

OREGON STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Assembled for Information of Our Readers.

J. H. Whiteaker, son of the first governor of Oregon, John Whiteaker, and a brother of Miss Anne Whiteaker of Eugene, died suddenly at Salmon, Idaho.

Hop pickers in the Willamette valley will receive one cent a pound this year, according to a decision reached at a meeting of hop growers at Independence recently.

The date for the annual community fair at Glendale has been set for September 11. This is always one of the largest and best attended community fairs of the county.

Mrs. Johanna Gangloff, one of the most respected of eastern Oregon pioneers, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Foley, of La Grande, at the age of 94 years.

The first new wheat from Union county arrived at a mill at Island City from Fred Zaugg's farm near Mountain Glen. General harvest operations will begin within a few days.

The Harper State bank in Malheur county, with capital stock of $15,000 and surplus of $1000, has closed its doors, according to announcement made at the state banking department.

The old E. E. Johnson sawmill at Coquille will soon be in operation after an enforced shut down of nearly three years, since the E. E. Johnson lumber company went into receivership.

The Oregon Electric railway filed a schedule of reduced rates with the Oregon public service commission for the transportation of livestock between Salem and Portland, effective August 1.

A permit to obtain $25,000 in pre-organization subscriptions for establishment of a straw fiber process plant at Salem was issued by the state corporation department to H. D. Wagon of Portland.

The Willamina city council is drilling a well on the hill near the reservoir. It is hoped to strike a good flow of water to supplement the present supply, which is inadequate for present needs.

Postmaster Warren has issued a report for the McMinnville office indicating a 5 per cent increase in business volume for the first six months of this year, compared to the same time last year.

Sheep ranges in Curry county are menaced by cougars. Though the predatory animal hunters of that section are constantly at work, the dry weather has made tracking by dogs practically impossible.

The Columbia Gorge Mining company, a $75,000 syndicate backed by Idaho men, will in about 30 days begin sinking a shaft to take out the silver ore deposits under the golf course of The Dalles Country club.

La Grande is more book-minded this year than ever before, and from the number of volumes circulated by the public library during the first part of 1930, indications point to a 100,000-mark year, the first in history.

The Jackson county road oiling program will be started by August 1. The first hot oil will be placed on the unpaved portion of the Rich highway and the Sams Valley-Medford highway. It is planned to apply oil where travel is heaviest and dust thickest.

All city fire fighting equipment, the Southern Pacific's equipment at Klamath Falls and the crews of the Ewans Box company and the Big Lakes Box company were called to fight a fire destroying the crowded lumber yards of those two firms in Klamath Falls.

Downing, sheepman of Malin, has offered three prizes for the best exhibitions of working sheep and will enter some of his sheep dogs in competition.

The Owen-Oregon lumber company supplying its Medford sawmill resumed logging in the Butte Falls district recently. They will operate but one camp during the remainder of the season. The logging railroad from Butte Falls to Medford has continued operation, drawing on the reserve of nearly 10,000,000 feet of logs.

In the neighborhood of 500 carloads of apples will be shipped out of Union county this year, according to present condition of the crop there. The fruit is sizing well and growers are encouraged, hoping for good prices due to the national condition of apples. The crop this year will be 20 to 25 per cent more than the average yield, growers say.

Smokers beware! The state traffic cops will get you if you don't watch out. An order issued by Hal Ross, secretary of state, directs all state traffic officers to enforce to the letter the state law making it a misdemeanor to throw away any lighted tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, matches or other lighted material on the public highways during the closed season from May 15 to October 1.

The entire plant of the Anderson & Middleton sawmill at Latham, one mile south of Cottage Grove, was destroyed by fire. The estimated loss is said to be approximately $200,000, which included the mill, planing plant recently operated by the W. H. Daugherty Lumber company, lumber in the yards, offices and residences occupied by employes. The fire originated in the drysheds and is believed to be of incendiary origin.

Two Crane Creek Lumber company loggers turned high climbers recently when a mad steer ran amuck in the woods where they were working. The steer chased the men until they were forced to seek safety in trees. It was found dead a short distance away by Forest Ranger L. L. Smith. Its brain, when examined, showed it afflicted with a positive case of rabies, believed to have been caused by bite from a rabid coyote.

The 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Houston, residing near Roberts, was accidentally poisoned and died within an hour. The child had gone through the barn and had evidently eaten a mixture used to poison sagerats.

A rattlesnake 2½ feet long was killed near La Grande by Mrs. Charles Baxter. Returning with friends from a huckleberry trip in the hills six miles out, Mrs. Baxter saw the snake glide across the path and followed it. The snake had four rattles.

UPPER WILLAMETTE

A wedding of much interest to residents of the Upper Willamette valley took place Saturday night at the Pleasant Hill Christian church when Miss Gladys Wheeler became the bride of Bert Fegles, both of Pleasant Hill. Allen Wheeler, brother of the bride, acted as best man and Miss Hazel Wheeler, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Aland O'Brien, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Christian church officiated. Only the relatives and immediate friends were present at the wedding. The young couple left for a short honeymoon trip to Washington where they will visit with relatives of the groom. They will make their home in Eugene where Mrs. Fegles has a position in the Eugene public schools.

Mrs. Fegles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wheeler, a graduate from the Pleasant Hill high school and the state normal. She is very active in both religious and educational activities.

Miss Mildred Swift will have the end of this week for a vacation at Rockaway Beach.

Mrs. Alice English and daughter, former residents of Pleasant Hill are spending their vacation visiting relatives and friends in Washington.

Delbert Harden has been repainting his house east of the Pleasant Hill church.

C. F. Hyde has been improving the house on the hill ranch. The house has been painted outside and redecorated on the inside.

The farmers of the upper Willamette district are busy binding grain. Several farmers have been baling hay.

Mr. McAtu of Eula has been in the district buying vegetables and fruits for the Westfir and Oakridge market.

The Pleasant Hill Athletic club baseball team defeated the South Benton team at Benton Lane park last Sunday. At the last half of the ninth inning the score stood 6 to 10 in favor of South Benton but Pleasant Hill ran in five scores making the final score 11 to 0.

The Pleasant Hill Girl Scouts held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at their club rooms on the Jordan ranch. Five girls took the Tenderfoot test.

OREGON ADVERTISED IN NEW S. P. FOLDERS

Thousands of copies of two new folders designed to advertise the state of Oregon have just been issued by the Southern Pacific and are now being distributed in all parts of the United States. The first is a three-color broadside featuring the 100th anniversary of the coming of the first covered wagon train to Oregon. President Hoover's proclamation, calling upon all citizens of the nation to commemorate the event, is graphically displayed on the front cover. The inside pages are devoted to a large layout of Oregon scenic views together with descriptive copy.

The second piece of literature being distributed by the company is a 16-page folder, "Oregon Outdoors," with the cover and center spread map in four colors. Each page of this booklet also contains large groupings of pictures showing Oregon's scenic grandeur.

CUTS TIP OFF FINGER IN PLANER ON FRIDAY

S. S. Potter had the tip of one of his fingers cut off last Friday when he let his finger get too close to a planer blade at the local lumber mill. Three stitches were required by a local physician to close the wound. The sharp blade cut off a side of the finger and most of the fingernail.
