CITY REFUND BOND ELECTION CALLED

Voters to Examine Themselves on $50,000 and Issue Wednesday, Oct. 28

DEBT IS NOT REASED

Bonds to Replace Due and Will Not Increase Taxes But May Lower Them

A refunding bond election to be held Wednesday, October 28, was called by the Springfield city council at the meeting Monday evening. The issue to be voted on is for $50,000 and if passed will not add to the debt of the city but will merely meet an obligation for which no money is now available in the sinking fund.

Will Not Increase Taxes
The voting of the bonds will not increase taxes, city officials say, but should lower them if proper bids can be gotten as $35,000 on the issue is now drawing seven per cent interest and it is likely they can be sold for five or six per cent.

Of the bonds to be refunded $15,000 is due November 1, 1931, and $35,000 is due February 1, 1932. The city had money in its sinking fund to care for the $15,000 but after the failure of the Commercial State bank let this fund be used to retire outstanding warrants held by the bank, rather than have the sinking fund on deposit be liquidated by the bank at less than 100 cents on the dollar.

The $35,000 issue coming due February 1 has never had any sinking fund created for it and there is no money to pay. To let it become delinquent would curtail the city's credit and make future bonds difficult to sell.

The resolution calling the election to refund the bonds makes provisions that they will be issued for not more than 20 years and a special levy shall be made each year to pay off part of the principal and interest.

Only registered voters may vote. Poll books will be gotten from the county clerk's office. Judges of the election are John Ketsels, Severt Jacobsen, and clerks are Maude Bryan, Hattie Myers, and Elizabeth Page.

LOMBARD NAMED FOR RHODES EXAM

Springfield Students Receive High Recognition Second Time in Two Years

LANE HAS THREE ON LIST

Four University Candidates to Take State Examination at Portland December 5

The high honor of being selected as one of four students to represent the University of Oregon in competition for the coveted Rhodes scholarship came to Frank Lombard of this city this week when the foreign scholarship committee of the university chose him and three others to enter the competition for the right to represent the state in the northwest district. Others chosen to represent the school are Wallace Campbell, Eugene; George Harrington, Eugene; and Dave Williams, Portland.

These four will take the state examination at Portland on December 5. Two candidates will be named to represent the state in the district examinations at Seattle. This district includes six states: Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, and Nevada.

The Rhodes scholarship entitles its winner to three years' study at Oxford university in England, and carries with it $2000 a year. Selection of Lombard this year makes two successive years that a Springfield student at the university has been recognized in this manner. Last fall John Cox was named one of the four to represent the university. It is seldom that a city the size of Springfield is able to have representatives in the Oxford competition two successive years.

Frank Lombard is the son of Mrs. Ella Lombard. He took his B. A. degree at the university in economics and education and is now studying for his masters degree. He came to Springfield from North Dakota several years ago, and has a sister, Maurine, who has completed a four-year course in education at the university last studied at Columbia. She is teaching at North Bend.

Lombard has been active in the work of the national guard, being a member of the local unit.

The young folks are unwilling to take a second handed religion. They want to apply the acid test of experience. The question they are discussing at the 6:30 hours is: "Just what is Religion?" The leader will be Ha Bartholomew.

The theme of the pastor's message for the evening service at 7:30 is: "The Speechless Guest." "Who is he?" "Is he with us now?" A welcome is extended to all for these services.

ROSEBURG NEXT FOOT BALL GAME

Coach to Take 27 Men and Large School Following to Douglas City Friday

IS ANYBODY'S VICTORY

Upsets of Last Week Are Surprise; Eugene and University Meet Friday Night

Springfield and Roseburg high school football teams will clash on the Roseburg field Friday in the second game for both teams. What the outcome will be is very much uncertain. Roseburg has taken its first game with North Bend, Springfield lost its opening contest to Eugene high, and both teams think they will win. Springfield will have a slight advantage over their opponents in the matter of weights. Roseburg has been keeping pretty quiet about her team and it remains something of a dark horse.

One thing is certain, a large number of Springfield high school students will see the contest, and a large number of local players will probably get an opportunity to play during the game. More than 60 students had signified their intention at the close of school yesterday to go to the Douglas city game. Norval May, athletic coach, says he will take 27 men on the trip and will open his attack with the same lineup used against Eugene.

Upsets in the high school football season, and there have been some major ones, have left the selection of winners this week-end something of a puzzle. Springfield has always expected to take the Roseburg game, but there is always a possibility that something may happen such as did at Seattle last week when the underdog came out on top of the heap, and at Cottage Grove Friday afternoon when that high school team dished out a surprising 6-0 victory over the University high team. Eugene high did not fare so well either, losing the Marshfield game Saturday 26-0.

Eugene had previously defeated Cottage Grove 22-0, and everyone expected the contest between Eugene high and University high to be played Friday evening on Hayward field to practically settle the supremacy of the district.

If Springfield defeats Cottage Grove as she expects to here October 23, and then downs University high on Thanksgiving day she will be on an even basis with Eugene for the mythical title.

Everyone who has watched the Springfield boys practice say that they are much better than they were in the Eugene game. More material has been turning out recently too, and the coach now has about 37 men to choose from.

PARENTS GUESTS OF H.S. FACULTY

Program And Social Hour Arranged to Provide Means of Being Better Acquainted

BOY SCOUT DRIVE IS SUCCESS HERE

First Troop to Be Formed at Meeting to Be Held at M. E. Church Tonight

Two Springfield teams canvassing for the Boy Scout drive have raised the sum of $72 with only a few calls remaining to be made it was stated this morning by Phil Bartholomew, chairman of the drive in Springfield, Bartholomew and W. P. Tyson, constituted one team, and Paul Potter and Rev. Dean C. Poindexter, the other.

County scout officials congratulated the local people on their response to the drive stating that they had done better than they ever did in the past, and declared that the city responder better than Eugene will, according to preset indications. No quota was set for this city.

Work of formally organizing a Boy Scout troop in this city will be started this evening at a meeting to be held at the Methodist church at 7 o'clock. All boys of scouting age are invited to attend the meeting and enroll in the troop.

Indications are that there will be more boys making application than can be taken care of in one troop. The Methodist church is starting one troop now and leaders of other churches of the city have been considering the advisability of sponsoring other troops. They have not been able to reach any decision yet, however, and urged the Methodist group to proceed with the formation of a troop without waiting for their decision.

Leaders here feel that there should be at least two troops in the city. This would have the effect of creating friendly rivalry in the accomplishments of the individual members. On the other hand, the existence of one troop with a full enrollment, and with others waiting for an opportunity to enroll will probably have the effect of making those who are in the troop work harder and this would result in greater accomplishments for both the boys and the troop.

Glen Martin has agreed to serve as Scoutmaster for the first troop formed. A troop committee has been functioning for some weeks making necessary arrangements.

Half Diseases Children

BUDGET MEMBERS NAMED ON MONDAY

Business Men and Council to Prepare Estimate of Expenditures October 26

MILK ORDINANCE IS UP

Request for Street Light is Heard; Want Burned Building Cleaned Up

A freeholder budget committee to sit with the city council in the preparation of the city budget for the year 1932 was appointed at the monthly meeting of the city officials Monday and a meeting has been set for Monday, October 26 at 7:30 at the city hall.

Members of the budget committee include W. P. Tyson, mayor; W. A. Taylor, Fred Frese, O. H. Jarrett, Clayton Barber, councilmen; and C. A. Swartz, Vernt Daniels, F. B. Flanery, William Long and Roy Carlton.

Under the present law the budget must be prepared, published and acted on at an open meeting before December 1.

A request that the city council pass the federal milk ordinance was heard. Chester Lawrence, Eugene inspector, explained the advantages of such regulations, and of the expense involved in connection with its operation. He suggested a county organization to include Cottage Grove, Springfield, and Junction City, in the event that the individual cities did not care to assume the financial obligation individually. The council took the question under advisement and the mayor asked the health committee, with Fred Frese as chairman, to make a thorough investigation and report at the next meeting.

The milk ordinance question has been facing the council for nearly two years. Members of that body have hesitated to take any action fearing that doing so would eventually make it impossible for the individual to have a family cow within the city limits.

A request for a street light at the corner of Park and Fifth street was referred to the chairman of the light committee.

The council ordered the recorder to ask owners of the property which was burned at the corner of Fifth and B streets to clean up the debris which is an eyesore.
