

MANY BOOKS GIFT TO CITY LIBRARY

W. S. Hunnicutt Offers Books to Library Where Family Formerly Studied

THIRTY NEW PATRONS Gains in Number of Readers Shown During March According to Librarian

A collection of sixty-five volumes of library books including many classical works and some modern volumes will soon become a part of the Springfield city library as a result of a gift from W. S. Hunnicutt, former resident of this city who now resides at Beaverton.

Mr. Hunnicutt made his offer in a letter received by the librarian last week and read at the monthly meeting of the board Monday evening. Members of the group voted to accept the gift and are now making plans to have the books transported to this city.

A desire to return the books to the city where he raised his family and which still seems like home, prompted the gift says the donor in his letter.

Few residents of Springfield recall the Hunnicutt family. They moved from Springfield almost 20 years ago say a few old timers who knew them.

A large gain in the number of patrons of the library was noted this past month, according to Mrs. L. K. Page, secretary. Book loans total 1291 for the month of March according to the report compiled by Mrs. Davil Salsman, librarian. Of this number 1061 were taken out by adults and 140 by children. One hundred and sixty-two magazines were taken out during the month.

The report also shows that thirty people took out reader's cards for the first time.

Two new books were purchased and the board has agreed to purchase several more during the next month. A total of eight books were rebound.

Members of the board urge patrons of the library to exercise reasonable care in handling books as the cost of rebinding necessarily reduces the available funds for new volumes.

Board Undecided About New Class

All Teachers Sign and Return Contracts; Finances Now Enter Consideration

Lack of finances may prove to be the downfall of the proposed opportunity class in the Springfield school system according to members of the school board who discussed the project at their monthly meeting Monday night.

A proposal to establish what is known as an opportunity class in which students, who for any reason whatever, are behind in school work, might obtain special instruction enabling them to catch up with their lessons, has been sought after for some time and members of the board were agreed that such a project would be highly commendable, but it would require the appointment of an additional teacher and the furnishing of another school room. The board does not feel that under present financial conditions they are warranted in making this additional expenditure. They did not reach any final decision on the matter, however, and leave the question open until a later date.

All of the teachers, re-elected by the board last month, have signed their contracts for another year it was reported at the meeting by the principals of the three schools who were present at the meeting.

The exchange of seven typewriters for better machines was reported at the meeting. The typewriters are used by students at the high school.

A warranted indebtedness of approximately $8,000 was reported by the clerk. This will increase nearly $4,000 more before the next tax money is received in June. This indebtedness is not large, however, in comparison to that of previous years at the same time.

Irish-Murphy Co. Will Move Seed and Feed to Rear of Grocery Store Building

This was operated for some time after the fire and the machinery was finally moved to the Eugene plant which was purchased by the concern here after the fire.
