

BELL THEATRE HAS OPENING ON TUESDAY

Appreciative Audience Greet New Managers at Initial Performance; Sound and Vision Quality Surprises Skeptical Theatre Fans.

Springfield has a theatre once more. The Bell theatre has been completely altered and is now showing first run pictures nightly. An audience which filled three-fourths of the seats turned out Tuesday night to attend the first night show at the theatre since it has been leased by the new proprietors. And they were both surprised and pleased at the transformation which has taken place in Springfield's show-house.

Under the direction of C. S. Benjamin, M. S. Cole and Granville McPherson the house has been changed into a first class sound theatre. RCA sound equipment has been installed, the stage and front of the theatre has been remodeled, a new screen has been purchased, the projection room has been encased and the audience no longer hears the whir of the projectors as they listen to and watch the action on the screen before them. The lobby has been altered and both the lobby and the outside of the theatre has been repainted cream and trimmed with red. Red lamps have been placed in the large bell sign and makes a very distinct sign.

Expert Installs Equipment

For two weeks, an expert from Seattle has been here installing and testing the sound equipment. He completed his work on Friday and the days intervening before Tuesday night were spent in adjusting and improving defects which appeared.

Patrons attending the theatre Tuesday were met at the door by Mr. Cole and Mr. Benjamin who made them feel welcome. Mr. McPherson was in the operator's booth. Two young women ushers escorted the people to their seats and the shows started when scheduled without any trouble or commotion. The Fox Movietone news-reel brought many interesting events of the far corners of the world to the theatre. This was followed by a Stan Laurel-Oliver Hardy comedy which carried away the audience with its mirth provoking events. The feature picture was "Good News," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer attraction of college life, football heroes, love affairs and jazz.

Open Every Night

Starting at once the show house will be open every evening with complete shows beginning at 7:15 and 9:00 o'clock. There will be matinee performances every Saturday and Sunday and on holidays including Thanksgiving.

The picture, "The Renegades," a film of the adventures of the French Foreign Legion, will play as the feature at the Bell theatre following the last showing of "Good News" which ends tonight.

Managers of the theatre expressed themselves as being well pleased with the reception given them Tuesday. There were many other meetings held that night which drew some of their patrons.

Abe was at a dance and lost a wallet containing $600. He got up on a chair and announced: "Gentlemen, I lost my pocketbook with $600 in it. To the man what finds it, I will give $50."

Voice from the Rear: "I'll give $75."

JACK OAKIE SHOWN IN "SEA LEGS" SUNDAY

"America's Joy-Friend," Jack Oakie, has uncorked another panic of laugh moments in his latest starring role, "Sea Legs," the Sunday and Monday feature at the Fox McDonald theatre. And, in addition to the inimitable Jack, hilarity is enhanced by the presence in the cast of "Sea Legs" of rotund Eugene Pallette and the "kibitzer" Harry Green.

These three, any one of whom can provide enough laughs to last a month, are joined by beautiful Lillian Roth, whose fooling in "The Love Parade," "Honey" and "Animal Crackers" lifted her to the front rank of screen comedienne. The love moments that arise between the lively Lillian and the gusty Jack are riotous of roars. And nearly all the action takes place on the lone battleship of a mythical Mediterranean republic.

There are gobs and gobs, and gobs of love and laughter in "Sea Legs," with Oakie as a shanghaied American sailor, impressed into the service of the tiny but ambitious Latin principality. Oakie, unwillingly, is doing service for a young millionaire who has paid his lawyer, Harry Green, to aid him avoid his compulsory period of naval service. When Oakie discovers the ruse that has set him to scrubbing decks and peeling potatoes under a legion of gold-braided officers, he is impotently furious, but, when he discovers that his assumed name allowed him unlimited credit on the millionaire's bank account, and that the captain's pretty daughter, Lillian Roth, looks with favor on his American accent, he begins to take an interest in life.

HOWARD DUNLOP PASSES AT HIS HOME FRIDAY

Howard Dunlop died at his home at West Springfield on Friday following an attack of heart disease. He was sixty-five years old at the time of his death. Surviving is a daughter, May, and a step-father, Hugh Dunlop, both of Teazey, Oregon. Funeral services were under the direction of the Walker Poole chapel in Eugene. A grave side service was held with Rev. R. Nelson of Eugene officiating and interment was made in the Oak Hill cemetery.

DANCES AT THURSTON ARE WELL ATTENDED

The largest crowd yet to attend any of the American Legion dances held at Thurston on every other Saturday night was present last Saturday according to Jack Larson, local finance officer. These dances are now becoming so popular that the Legion is beginning to make a little more than expenses for their efforts.

SEWING CLUBS HOLD MEETINGS LAST WEEK

Two Four-H sewing groups held meetings last week. The Eighth grade jolly sewers held a meeting at the Lincoln school and spent their time sewing after holding a short business meeting. Refreshments were served by Miss Georgie Simpkins, hostess. Those attending were Laverne Pugh, Margaret Haack, Virginia Brink, Ellen Cox, Mabel Hurd, Georgie Simpkins, Lucille Davis, and Mrs. Haack, sewing advisor for the group.

The Four-L sewing club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Pratt Holverson, their advisor. Those attending this meeting were Ruth Polard, Winifred Franz, May Young, Lorna Chase, Margaret Jarrett, and Faye Holverson. Mrs. Holverson served refreshments.

SPRINGFIELD WOMEN AT SEAL SALE MEETING

Mrs. C. O. Wilson and Mrs. Wm. Rodenbough attended the luncheon for Christmas seal sale workers which was held in Eugene on Saturday. Various health workers were present and told of work being carried on with the funds derived from the sale of the stamps and by appropriations by the counties.

Lane county budgeted $3,395 last year for this work. Coos county budgeted $11,120, Douglas, $8,000, and Jackson $12,500. Each of these counties have a smaller population than Lane has and all provided a much larger health fund than Lane county.

ROOF GOING ON HANGAR AT MUNICIPAL AIRPORT
