

CHERRY FRUIT FLIES CAPTURED; SPRAYING DIRECTIONS ARE GIVEN

The first cherry fruit flies have made their expected appearance, and specimens were caught Friday in one of the experiment station's cages on a farm five miles west of Eugene, according to county agricultural agent O. S. Fletcher, who states that the state experiment farm has four cages located in various parts of the county.

He is sending a warning to all farmers in the county to spray their cherry trees at once, and all other trees in close proximity to their cherry orchards. In orchards where walnuts and other trees have been interplanted with cherries, every tree in the orchard should be sprayed according to the county agent. Hedges bordering cherry orchards should be given the spray application.

The spraying directions, which have been mailed to every farmer in the county, is as follows: The first spray for the cherry pest should be applied at once. The second spray should be applied one week later, and a third spray should be put on a week after the second. An extra spray should be applied after each rain from the time the first spray is put on until one or two weeks after the time of the last spray.

The formula for this spray is as follows: Half pound arsenate of lead, two quarts of cheap molasses, and 10 gallons of water.

"THE TEXAN" IS AT THE McDONALD THEATRE

What one of the best beloved of American authors put into words, Paramount, with Gary Cooper in the leading role, has put into a lifelike, talking picture. The Texan, which opened a four day run at the Fox McDonald theatre last night, is taken from O. Henry's immortal story, "A Double-Dyed Deceiver," and is the second of the spectacular, outdoor, talking epic which Paramount initiated with The Virginian.

The Texan comes in at a gallop and gallops his way straight into the hearts of the audience. He's gay, debonair, swaggering, the same Gary Cooper who won hearts in Wolf Song, Seven Day Leave, Legend of the Condemned, and, more recently and particularly, The Virginian. Here he makes love to beautiful Fay Wray, who is devastating as a South American senorita.

One of the most entertaining, best directed and best enacted talking pictures which has yet come from the Fox Movietone studios is She Steps Out, which comes to the Fox McDonald for three days, starting Sunday.

The production was directed by Hamilton McPadden, former brilliant stage director of New York, and has an all star cast including William Collier, Sr., Marguerite Churchill, Elizabeth Patterson, Rex Bell, Charles Eaton, Charlotte Henry, Dora Farley and Dixie Lee.

Hoot Gibson will gallop onto the screen at the Fox Rex theatre Friday in Trigger Tricks, his latest Universal all-talking western picture, chamed with action dynamite from start to finish.

The scene is laid in the land of fighting and romance. Hoot plays the part of a ranger who comes to break up a war between sheep men and cattle men and incidentally to avenge the death of a murdered brother. There are thrills a-popping every minute, together with plenty of the comedy for which Hoot's pictures are famous.

H. S. Graduate Has Good Record

Elma Lansbery Completes 12 Years of School With Perfect Attendance Record.

A student in the Springfield public schools for twelve years, without missing a single school day or being tardy at any time during the above period, is the unusual and rather enviable record of Miss Elma Lansbery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lansbery, of this city. The young lady has school certificates giving her record, which she has preserved during those twelve school years. Last Friday night her school work ended in the public schools, when she received her diploma of high school graduation.

Miss Lansbery recalls the following teachers who contributed to her primary, junior and high school education during the period of twelve years: first grade, Mrs. Page; second grade, Miss McCann; third grade, Miss McCann; fourth grade, Mrs. Male; fifth grade, Mrs. Lombard; sixth grade, Mrs. Lombard; junior high, Mrs. Lombard, Mr. Burcham, Mrs. Walker, Miss James, Miss Nelson, Mrs. Duncan; high school, Mr. Taylor, Miss Veatch, Miss Spaulding, Mr. Gladish, Mr. Buell, Mr. McKinney, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Baker, Miss Lombard, Mr. Swigart.

Miss Lansbery took part in the high school plays and was active in the girls' league and with a preference for baseball and basketball in athletics. Last but not least, she is modestly proud of her record for steady attendance, which manifestly is not achieved by many students for the period described.

IN THE RADIO STUDIOS

With ALBERT ZUGSMITH, Jr.

DID YOU KNOW?
That the young Long Island flapper, who was struck on the wrist by Rudy Vallee's golf ball, taps the wound each day with a hammer? She wants to keep the scar fresh, so as to be able to brag about it.

That Bert Lown, the CBS Blue Ribbon Orchestra director, is never broke because whenever he gets a new suit he sews a penny in the lining?

That over 8,400 artists broadcast each month from the New York studios of the National Broadcasting company?

Jess Crawford, the Poet of the Organ, broadcasting over the Columbia chain, quit a $25 a week job in Spokane, for a $10 a week job in a cinema emporium. And all because the lower paid job called for playing an organ instead of a piano!

Cadillac and La-Salle automobiles are now sold with radios installed in the cars. This is due to the recent tie-up between General Motors and the Radio Corporation of America. And what more could one wish than to zoom along the highway listening to the gay strains of far-away orchestras.

Those of you that would like a job as a radio announcer that think it's just a soft snap, had better take a look at this sample test that the Columbia Broadcasting System gives to applicants. Try to pronounce these sentences correctly: Among the other prominent musical composers you will hear are—the fiery Russian, Peter Illitch Tchaikovsky, with selections from the Oisieu de Feu and Symphony Pathetique. The troika also will be heard. Ippolitov Ivanov will afford the delightful composition—the March of the Sirdar, from the Caucasian Sketches. Modest Mossourgsky will be selected as one of the composers, with Khovantchina as his contribution to the program.

Powder Burns Injures Eyes

Waitress: Don't you like your college pudding, sir?

Diner: No, miss, I'm afraid there is an egg in it which ought to have been expelled.

HALF MILE FLIGHT IS MADE BY EUGENE MAN IN GLIDER ON SUNDAY

H. L. Stenerson, of Eugene, is now eligible for a third class glider pilot's license as a result of a flight which he made from the top of Emerald Heights last Sunday afternoon. The flight, which was more than half-a-mile long, started from the top of the hill and ended in the valley below. Stenerson is the only member of the club who has taken off in the glider from the summit. Most of the other members content themselves with short flights from knolls near the foot of the large hill.

A deal has recently been completed whereby Mr. Stenerson, Blair Alderman, Paul Brattain, and Chester Aldrich have purchased the glider from the Ford-Nelson planing mill, and will operate the Eugene glider club as a private venture. A hangar has been built on the hill and the ship is stored there when it is not being used.

Lee Inman, Jim MacManiman, and Cecil Drew left the local airport in the monoplane, City of Eugene, this morning for Portland, where they will exhibit the ship during the Rose festival. Dalton Shinn will also leave tomorrow morning for the Rose show in his small plane.

There will be no flying at the local port until Saturday afternoon when they expect to have their planes back at the local field.

The Bend Flying Service, an organization of aviation enthusiasts at Bend, have purchased the plane belonging to Clive Stanley. They took the ship and one wing to Bend yesterday and will return later to get the other wing.

OUR ROUND STEAK

Round Steak is not always "our" round steak. Our round steak is cut from the choicest beef it is possible to procure. It is more tender and tasty than some porterhouse and sirloin steaks we have tasted. Try a slice tomorrow—whole or ground.
