OREGON STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Assembled for Information of Our Readers.

Central Oregon's first forest fire of 1930 blacked a small strip of land on the Fremont highway right of way.

Ancient automobiles that have been on vacant lots and streets in Bend for many years are to be gathered up by the city authorities and made into a huge bonfire.

A special election in the Cove school district has been called to vote on floating an $8000 bond issue to build and equip a new gymnasium and recreation hall.

Raymond Turnidge, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Turnidge, was burned to death when the explosion of a kerosene lamp set fire to the family home near Willamina.

The state land department turned over to the state treasurer during the month of March a total of $129,171.09, according to a report prepared by George G. Brown, clerk of the state land office.

Committees from Medford, Bend, Ashland and Phoenix will meet with the baseball committee of the Klamath Falls Elks Sunday at Klamath Falls to form a Southern Oregon baseball league.

Selection of timbered land on both sides of the Salmon river near Grand Ronde as a site for the establishment of a national forest by state and national authorities was announced at McMinnville.

The 15,000-pound load limit signs of the Old Oregon trail between Baker and North Powder were taken down and the regular limit of 22,000 pounds re-established. The road is said to be in good condition.

Lorraine Laxon won the Malheur county declaratory contest for Ontario. Marjorie Humphrey took second place for Vale. Third place went to Valley View, Edith Brown being the champion of rural schools.

A dividend of 2.8 per cent has been declared by the state bank examiner on claims growing out of the defunct Jacksonville bank, which closed its doors a number of years ago. The present dividend will close the matter indefinitely.

Ole E. Olson, 40, fishing crew superintendent for the Columbia River Packers' association, was killed instantly on the Astoria-Seaside highway when he was struck by an automobile driven by L. S. Leach, deputy dairy and food commissioner.

Lebanon's annual strawberry fair is to be financed this year by direct subscription by business men. This will obviate the need of a queen contest to raise funds. Enough money has already been pledged to care for the financial needs of the festival.

Klamath Falls' water supply was increased 1000 gallons per minute recently with the completion of a larger well near Link river by the California-Oregon Power company. This means 5000 gallons per minute daily will be pumped into tanks for civic use.

Announcement has been made by R. J. Hubbard, manager of the Winchester Bay Lumber company, that the mill, closed for the past three months, resumed operations with a force approximately of 250 men. This means a payroll of about $20,000 a month.

Word has just been received at the Owyhee irrigation district office at Nyssa that the contracts for the two large tunnels of the Owyhee project have been awarded by the bureau of reclamation. Tunnel No. 1 is to be 3 1/2 miles long, and tunnel No. 5 is to be four miles long. The total awards more than $10,000,000 worth of work is under contract on the Owyhee project.

The board of trustees of Albany college has voted to build a modern gymnasium to be ready for use next fall. Including equipment, the cost of the structure is estimated at $50,000.

Postoffice receipts in Eugene during the first quarter of 1930 amounted to $41,996.11, according to D. E. Yoran, postmaster. This is an increase of more than 12 per cent over the receipts of the first quarter in 1929 and is taken as an indication of the growth of the city.

Alpine, a small school on upper Butler creek, took the three first prizes at the divisional declamatory contest for high school students. The same school won three out of four of the first prizes in the grade contest. Boardman won nearly all of the second places.

A total of $101,170 was reached during March by the city of Klamath Falls for building permits. Of this total 58 permits were issued for residences, further evidence, according to realtors, of the rapid growth, not only in the business section, but throughout the city.

Unusually warm March weather at Roseburg has caused much damage to broccoli, with temperatures ranging daily from 75 to 83 degrees maximum. The heads have spread out instead of maturing smoothly, and also have been sunburned and discolored, making them unfit for shipment.

For the first time in the history of Masonry in Oregon, so far as grand lodge officials know, a public ceremony for conferring life memberships upon veteran members was held recently by Cottage Grove Masonic Lodge. Milton L. Myers, Salem, grand master, represented the grand lodge.

Marton Cox, 43, sought a refund of $3 at Oregon City for the marriage license he didn't use, but the Clackamas county clerk refused him. Cox didn't use the marriage license because Ella Strucken, 20, changed her mind just as the minister was about ready to tie the matrimonial knot.

A packrat gnawing on matches it had carried into a nest in a storeroom caused a fire at Bend which resulted in considerable damage to a local grocery store. When the place where the fire originated was examined, the packrat was found burned to death in its nest, with blackened matches nearby.

With the enrollment of 69 new students, the University of Oregon has reached a new high campus figure of 3262 at the close of the second day of the spring term, it was announced by Earl M. Pallett, registrar. This exceeds the entire total for 1929, when 3242 were enrolled. A few more are expected to enter.

Word was received at Roseburg recently that the senate has approved Senator McNary's bill appropriating a tract of 160 acres on Little river, 35 miles east of Roseburg, for public park purposes. The county recently applied for this land, which is in the Oregon and California grant, and will open it for park use.

Lake county sheepmen have organized the Lakeview Woolgrowers' Co-operative association and will cooperate with California woolgrowers' association in marketing this season's clip. About one million pounds of wool in Lake, Klamath and Modoc counties will be handled through the newly formed corporation.

Organization of the dairymen of Linn county for the advancement of the industry was effected at a county-wide meeting held in Albany recently. D. O. Woodworth, Albany, retiring president of the Oregon Jersey Cattle club, was elected county chairman to carry out plans outlined by P. M. Brandt, state chairman.

As a result of the increased federal appropriation for the benefit of federal-aided highways in the various states Oregon will receive, beginning this year, $800,000 in excess of its previous federal allowance, it is announced by Roy Klein, state highway engineer. For several years the federal appropriation has been approximately $75,000,000, of which Oregon received $1,200,000. Oregon will receive $2,000,000 under the new apportionment.

The state treasurer sent to the state's fiscal bank in New York city a check for $2,190,768.29, covering the retirement of $887,500 of state highway bonds, $711,514.54 interest on outstanding highway bonds and $591,763.75 interest on Oregon veterans' state aid bonds. Outstanding highway bonds in Oregon now aggregate $30,004,250 as compared with the original issues of $38,700,000. The total bonded indebtedness of the state has been reduced to $59,877,010.

New wealth brought to Oregon by families locating during the first three months of 1930 is estimated at $597,414, says W. G. Ide, manager of the state chamber of commerce. This is more than twice the 1929 figure for the same period, which was $293,425.

According to the Bagley Canning company, with plants at Ashland and Talent, the tomato acreage will be increased 50 per cent in Rogue river valley. The company is making preparations to put up the largest pack of tomatoes in its history this year.
