VOLUNTARY GOPHER CONTROL AREA MAY BE LAUNCHED SOON

The feasibility of establishing a small gopher control area near Fall Creek is being investigated this week by Grover Walker and other land owners in the vicinity according to O. S. Fletcher, Lane county agricultural agent.

At the request of Mr. Walker, both Fletcher and J. F. Branson, assistant state mole control leader, visited the Fall Creek vicinity and discussed the proposed project with the land owners Wednesday.

The area considered is that which lies between the forks of Fall Creek and the Willamette river. There are only about five property owners there and the land is ideally situated for such a test. It is bounded by streams of water on two sides and a railroad track and high grade on the third side of the triangular shaped ground.

Any work which the land owners in the district may do will be all voluntary according to Mr. Fletcher. Efforts to establish a larger gopher area between the McKenzie and Willamette rivers north and east of Springfield last summer was not successful. The county agent's office and Mr. Branson are both anxious to have the experiment tried and will lend what assistance they may be able to in order to make the venture successful.

NOW IS TIME TO START NEW 4-H CLUB PROJECTS

This is the proper time to start livestock, poultry and garden projects among Four-H clubs according to J. C. Kuehner, Lane county club leader. Any group interested in starting such projects should communicate with the leader at once as he is able to give much valuable information and assistance. Five or more taking the same project will constitute a club.

There is work in dairy, calf, beef, pig, and sheep clubs. Crop projects include corn growing, potato club, vegetable gardening, seed and club.

CLUB MEMBERS WRITING ESSAYS ON MARKETING

Large numbers of Four-H club members are now busy writing original essays on Marketing as a part of a county wide contest being sponsored in connection with the Marketing Day program to be given in Eugene on February 21. All boys and girls who have completed their Marketing project and turned in their essays are invited to attend the program at which time the winners of the contests and the names of those getting honorable mention will be announced.

Arrangements have been made whereby the best essay written by a boy and the best essay written by a girl will be chosen from the group submitted. A complete tour of the marketing establishments in Eugene is being arranged for the day, and a surprise announcement regarding the day will be announced later by the club leader.

A gracious Valentine - your voice

HE WHO would send thought to some fair lady on St. Valentine's Day can search far for a way to her heart, and fare worse, than by sending his own voice.

Inter-city telephoning is a method that St. Valentine never dreamed of, but one of which that gallant old saint would heartily approve.
