

TOBACCO ADS HIT BY BROTHERHOOD

Pictures of Beautiful Women Smokers on Billboards in City are Protested; Other Civic Problems Discussed; Business Men Make Speeches.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Springfield Methodist church does not approve of the large pictures exhibiting beautiful girls and women smoking cigarettes which are being posted about town on the Foster and Kleiser billboards, and they are determined to do something about it. Members of the organization who attended the final meeting of the group on Monday evening appointed a committee to meet with the city council at their next meeting and ask that some action be taken to prevent the continuation of the practice. Dr. W. H. Pollard stated that he was given to understand by the advertising firm that they would not post any more of the pictures in the town after the first of the year, but that they have apparently forgotten about it. Professor Wood, Rev. C. J. Pike and Will Maybe were appointed members of the committee.

Road Signs Wrong

It was also agreed that a committee be appointed to confer with the highway officials regarding the matter of correcting the signs which they have recently erected at the triangle at the west approach of the new bridge. The signs now placed there says that it is one mile to Springfield, when in reality it is just across the bridge, which does not begin to be a mile long.

The practice of plastering all windows in vacant buildings and the outer walls of many business houses with unsightly signs and advertising was also hit at the meeting, which was a purely local improvement one. G. C. Griffin suggested that the local merchants follow the example set by the Eugene business men of placing advertising displays in each of the show windows of the vacant buildings.

Airport Development Told

Previous to the discussion short talks were made by local business men. Dr. W. C. Rebhan traced the development of flying and pointed out how difficult it was for the pioneers in this means of transportation to determine what course of development to follow so as to be sure and not make mistakes which would have to be remedied later at a great expense. He also told his hearers of the suggestions made for the development of the local field by Mr. MacKenzie, the airport specialist from Washington, D. C.

G. C. Griffin spoke on the necessity of being careful in handling milk and other dairy products. He stated that if milk passed direct from the cow to the consumer that no precautions would be needed, but that under present conditions all modern creameries maintain a pasteurizing machine to protect their customers.

Trees and tree surgery was discussed by the Davidson brothers of West Springfield, and the Rev. Pike spoke briefly on the relationship of the church to the community. Charles Paddock spoke of the work which is being done at modern greenhouses. Harry M. Stewart and Charles Lawrence were taken in as new members of the brotherhood.

Annual Picnic Planned

The matter of the open picnic which the brotherhood has each summer was discussed and committees appointed by the president. The matter of time and place for the picnic was left in the hands of the location committee. Other committees are sports, arrangement, food, program and transportation.

COUNTY CHAMBER ASKS ROAD WORK BE DONE ONE SECTION AT TIME

A resolution passed by the Lane County Chamber of Commerce at the regular monthly meeting held at Vida last Thursday evening asks the state highway commission to construct only one section of the McKenzie highway at the time at those places where it is to be torn up and re-routed or rebuilt. The practice of tearing up many long stretches of the highway and having it in an incomplete stage for several months during the summer when the traffic over the highway is the heaviest, works an undue hardship on the motorist, and also decreases travel on the scenic highways.

Fifty people attended the Vida meeting, which was entertained by the McKenzie River Development association, which has been formed for the purpose of bringing more people into the playground regions of the McKenzie river country.

The development of state parks along the principal highways was the topic which W. R. Sawyer, state highway commissioner from Bend, spoke upon. He told of the plans which the state commission has for this work and suggested that certain properties be turned over to the commission to be made into parks. He suggested that the parks may be made memorials for friends or relatives of the donors.

The Springfield unit of the Lane County Health association will sponsor an all-day pre-school clinic here on May 26 for the purpose of giving children who will be entering school for the first time next fall an opportunity to be examined now and discover any deficiencies which can be remedied before the child starts school. Dr. Gregson, the Lane county health doctor, with the assistance of Mrs. William Rodenbough and Mrs. R. Thatcher, will conduct the clinic. Plans for the clinic were formulated at the meeting of the group at the community hall on Monday evening. The meeting was to have been held at the home of Mrs. C. O. ## Baseball Tossers Beat Pleasant Hill

Both Boys and Girls Teams Win Contest on Local Diamond; Weather Hits Schedule.

Springfield high school emerged victorious two times yesterday in baseball games with the Pleasant Hill teams on the local field. The girls teams played a preliminary game which the Springfield girls took with a score of 15 to 12. The boys did the unexpected when they took their game with a score of 6 to 3. The Pleasant Hill team defeated the locals at Pleasant Hill in the first game of the season, and only last week defeated a team composed of most of the Eugene high school players. Eugene high school had already defeated the Springfield team in one game here and one in Eugene.

Lloyd Mattison made a home run for his team by knocking the ball over across the road which bounds the playing field.

The baseball schedule for this season has been badly disorganized this spring due to the weather. Several games have had to be postponed and others played at the last minute, leaving the local townspeople very uncertain as to just when the games are to be played here.

The starting lineups for yesterday's games were:

Springfield

City Cough Drops Marketed in China

Eggmann Products are Shipped to Foreign Markets in Orient by Jobber.

The Eggmann cough drops, which have been so popular in Springfield for years, will soon be used in China to cure the colds of the residents of the Orient. Charles F. Eggmann, the man who manufactures the cough drops, received a letter here last week from the Henry Hall Candy company, Portland jobbers, stating that they had shipped large orders of the cough drops to Yokohama and to Shanghai. Another shipment went out to a dealer at Manila, in the Philippine Islands.

The cough drops have been marketed in all parts of the United States for several years, but had never been sold outside of this country before the past week.

Mr. Eggmann started making the cough drops in 1916, shortly after he opened the business which he now operates in Springfield. The first years the drops were not packed in boxes, but were sold in bulk. It was in 1920 that the decision was reached to box the drops and seek to expand the sales. Prior to this time they were not sold outside of the store here, but since then the sales have grown to a volume of approximately 60,000 five cent cartons a year. The average carton holds 16 drops, which would make the total production of nearly 1,000,000 cough drops each year.

If one doubts the truthfulness of Mr. Eggmann's statements, he has but to go into the store and see the boxes on hand, or to walk past the store during the colder months and see the employees busy packing the drops into the boxes every afternoon.

ROSE SHOW DATE IS MOVED TO JUNE 3rd

The date for the rose show has been postponed until the last day of the present school year. The cold weather has prevented the roses from opening sufficiently for the show to be held on Saturday, as was planned. Members of the club gathered at the community hall immediately after the meeting of the Health Unit on Monday evening and decided to postpone the date until June 3.

The show will open with a parade by the school children, commencing at 6:30. The parade will wind its way down A street to Fourth, and then down to Main, and on Main to the community hall. Each child in the parade will be dressed in some costume representing a flower or some other costume which will lend the carnival atmosphere.

Tags will be sold by the women of the Civic club to local people for ten cents each to raise funds with which to purchase a treat for each child in the parade.

The show this year is to include all flowers which are in season at the time of the show. They will be exhibited on tables and will be arranged in baskets by the exhibitors. The roses will be shown in bottles.

Springfield Voters Split on Governor

Norblad and Hall Run Close in City Precincts; Wheeler and Potter Contest Unsettled.

That the Springfield voters were not solidly behind any one of the gubernatorial candidates at the primary election was demonstrated by the manner in which each of the city precincts voted last Friday. Charles Hall led Al Norblad by only seven votes in the entire city, the two candidates polling the same number of votes in the second precinct. James E. Bennett did not poll a single vote in the entire city, and John A. Jeffrey mustered only one supporter. Corbett drew 21 votes, while Joseph was able to gather in 36 votes. His votes reached almost a parity with those of Norblad and Hall in the fourth precinct.

E. O. Potter easily led his opponent H. C. Wheeler in the race for state senator on the first count of the ballots, but several errors in tabulation have been discovered and the results are still doubtful as to whom actually has been elected.

Charles Emery, Earl Hill and Emmett Howard carried the city with large majorities for the lower house berths. Emery, however, losing enough votes in other parts of the county to fall of election.

O. E. Crowe had substantial majorities in all precincts for the county commissioner job. C. W. Allen came in second in the race. Grace Schiska had little difficulty in besting her opponent for the retention of her post as county treasurer.

Precinct committeemen elected are M. B. Huntly, first precinct; H. E. Maxey, second precinct; C. E. Kenyon, third; and C. E. Wheaton, fourth. Republican vote in this city for the contested offices was as follows:

NIGHT FLYING FROM AIRPORT TO BE TRIED

Cabin Monoplane is Equipped With 25 Lights and Light on Airport Hangar Will Make Flying After Dark Possible; Students Solo.

If Springfield citizens should happen to gaze skywards on Friday or Saturday nights and see a cluster of lights moving about rapidly, they need not fear that their eyesight is failing them or that any great change is taking place in the heavens, for it will in all probability be Jim Macmaniman chief pilot at the Inman School of Flying, who will be doing a little bit of night flying with the cabin monoplane all ablaze with electric lights.

Clarence Cooley and Al Pohl yesterday installed a set of modern airplane lights on the large ship and will install lights on the two-place trainer ship immediately, stated Mr. Inman.

Plans had been made to fly the ship Friday night, but it had been found impossible to secure the necessary power batteries to supply the current. Some improvised power service may be made and tried out on Friday, until the regulation airplane batteries can be secured.

The large ship is equipped with 22 small six watt lights on the front of the wings and on the struts, and two larger wing tip lights and a tail light.

A special floodlight has been mounted on the top of the hangar and throws light out onto the ground for landing purposes. It has been used several times already in experimental flights at the port.

The ships are now being cleaned and the cabin monoplane is being repainted in preparation for the event.
