

LIFE SKETCH OF SENATOR HALL

Republican Candidate Well Qualified for Position of Governor.

A quarter of a century ago, a young man, lured to Oregon by the call of the west, was swinging a shovel in a Portland sewer. As each day ended he would climb steep stairs to the fifth floor of the Tremont hotel—there was no elevator—to his $1 a week room.

Today, with a fiction-like record of success behind him, the man—Charles Hall—stands before the public as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. In 1922 he barely missed the nomination, losing by 500 votes.

He taught school three terms in Pennsylvania after completing his elementary education in a little red school house near his father's farm. When he stepped from the Portland sewer ditch, he taught a term at Clatskanie. This teaching experience gave him an intimate knowledge of educational problems in which he, as a state senator and leader in public life has been actively concerned.

Hall, after leaving school work, was employed by an uncle in a drug store at Clatskanie. He saved systematically during his early years, and then engaged in timber cruising. He was successful and made enough to attend the University of Michigan 1903-05. In 1906 he returned to Oregon, where he acquired a drug store at Hood River. There he was active in the work of the Chamber of Commerce. For a time he was the organization's president. This gave him a vision of the possibilities of united effort. He was one of the leaders in organization of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce for more comprehensive efforts in behalf of the state, and was the first state president.

Going to Coos county, he took over a struggling rural telephone system which was undercapitalized and facing the problem of serving a rapidly growing but widely scattered area. He built and strengthened it until it was known for its efficiency, its friendly relationship with its customers, and its low rates.

A determined organizer and builder, he founded the Bank of Southwestern Oregon and later the American Bank of Marshfield.

He was among the first leaders to see the commercial value of the Columbia river highway, and interested many influential men to join the drive to put the project across. As chairman of the senate highway committee, he fostered much of the legislation for better highways.

If nominated and elected, he says, one of his first moves will be to start his "Industrialize Oregon" program by calling a meeting of representative citizens from each county in the state.

FLOUR SACKS EXPLODE: WERE SOAKED WITH GAS

Gasoline is a poor substance to try and boil things in, thinks Mrs. E. L. Matthews, of Goshen, and she knows because she tried it at her home on Monday morning.

Mrs. Matthews didn't exactly knowingly boil gasoline, but what she did was to soak a large number of flour sacks in gasoline, thinking this would aid in removing the coloring, and then placed them into a boiler of hot water on the stove to boil.

She was suffering from bad burns on her left arm from her shoulder to the wrist, and minor burns on her face and the other arm when brought to the office of a local physician to have her injuries dressed after the flour sacks exploded.

VIDA MAN'S AUTOMOBILE DAMAGED IN ACCIDENT

A slippery stretch of road proved to be a serious obstacle in the path of E. W. Goff, of Vida, Monday morning when he started for Springfield and suddenly found himself off the side of the road trying to remove a telephone pole which was firmly imbedded there.

Goff was driving down a private road towards the McKenzie highway and was almost there when the car struck a slippery root, swerved, turned completely around and ran into a telephone pole before he realized what was happening. Somehow during the mixup Goff was thrown to the back of the car and found himself in one corner of the back seat after the machine had stopped.

The car was considerably damaged. Mr. Goff escaped with a bad shaking up.

WILLAKENZIE GRANGE TO HAVE EXHIBITS AT FAIR

The Willakenzie Grange voted unanimously at their meeting last week to support the Lane county Fair this fall. Plans were made for putting a Grange exhibit in one of the booths. Several individuals also declared their intention of sponsoring exhibitions of their own.

W. A. Ayers, market master of the Producers' Public market, in Eugene, was the principal speaker at the meeting. He talked on "Growing Victory Oats."

Elmo Chase, master of the Willakenzie Grange, presided at the meeting.

SPRINGFIELD BAKERY SELLS CONCESSION

The bakery concession held by the Springfield Bakery at the Producers' Public market in Eugene, has been sold, according to an announcement made here Monday morning by Fred Frese, proprietor of the local bakery. The concession has been purchased by T. C. Bradley, of Eugene, a former grocer in that city. He contemplates engaging in business at the market and will handle the products of other bakeries in addition to those of the Springfield plant.

CYCLE RIDER INJURED AFTER PEDAL IS LOST

Losing one of the pedals off his motorcycle here Saturday night was sufficient for Don Gregory, of West Springfield, to lose control of his machine and cause him to be thrown to the pavement, as a result of which he received several bad bruises and a deep gash over his left eye. He was taken to the office of a local physician immediately and it was ascertained there that the injuries were not serious, although they were painful.

FIRE CAUSES NO DAMAGE AT DAISY LANE DAIRY

A fire, which was discovered at the Daisy Lane Dairy, west of Springfield, last Saturday, charred the walls but did not do any damage to the machinery before it was put out by neighbors, who noticed the flames. Ralph Cline was not at the dairy at the time of the fire, and arrived home to find that there had been a fire and that it was already extinguished.

Sparks from the boiler are believed to have ignited a pile of sawdust nearby, causing the blaze.

THREE LOCAL PEOPLE CALLED FOR JURY DUTY

Three Springfield residents are included in the list of twenty-one prospective jurors which have been called for the next term of circuit court, which opens on April 16. The three Springfield people on the jury are Peter L. Nelson, Mrs. Guy Halsey, and Herbert J. Cox.

HEALTH UNIT TO MEET AT WILSON HOME HERE

The Springfield unit of the Lane County Health association will meet at the home of Mrs. C. O. Wilson on Wednesday afternoon, April 16. PORTLAND WOMAN DIES AT MCKAY HOME HERE

Mrs. Florence Griffith, aged 73 years, died here Friday morning at the home of her brother, J. S. McKay, 731 F street. She had been visiting in this city for three weeks prior to her death. Her home was in Portland.

Mrs. Griffith was born in Cook county, Tennessee, and came to this state in 1864. She is survived by one son, Roy Griffith, Portland; and three brothers, Robert McKay, Winlock, Washington, David McKay, Wilbur, Oregon, and J. S. McKay, Springfield. Funeral services were held here on Saturday at the Walker-Poole chapel. Rev. Ralph Mulholland, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated and the remains were taken to Portland in a motor hearse for interment.

Here for Medical Care—Mrs. Fred Wright, of Marcola, was a caller at a local physician's office on Monday.

A New Store A Springfield Store

We have opened a new store, and a Springfield store, and we solicit your patronage on merit only—quality merchandise with only legitimate profits added.

We have bought property in Springfield; Springfield labor did our building and remodeling, and we have two Springfield clerks, R. M. L. Moore and Paul Grandall, employed in the store. And if you'll keep mum I'll give you a tip—our manager is going to become a Springfield resident, too.

We believe in Springfield, we like the people in and about Springfield, and we believe this little city is on the eve of much greater prosperity—The Lucky Boy Mine, the Air Port, the new Creamery, a proposed Paper Mill and many other things are going to make us grow.

And one of the greatest assets of this city, and in at least one way you are an exception to most every other community in the United States—you have no Chain Stores. But your Wall Street concerns will come after you have grown a little larger, after you have your main expenses covered—your schools, your churches, your roads. They will come to Wall Street, but they will never come to own property, pay taxes and help you build.

Clive Stanley, the manager of this new Ralph & Stanley Store, No. 4, is a half owner in the business, and when you patronize who is here today and transferred to some other store tomorrow.

We want your patronage, but we don't ask business through sympathy. If we reduce your living costs (and I know we will) kindly give us the credit due for putting Springfield groceries on a live-and-let-live basis.

When we came back to Eugene five years ago we found that town almost the highest priced grocery town on the Pacific Coast, and we claim the credit for making Eugene the lowest priced grocery town in Oregon, and Springfield will now be in Eugene's class, as prices will always be the same at all Ralph & Stanley Stores—excepting occasional specials such as are offered Springfield buyers in this ad.

Come in and see us, and if other ties don't forbid, boost for us, because it is going to take volume selling to maintain prices such as we intend giving.

We thank you, RALPH & STANLEY, Geo. C. Stanley, Mgr.

PERFECTION Bakery Products

ANNOUNCEMENT
Mr. Stanley has decided to handle Springfield manufactured bread exclusively, and we are proud to be able to supply him with a so-much needed staff of life. It has always been our aim, and we have succeeded in a large measure, in producing in PERFECTION BREAD a loaf of the highest quality.

We have been pleased with the patronage PERFECTION BREAD has won for us both here in Springfield and in Eugene, and we will continue to retail the same high quality bread in the new Stanley store.

If, however, it is desired that a less expensive loaf of bread be sold, we will manufacture, in our own plant, a new loaf to meet this demand. Our Products will be Always Fresh.
