BARBER SEATED New Councilman to Serve Unexpired Term of H. J. Cox, Removed to Eugene JAIL PROPERTY IS SOLD

Merchants Urged to Use Rear Doors in Unloading Products; Furnace Asked

Clayton F. Barber, accountant at the Booth-Kelly lumber mill, clerk of the school board, and secretary of the Lions club, was seated as regular councilman for the unexpired term of H. J. Cox at the regular meeting of that body held at the city hall Monday evening. Barber had been appointed previously by the mayor, but ratification by the council was necessary before the appointee could be seated. He was sworn in at the opening of the meting.

The new council member will serve approximately one and one half years. He will be chairman of the finance committee and will hold appointment on the judiciary and health committees. Sale of the old city jail located on Kelly Butte back of the Booth-Kelly lumber mill to a Mr. Brooks was approved. The purchaser paid $10 for the lumber and agreed to tear the place down and clean up the property. The old jail was used for many years during the time railroad construction was being pushed towards Oakridge. It was discarded when the new one was built back of the present city hall.

Councilmen requested that merchants unload as much of their supplies from back doors as possible. This will aid in preventing the scattering of waste refuse on the streets and will provide a cleaner Main street. A motion that truckers of hogged fuel be required to have their trucks covered with canvas to prevent the scattering of the chips about the streets was made. It was tabled for the time being.
