

PRYOR OUT FOR SHERIFF'S POST

Young Seeks Attorney Office, Rust Commissioner, and Poole Coroner's Place

The shortening of the period before the primary elections on May 20 is serving now to bring out into the open, many of those who have been supporting a secret desire to hold certain county political positions.

Latest to positively throw his hat into the ring is Cal A. Pryor as Democratic candidate for sheriff. He seeks the post on a platform of economy, efficiency, and honest law enforcement. He is a farmer and has been a taxpayer of the county for 25 years.

If elected Mr. Pryor promises to: "Cut expenses by rigid economy. Employ no unnecessary deputies. Select deputies for fitness and ability and not political pull. Purchase supplies for office and jail at lowest prices obtainable. Promote efficiency through business management and personal supervision. Honestly and impartially enforce the law. Cooperate fully with the state police and other law enforcement agencies."

It is almost certain that Harry Bown, present incumbent will seek re-election. He is also a Democrat. Others who have announced their intentions are Donald Young who seeks the Democratic nomination as district attorney. This is Mr. Young's second attempt to win the post. H. A. Rust of Blachly has also declared himself a candidate for county commissioner to succeed O. E. Crowe, and Charles P. Poole has started an aggressive campaign for election as county coroner on the Republican ticket.

In soliciting the support of his friends for the coroner office, Mr. Poole, who is interested in funeral homes in Eugene and Springfield, declares that he has been in the undertaking business for 20 years and has lived within 50 miles of Eugene during all that time. The coroner position has been held by Marion Veatch of the Veatch chapel, and has been held by the late W. W. Branstetter for the past 12 years. Clarence Simon, business partner of Mr. Branstetter who was appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Mr. Branstetter, has announced his intention to seek the office.

NEW FORD DETAILS ARE EXPECTED SOON

Great Interest Felt in Anticipated Announcement and Exhibition of Late Models

Just what Henry Ford will offer in style and price range in his new four and eight cylinder automobiles which he has promised to exhibit shortly after March 1, continues to remain a mystery beyond the announcement made by the manufacturer some time ago.

Mr. Ford has stated that his company will build an improved four and a new eight-cylinder car. The eight will be a "V" type. The chassis for the new cars will be so built as to accommodate either a four or an eight cylinder engine. No indication of the price range for the new models has been made. Leaders of the motor industry are awaiting interestedly the exhibition of the new Ford car as they feel that there can be no upward movement in the motor car industry until Ford plans have been made known.

Extra workmen have been added to the staff personnel at Portland and Seattle and actual assembling of the automobile bodies has started, although no motors have been received.

Upper Willamette

About 25 students of the Pleasant Hill high school were absent Tuesday on account of illness. Marie Maltou and Myrtle Hogan are both sick with pneumonia.

The women of Pleasant Hill district met at the home of Mrs. Andy Olson Monday, February 22 and listened to a lecture by Miss Skow on garden planning for the whole year. Miss Skow has asked some one to have a demonstration garden this year. Mrs. Olson was assisted by Mrs. Carothers and Mrs. Wheeler.

The members of the Pleasant Hill church held a farewell supper at the church Monday night in honor of Taylor Circle who has traded his property at Pleasant Hill for a ranch on the McKenzie river. Mr. Circle is moving now.

The Lewis Lumber company and the mill, flume and planer at Pendra have started operation giving employment to several.

The wedding of Miss Jessie Manning formerly of Pleasant Hill to Claude M. O'Brien pastor of the Pleasant Hill church last year took place Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ford at Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will make their home at 1243 High street in Eugene.

This is Washington

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Interest in the coming presidential campaign has been stimulated by the announcement by Alfred E. Smith that he will run on the Democratic ticket if drafted.

Mr. Hoover is practically unchallenged as the Republican candidate, and Calvin Coolidge has declared he will support him. But just as Gov. Roosevelt, of New York, seemed to have the Democratic nomination sewed up, some of his supporters even going so far as to say that it would take only two ballots to decide the issue, Al Smith threw a monkey-wrench into the machinery.

Smith's statement was succinct, and declared that he was willing to accept the nomination if it was tendered him, but that he would make no active campaign ahead of the convention.

Reduced to plain words, his declaration was an invitation to all his friends to get out and corral delegates for him in the various state primaries. Every delegate he gets, it is believed here, will have to be deducted from those who had been placed on the Roosevelt column. Several states are known to be for Smith, in preference to any other man, among them Massachusetts, New Jersey, Illinois and perhaps Pennsylvania and New York. To mention only a few. Other New England states are also expected to favor the "Happy Warrior," and their action will change the overwhelming lead claimed by the Roosevelt faction to a perhaps in significant total.

At least two other candidates are expected to benefit by Smith's declaration. They are John N. Garner, of Texas, and Newton D. Baker, of Ohio. Close observers here place the chances now of leading candidates in the following order:

1. John N. Garner; 2. Newton D. Baker; 3. Franklin D. Roosevelt; 4. Alfred E. Smith. Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, and Melvin Taylor, the Chicago banker, are the most prominent of the dark horses in the race.

Garner's popularity with Democrats all over the country is due to his undeniably skillful handling of the house of representatives as its Speaker. For years he has studied at close hand the duties of that office and when the position came to him he moved right in and saw to it that needed legislation, whether sponsored by his own party or the Republicans, was promptly enacted. As the Democratic candidate, he will be able to claim equal credit for any of the recent legislation that President Hoover has initiated, by his part in seeing that it became a law. If he continues his effective work as Speaker up to the time the convention meets, the Texan will be in the front of the balloting, his enthusiastic supporters are now claiming.

Newton D. Baker's appeal to the country is based upon a long and unblemished career in public office, and particularly on his work as secretary of war in Wilson's cabinet during the World war. He is one of the strongest men in the councils of the Ohio Democratic party.

The anti-Hoover sentiment seems to be declining. The chief opposition to him has been based upon the charge that he has done nothing constructive to combat the hard times. This theory no longer holds, observers here say, pointing to the two billion dollar Reconstruction Finance Corporation, now actually effective, and his subsequent move to coax the hidden money reserves of the country out of the pockets of the hoarders. The two measures are expected by him, and most of the economists, to do much towards halting the present depression.

In selecting a chairman for the board which will combat the evils of hoarding, the president named one of the country's foremost publishers, Col. Frank Knox, of the Chicago Daily News. Col. Knox intends to turn himself into a colossal press-agent with the view of making every paper in the land carry stories showing the evils now being wrought by those who keep their savings out of circulation.

The slogan of the campaign will be based upon the thought that every dollar withdrawn from circulation by hoarders ties up ten dollars in credit. In other words, everybody who takes $200 out of the sock and puts it in the bank will add one ordinary worker to the nation payroll for a year. Col. Knox is now hammering away along these lines and long before the national conventions meet it will be known how well the plan worked, and Mr. Hoover believes, the country will have made giant strides towards emerging from the depression.

The two movements, taken together, are expected to restore Mr. Hoover's popularity entirely and, the Republican leaders assert, will return him as the victor in next November's battle of ballots.

Lincoln School Notes

The program that was given in honor of George Washington's birthday was as follows:

Toy Orchestra, first grade; selections by kindergarten under Mrs. Burch; "Three Little Sisters," first and second grade; "Many Flags," first and second grades; "Hats Off!" Virginia Pohl and Jackie Sherman; "Busy Folks," Elizabeth Boyles and Deloris Keeler; George Washington, first grade boys; "What the Flag Pays," Roberta Rehan; "Which General" Donald Toomb; Tap dance, Roberta Rehan; Washington exercise, third grade; "Martha and George" Beryl Robertson and Frank Anderson; "Washington's Life" fifth grade; harmonica band, eighth grade; "February Twenty-Second," Warren Ingram; "Washington" girls glee club.

Several songs were sung by the entire school and explanations were given by Pearl Helterbrand, Bernice Smith, and Louisa Cowden. The songs were "Yankee Doodle," "America, The Beautiful," and "America."

The closing number on the program was a short play, "George Washington's Fortune," given by the eighth A grade.

Members of the eighth grade girls team played a practice basketball game with the high school girls Tuesday afternoon. They will play a regular game with Coburg after school Friday.

The boys team played Pleasant Hill Wednesday after school and will play Coburg Friday.

The Girl Scouts will plant a red cedar tree in the parking at the school Friday afternoon.

Thurston

Mrs. Ira Gray left last Friday for Marshfield to spend several days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Earl Simms.

Miss Mildred Price who is teaching at The Dalles this year spent the past week-end with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. John Price.

The Thurston grade school is closed this week as Miss Travis primary teacher, has the mumps and some of the students also are having them.

Mr. Robertson, who is living on H. E. Morris place had several sheep killed last week by dogs.

Miss Leone Edmiston spent the past week-end at Drain.

Mrs. Myrtle McKelvey from Stevenson, Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lott and daughter, Mildred, from Eugene visited at John Edmiston last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Russell took her granddaughter, Katherine Ann, to her home in Silverton a few days ago.

THE PLOW

By Richard Hengist Horne
Thou seest the dawn's grave orange hue.

With one pale streak like yellow sand,
And over that a vein of blue.

The air is cold above the woods;
All silent is the earth and sky,
Except with his own lonely moods
The blackbird holds a colloquy.

Over the broad hill creeps a beam,
Like hope that glids a good
man's brow;
And now ascends the nostril-steam
Of stalwart horses come to plow.

Ye rigid plowman, bear in mind
Your labor is for future hours!
Advance—spart not—don't look behind,
Plow deep and straight with all your powers.

Modern Architecture Replaces New York Tenement Buildings

The model building shown above is to be erected in the heart of the slum district in New York's lower East Side. On account of its economy of construction, rooms can be rented for $10.95 a month or even less, leaving a profit for the owners. A group of models in which the one above is included, showing the homes of the future, is to be taken across the country for exhibition in Philadelphia, Hartford, Los Angeles, Buffalo, Cleveland, and other cities.

USES OF ELECTRICITY ARE FOUND EXPANDING

The depression is not keeping Oregon farmers from applying modern electrical methods to agriculture, judging from reports by rural electric service men from many parts of the state who assembled to their annual conference at Oregon State college last week.

The installation of electrical devices in rural sections in Oregon increased more during 1931 than in any previous year, the field men reported. Similarly there has been a general extension of rural power lines in the state.

The conference held under the auspices of the agricultural engineering department of the school of agriculture, has become an annual clearing house for exchanging information on new or old equipment developed for particular application to Oregon farm needs. Reports are made at this conference by F. E. Price and C. J. Hurd, agricultural engineers with the experiment station.

Newest development reported on this year and one that has proved instantly popular with producers, is the electric hot bed. More than 75 growers in Oregon, most of them in and around Portland have already installed this equipment.

Use of electric power in irrigation drew major attention during the conference, while farm refrigeration, electrically operated orchard spray systems, power feed grinders, milking machine operation, hot-water pasteurizers and sterilizers, corn drying apparatus

Americans Win Olympic Skating Contests

Jack Shea (left) proved the first American to win at the Olympic Games this year. He was first to break the tape in the 500-meter event. Irving Jaffee, another New Yorker, won the 5,000-meter event also on the opening day of the contests at Lake Placid.

were other topics discussed. Oregon poultrymen are perhaps taking the lead in number of ways of applying electricity to their business, the discussions brought out.

ORCHESTRA TOUR IS PROMOTER'S SCHEME

Musicians and entertainers who last week had had visions of touring the Pacific coast on a vaudeville circuit are now back home wiser for their experience.

One, Crager, who represented himself as field agent for a vaudeville company apparently toured the coast cities signing as many prospective entertainers as possible making arrangements to have them assemble at the Dufwin theatre in Portland Wednesday night last week. The troupe was there but no Crager. After three days they disbanded and returned to their homes.

Walter McGregor, Springfield musician, who was to have led the orchestra was only one of a large number who were duped.

IUKA CIRCLE ENJOYS POTLUCK SUPPER

Members of Iuka Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. enjoyed a potluck supper at the close of their meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Grayden Lewis. The next session of the group will be held March 3, at the home of Mrs. Ellen Barker.

CITIES LEAGUE TO TALK PROBLEMS

Score of Matters Confronting All Communities Will Be Discussed by Authorities

Between 500 and 600 officials of various cities of Oregon are expected to gather at the University of Oregon Friday and Saturday of this week for the sessions of the League of Oregon Cities to hear and take part in discussions of many vital problems now facing all civic groups. All sessions will be held at Gerlinger hall on the campus.

"Too long the cities of Oregon have acted selfishly and as individual units, without regard to the problems of other cities, and never before has there been a means for exchange of ideas. Some cities accomplished certain things exceedingly well, but are handling other matters poorly. A meeting, such as is scheduled, with the exchange of ideas of officials from different cities, cannot help but benefit all cities," says W. M. Biggs, city attorney of Ashland and president of the League.

One of the most interesting discussions of the conclave is expected to center around a discussion of taxation of municipal utilities, such as water systems, golf courses and electric plants.

The sessions are open to all persons interested in city government according to the announcement.

AENEAS CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. C. E. SWARTS

Members of the Aeneas club were guests of Mrs. C. E. Swarts at her home on E street Tuesday afternoon. Miss Edna Swarts was assistant hostess. The afternoon was spent with entertainment and refreshments. Mrs. J. T. Moore will entertain the group at her home for their next meeting.

Those attending were Mrs. S. C. Wright, Mrs. L. May, Mrs. N. W. Emery, Mrs. J. T. Moore, Mrs. L. K. Page, Mrs. J. Fulop, Mrs. Ella Lombard, and the two hostesses.

CHRISTIAN UNITY

Christ: "That they may all be one."—John 17:21.

Introduction:

Because we have been misunderstood and in some cases misquoted during the present revival campaign in Springfield, we feel it our duty and privilege to make this public statement regarding the scriptural position of the Church of Christ on the question at hand.

As members of the New Testament Church, founded by Christ upon the day of Pentecost, we do not claim to be nor have we preached that we are the only Christians, but we are simply Christians only, with no creed but Christ, no book of authority and discipline but the Bible, no name but the divine, and no purpose but to serve.

I. There is a universal recognition of the need of Christian Unity.

1. John Wesley: "I would to God that all party names and unscriptural phrases and forms which have divided the Christian world were forgotten."

cf. "Universal Knowledge" Vol IX, Pg. 540.

2. Martin Luther: "I pray you to leave my name alone, and call not yourselves Lutherans, but Christians. Cease, my dear friends, to cling to these party names and distinctions; away with them all; and let us call ourselves Christians after Him from whom our doctrine comes."

cf. Life of Luther—by Stark. Pg. 289.

3. Former President Harrison: "The value of Christian Unity is great at home, but tenfold greater in the mission field, where divisions suggest other prophets besides Jesus."

4. Francis E. Clark: "The most pitiable sight I saw in the foreign lands was that of churches that had been gathered out of heathenism, rent in twain by sectarian jealousy which had been introduced from the so-called Christian lands."

5. Albert Barnes: "These divisions should be merged into the holy name 'Christian.'"

6. A. J. Gordon: "If the church is the body of Christ she must have the same name as her head. It would be strange if my body and my head should bear different names. In some comments on the passage, Acts 11:26, 'The disciples were called Christians first at Antioch,' it is held that this name was given in derision. If you study the use of the Greek word, 'called,' you will conclude that they were divinely called Christians, God gave them that name."

With the testimonies of these men and scores of others how could one defend divisions and declare that God wants different denominations to satisfy the temperaments, tastes and prejudices of men. The paramount issue among the Churches is Christian Unity. The great thinkers are realizing that protestants must unite or die. There is not a hope for the conquest of the world for Christ with a divided church.

II. The Bible teaches the organic and spiritual unity of all Christians.

1. Christ founded but one divine body, The Church, Matt. 16:18. "Upon this rock I will build my church."

2. Jesus Christ prayed: John 17:21. "That they may all be one even as thou father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us; that the world may believe that thou didst send me."

3. 1 Cor. 1:10—"Now I beseech you brethren through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same things and that there be no divisions among you, but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment."

4. Ephesians 4:4—"There is One body." Eph. 1:22—"And He (God) put all things in subjection under His (Christ's) feet and gave Him to be head over all things to the church which is His body."

When the Church, the body of Christ, is torn apart organically it is rent asunder spiritually. Spiritual and organic unity are inseparable. They cannot come one before the other, but will come together when all Christians unite at the foot of the blood-stained cross.

Episcopal Assembly: "The body of Christ, torn and bleeding, is the shame of the church. It is our duty to put an end to divisions."

III. The Bible condemns division among Christians as a sinful work of the flesh.

1. Gal. 5:19-21. "Now the works of the flesh are manifest which are these: fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, parties, envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like; of which I forewarn you, even as I did forewarn you that they who practice such things shall not inherit the Kingdom of God."

In this scripture we have divisions, parties and factions, among God's people catalogued with the most horrible sins.

1 Cor. 3:3. "For ye are yet carnal; for whereas there is among you jealousy and strife, are ye not carnal? And do ye not walk after the manner of men?"

Matt. 15:9. "In vain do they worship me teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men."

Rom. 16:17. "Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them that are causing divisions and occasions of stumbling, contrary to the doctrine which ye learned; and turn away from them."

Division breeds skepticism, hinders evangelism, creates jealousies, causes grief, wastes money, weakens Christianity, divides homes and obscures the way to salvation.

IV. The Bible plainly outlines the divine plan for Christian Unity.

1 Mat. 28:18. "All authority hath been given to me in heaven and on earth."

1 Cor. 3:11. "For other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid which is Christ Jesus."

Eph. 4:4-6. "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and father of all, who is over all and through all and in all."

The inspired Apostle Paul reveals in this scripture the seven fundamental principles of Christianity for the unity of God's people, which include all essentials and exclude all non-essentials.

One God, demands unity of worship.
One Lord, demands unity of authority.
One Baptism, demands unity of practice.
One Faith, demands unity of preaching.
One Body, demands unity of Organization.
One Spirit, demands unity of Living.
One Hope, demands unity of Purpose.

Deut. 4:2. "Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish from it, that ye may keep the commandments of Jehovah, your God, which I command you."

Revelation 22:18. "I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, if any man shall add unto them, God shall add unto him the plagues which are written in this book; and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city which are written in this book."

CONCLUSION:
The Church Christ founded was a non-sectarian, undenominational body. The plea of the Church of Christ today is for the complete restoration of the Church as it was in the beginning. When this is accomplished all Christians will be united into one great body with Christ as authority and His book as a guide, all wearing the same name, observing the same ordinances and preaching the same message of love and power. Then the prayer of Jesus will be answered and the world will believe.

Men of thought and men of action clear the way. Bring about this unity of God's people, and there will be joy in Heaven and gladness on earth. Then we can sing the angel song, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men."
