SIX APPLICATIONS FOR SUMMER CAMP WORK
Efforts to Be Made to Permit All to Attend Training Camp at Vancouver Barracks

Applications for enrollment in the Citizens' Military Training camp at Vancouver barracks are now being made and to date six Lane county young men have filed their applications. They are: Loren E. Boggs, Marcola; Ernest R. Drew, Marcola; William Gresham, Eugene; James P. Northam, Eugene; Jack A. Richardson, Eugene and Carl W. Robbins, Eugene.

County quotas which were recently set, were the maximum for each county, allowed by Corps Area Headquarters. Lane county's quota was set at three, and more than that number have filed so some means will be sought to provide transportation to assure these candidates of acceptance if they pass the physical requirements.

In order to do this the enrollment officers will have to reduce some of the quotas in the larger districts such as Portland.

VERY LATEST by Mary Marshall
The longer skirt and the defined waistline are new fashions that are reflected in lingerie as well as in dresses and wraps and a short nightgown now looks as amusing and as out of date as a knee-length evening dress.

The sketch today shows one of the newer nightgowns and the diagram shows how you can cut the pattern. The pattern represents just half of the back and the front of the nightgown, which is cut in one piece, the line through the center front being placed on a lengthwise fold of material. The length of the material should depend on the height of the wearer. In measuring bear in mind that the gown should come to the ankles and allow enough for a four-inch hem. B-H is the lower edge or hem. H-G represents the side seams. C-G is the armhole—or half the armhole. Back and front are the same, save that the neckline is deeper in front than in back.

In making tucks over the shoulder, make them deeper in back than in front to allow more fullness over the bust than at the neck. A to B measures the desired length of the gowns plus the hem. A-F measures 15 inches. A-D measures 1 inches. A-E measures four inches. A-C measures eight inches. F-G measures 15 inches. Make tucks at the waistline to hold in the fullness.

When you cut the pattern lay the diagram as given on a double piece of paper folded at A-C. Then cut the back section with a higher neckline than the front, and lay the pattern, opened at A-C on a lengthwise fold double the length of A-B.

WOOL FUTURE BRIGHTER FOREIGN IMPORTS LOW
Pacific Cooperative Makes Envious Record in Few Years of Its Organization
A sharp decline in the amount of wool imported into this country in 1930 over that of the previous year is being pointed to by marketing experts as a hopeful sign for the wool raisers of this country.

Imports of combing and clothing wool for the past year amounted to 60,000,000 pounds as against 102,000,000 pounds in 1929, and 155,000,000 pounds which had been the average number of pounds imported during each of the five years before that time.

The protective tariff on wool has had the effect of increasing the use in this country of domestic wool with the result that the stocks of foreign wools in this country are now more than they have been for some time, according to members of the National Wool Marketing Corporation.

Officials of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers association point to the brightening future for their members in Oregon, California, Washington, Idaho and Nevada. This organization is one of the youngest of the 26 member cooperatives and last year it delivered one-ninth of all the wool handled by the national association. This organization has already made advances to sheep owners on their 1932 wool crop.
