

EXHIBITS CROWD LANE FAIR GROUND

Exceptional Number of Displays Assured Patrons of This Year's Exposition

WILL BE HOME AFFAIR

Circus Troupe, Wedding, Carnival, Horse Events, Fireworks

That the Lane county fair, which opens in Eugene Wednesday, August 26, for four days, will be one of the most outstanding events in the history of the Lane County Fair association is the assurance given by Mrs. Mabel H. Chadwick, secretary.

Every effort is being made to make the fair a home proposition this year. Seldom have applications for booths and display rooms reached the total for this year. All available space has been taken in the covered buildings and many outdoor displays are being sought.

The crowded condition is especially felt in arts work department. Due to the large number of exhibits offered by local people it has been necessary to eliminate the exhibition which is usually brought from the University of Oregon classes.

Horse Events Restricted
Another innovation this year will be the restriction of the horse events to entries made by Lane county people. A comprehensive program of riding acts will be featured each afternoon and evening before the grandstand.

Outstanding at the fair this season according to early indications will be the floral and agricultural displays. The weather conditions have been very favorable and crops have matured earlier than had been anticipated affording opportunities for exhibitions despite the early dates for the exposition.

All available space in the agricultural building has been taken. Fifteen communities have rented space and are now preparing exhibits from their best products.

The floral exhibit being prepared under the direction of Ben Keeney, county assessor, promises to be even greater than last year when it was thought the zenith of display had been reached.

Stock displays promise to equal the best in former years and continual increase in Four-H club work will greatly increase the number of exhibits offered by these youngsters.

Headlining the entertainment groups will be the McMahon and Wheeler circus troupe. They will perform with a program of tight wire walking, acrobats, and trained horses each afternoon and evening.

Two public weddings will be performed before the grandstand on the evenings of August 27, 29. Merchants of Eugene have donated many valuable articles to be given the couples.

Pageant is Planned
On alternating nights with the weddings, Lane county people will present the pageant, "The Spirit of America." This is being directed by Mrs. E. C. Christie and has as its cast people from all parts of the county.

Friday, Grange day, will be an especially interesting day for farmers and suburban residents. Marshall Dana, prominent dairy investigator and newspaperman, will be the principal speaker. Grange Master C. C. Hulet will also be on the program which will be held in the Four-H club building commencing at 11 a. m.

Carnival attractions will be brought by the Browning Amusement company. They will bring a ferris wheel, a merry-go-round, and other attractions.

Have Elaborate Fireworks
Fireworks displays, numbering some fifty-odd set ups, and surpassing any similar presentation ever before given in Lane county, will be one of the chief attractions on each of the four nights.

Beginning at 8:45 p. m. on each of the four evenings of the fair, weird and fantastic forms of spewing sparks and hissing flames, taking all manner of shapes and representing a myriad of ideas, will be set off by agents of the Hitt's Fireworks company, who are preparing the displays.

Niagara Falls will be depicted in an avalanche of sparks, falling some 40 feet to the ground. A fiery actopus, with its spiky talons reaching out into the darkness. The Land of the Midnight Sun, The Star of Bethlehem, Hawaiian Moonlight, these and many other especially arranged presentations will be viewed by this year's fairgoers.

Returns from Vacation—Clara Fawver, nurse in the office of Dr. Milton V. Walker, returned Sunday evening from a vacation trip which took her to the southern Oregon coast, Diamond Lake, Marshfield, Crater Lake, and The Dalles. The trip from Bend to The Dalles is a very beautiful one at this time, according to Mrs. Fawver.

Chamber Wants Road Surfaced

Surfacing New Willamette Highway Would Provide Winter Employment

Believing that the completed portion of the new Willamette highway kept open to travel this winter, members of the Lane County Chamber of Commerce went on record at their meeting at McCredie Springs last week-end favoring action now which would provide for at least partial rocking of the road during the winter months. Such action would also provide additional employment for several men and this work can be done as effectively during the winter as in the summer it was pointed out.

Oakridge and Westfir civic groups acted as hosts at the meeting. These are new arrivals into membership in the county body.

Many motorists are now driving up the new highway to the end of the construction and then fording the Willamette river to the old highway. The old road is rough, narrow and has several bad curves which makes driving tiresome work.

DUSTY CONDITIONS MAKE HIGHWAY DANGEROUS

One Motorist Hits Rock in Dust and Has to Be Towed to Garage for Repairs

The unusually dusty condition of parts of the new construction work on the McKenzie highway between Vida and Nimrod was a real menace to safety for drivers over the road last week-end, and will become more so if water or gravel is not spread over the foot of dust to hold it down.

Many motorists driving over three stretches of the highway last week-end had to stop after one car had crossed a stretch to wait the settling of the dust before it was safe to continue. Frequently another motorist would drive on from the opposite direction through the thick bank of dust. This made it impossible to see the edge of the road or an approaching vehicle.

One Springfield motorist struck a large rock while driving in the dust and had to be towed several miles to a garage to have his car repaired before he could continue home.

A few places where the road has been wet down is now quite solid and smooth to drive over.

THREE APPOINTED ON LABOR RELIEF GROUP
The appointment of County Judge C. P. Barnard, Carl Washburne, and H. L. Edmunds, all of Eugene on a committee to study the employment situation in Lane county with a view of determining what needs to be done and what can be done to assure the proper care of everybody during the coming winter was announced this week by Governor Meier.

A similar group, consisting of three men in each county of the state has been appointed. Each group will study the local conditions and later meet together to discuss possible improvement of the employment situation.

That no family in Oregon shall go without food or shelter in the coming winter is the aim of the committees.

BOARD TO FURNISH ALL TEXTBOOKS

Indications Are Parents Will Not Purchase Any School Books This Fall

NEW LAW PROVIDES FUND

Patrons Donate Most Books Used in School System During Past Years

It is very probable now that Springfield grade school patrons will not have to purchase any textbooks for their children when school opens this fall, according to C. A. Swarts, chairman of the board.

Two factors unite to make this annual expenditure unnecessary now. The first is the law passed at the last session of the legislature which allows the expenditure of $1.50 per pupil each year for the purchase of necessary textbooks. The second factor is the willing cooperation of local people in donating books now in their possession to the schools.

This latter action makes it possible for the schools to provide books for most of the students the first year the law is in operation instead of doing so over a period of years as was intended by the sponsors of the measure and as is being done in many other communities.

Under the new law there are certain textbooks which must be purchased. There are a few books which have become obsolete and have to be replaced this fall. It was the intention of the sponsors of the law to use the $1.50 per pupil each year to purchase new books as rapidly as funds were available to replace those which are dropped from usage at various times.

If the supply of books is not sufficient, the local school board has promised that no child in a family which donated books to the school shall have to purchase any of those donated. These will be provided for the child.
