is said to have developed what will prove the fastest production shown since the advent of talking pictures. He has not deviated from the old method of producing his comedies, maintaining all the speed and action of his past successes, but adding sound and dialogue as good measure entertainment.

Many of the scenes in "Welcome Danger" are laid in San Francisco's underground Chinatown, and combine action, romance, and mystery with a whirlwind series of laugh episodes.

A new leading lady is presented by Lloyd, Barbara Kent, who is a sure fire screen partner for the bespectacled comedian. She has an excellent voice and her performance in "Welcome Danger" is said to stamp her for picture progress.

Very Latest

By MARY MARSHALL.

Many things that we have thought impossible have come to pass in the realm of fashion. We have submitted, at least for a time, to the return of long skirts. We may not like them—and probably don't—but we are beginning to feel that the skirt that gives a glimpse of the knee is decidedly demode. We have returned to the normal waistline and women who have lost the slenderness of youth are hastening to the corset makers or corset counters to see what aid they can get in that quarter.

We have accepted clothes that are decidedly more elaborate and often less comfortable than those to which we have become accustomed, but so far we have held out against a return of high collars. All fashions, they say, come back in the course of events and possibly it is only a matter of waiting to see a return of day clothes that fit up to the chin. Several times of late years dressmakers have tried to launch high collars. We were even assured that the two-piece suit would be out of the question if women did not accept blouses with high collars. Most women, however, find that whatever clothes may gain by the high neck line they certainly lose in becomingness.

Here and there, among the new fashions, one sees something that suggests a higher neck line for day time dresses, and to the very exceptional woman this sort of thing is becoming. But for the most of us there is still everything to be said in favor of the collar line that leaves the throat exposed at the front.

The tweed dress at the top has a white linen turn-over collar and the beige crepe dress below has scarf collar that may be worn high or low.
