BAPTISTS WILL HEAR MUSICIANS ON SUNDAY

"A Sermon in Song" is the title of a musical program to be given at the Baptist Church Sunday evening by three members of the Davis family of Eugene. This trio, consisting of P. Waldo Davis, with triple chimes; Herschel DeMoss Davis, piano; and Lizzie DeMoss Davis, violin and mandolin, has won considerable fame in various parts of the country and offer an unusual program of sacred music. One of the most interesting things on the entire program is the finale, which is the old song, "The Holy City," played on triple chimes by Mr. Davis.

"CITY LIGHTS" EXPECTED TO CHANGE FILM WORLD

Acclaimed his greatest contribution to the screen, Charlie Chaplin's "City Lights" will open an engagement at the Colonial theatre, for one week starting Sunday, bringing a non-dialogue motion picture production, which it is believed, will be the forerunner of many more screen offerings introducing action, synchronized with music and sound effects.

More than two years in time have been devoted by Chaplin to the making of "City Lights" and it represents an investment of $1,500,000 of the comedian's own money. All of this is Chaplin's answer to the talking picture and his firm stand for pantomimic motion pictures.

Those who have been privileged to view "City Lights" have unhesitatingly agreed that Chaplin was not in error to stick to the silent course in his screen work. It is said that never before has the great comedian extended himself to produce such a comedy masterpiece.

"City Lights" will occupy the screen for about one hour and twenty minutes. The story may be termed a romantic comedy, although many of its highlights are brilliantly dramatic, in fact tragic. It is an original idea and was written by Chaplin. He is likewise responsible for the direction.

The action takes place in any large city. There is nothing elaborate about the story and it is its simplicity that will undoubtedly gain for it a permanent place in the theatre. The characters are natural, such as rub elbows with each other throughout the daily walks of life.

JACK GORRIE BADLY INJURED IN FALL

Jack Gorrie, son of Mrs. C. I. Gorrie, Sr., is in the Pacific Christian hospital at Eugene with a badly broken left leg, a chest injury and many body bruises which he received Wednesday in an accident while working for the county on a bridge over a prongs creek near Marcola.

Gorrie, it is said, was standing on a large timber which had been hoisted into the air with a donkey engine when something happened on the ground causing the timber to be moved and also causing Gorrie to lose his balance. He fell 20 feet to the ground and the timber fell on his leg.

He was rushed to the hospital where Dr. W. C. Robison spent many hours examining and working on him. The doctor stated this morning that there was every possibility that the fractured bone could be healed. Gorrie is an outdoor man and is strong and muscular.

McDONALD SHOWS "SEAS BENEATH" THIS WEEK

There is scarcely an English-speaking country in the world where "The Virginia Judge" has not delighted many thousands. Walter C. Kelly, who created the character, not only toured the big-time vaudeville circuits of this country many times, but has appeared in the British Isles, India, Africa and Australia.

As a result, he has accumulated a fund of stories that make him highly popular with every type of audience. While filming George O'Brien's newest Fox movie vehicle, "The Seas Beneath," in which Kelly makes his talkie debut, the company spent four weeks making pictures aboard a big schooner and two of Uncle Sam's finest submarines, and every evening the cast would flock around the famous raconteur while he entertained them for hours.

"The Seas Beneath," which comes to the McDonald theatre on Friday and Saturday, was directed by John Ford. Marion Lessing portrays the chief feminine character.

If you can picture William Haines as a wolf in sheep's clothing you will have some idea of the fun in store for those who see the comedians Sunday at the McDonald theatre in his latest laugh-getter, "A Tailor Made Man."

In this characterization Haines in his own inimitable way embodies the spirit of the man who rises from poverty and obscurity to fame and financial success. He starts out as an innocent little pants presser but ends up as a wolf of the commercial world.

When Edward Everett Horton, star of "Once A Gentleman" coming on Wednesday to the McDonald theatre, made his professional stage debut, he was assigned a numerical role. He impersonated no specified character, and in order for his friends and family in the audience to locate him they had to count 1-2-3, for Edward appeared as the third Japanese from the end in the chorus of "The Mikado," then being revived. It was a modest enough start, Horton admits, but it prepared him for a role, small though it was, in a musical comedy called "The Newlyweds and Their Baby."

Huge Windmill Plane Being Built in England

London.—The largest autogiro, or "windmill plane," yet built is now under construction for the air ministry. It will carry four persons and is fitted with a 400-horse power air-cooled radial engine. Supported by four revolving vanes, the autogiro has a rapid climb and can descend almost vertically. It is hoped with the new engine that the model will be capable of using the flat roof of any moderately large building as a "landing field."
