

MAT CARD WILL BE 'LADIES FREE'

Achui - Coyle Meet in Main Event; Bulgarian Draws Special Event Position

Another of the 'Ladies Free' wrestling cards will be staged at the Eugene Armory Friday night. It has been announced by Herb Owen, match maker for the city commission. The first of these was held last Friday and proved so successful that it was decided to continue them again.

The card for this week will be an interesting one for the ladies, as it will include two foreign mat artists both of whom have given colorful performances in the past, but men are showing their interest also and are expected to show it by their presence.

Walter Achui, Oriental wrestler, will meet Wee Coyle, a newcomer in Eugene, in the main event which has been limited to two hours or the best two out of three falls. Vasil Tsacoff, the rough Bulgarian, is slated for a go with Kewpie Harkins in the 45 minute special event, and Art O'Reilly and Whitey Potter, St. Helens boy, will meet each other for the card opening.

MILLS RUNNING TO 23 PERCENT CAPACITY

Seattle, Washington—A total of 322 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's association for the week ending February 27 operated at 23.3 per cent of capacity, as compared to 25.5 per cent of capacity for the previous week and 39.1 per cent for the same week last year. During the week of February 20, 185 of these plants were reported as down and 137 as operating. Those operating reported production as 45.9 per cent of their group capacity.

Current new business reported by 214 identical mills was 14.8 per cent over production, but totaled 3,000,000 feet less than the footage received the previous week and about 1,000,000 feet more than the week of February 13. These mills reported 6,000,000 feet less production than the week before. This is the eighteenth successive week with orders in excess of production, the longest continuous period in at least ten years in which orders were reported in greater volume than production. The present better relationship between orders and production is due to the extremely low production since late in October. Shipments for the week were 21.9 per cent over production.

Unfilled orders decreased 5,000,000 feet under the previous week. New export business received during the week was 4,300,000 feet less than the volume reported for the previous week. New domestic cargo orders were approximately the same as the previous week, new rail business increased about 500,000 feet, while the local trade increased slightly over 650,000 feet when compared with the previous week's business. Inventories as reported by 144 mills were decreased 9,000,000 feet during the week ending February 27 and are 15.7 per cent less than at this time last year.

EARLY SPUDS LOOK BETTER THIS YEAR

Little Promise Seen in Late Crop Opportunity in Grass Seed, Clover, Corn, Flax

It used to be said that the way to grow high priced potatoes was to plant cheap ones—as most farmers do just the opposite—but such doesn't appear to be the case this year, warns E. R. Jackman, crops specialist at O. S. C., in reviewing this season's farm crops outlook. Every indication points to poor prices on late potatoes again next year, he says, provided normal crops are produced.

"Farmer who normally grow a certain acreage year after year may well continue to do so," says Jackman, "but this is a poor time for a new man to jump into the business.

"On the other hand, there appears to be much prospect for fair prices for early potatoes," Jackman believes. "The early crop in California promises to be greatly reduced so that it would appear to be a good bet for the potato grower to devote more of his acreage than usual to varieties to be dug as early in the summer as possible."

Jackman does not stop with telling what not to plant, but also lists a number of seed crops that give good promise, particularly in western Oregon. Red and alsike clover are the "backbone" of the seed industry, and despite present low prices Jackman believes conditions are right for an upturn in this business.

"The market still looks good for Austrian winter peas," Jackman continued. "Drouth in the south had as much to do with poor demand last fall as poor farm prices. The acreage for next year is way below requirements.

"Forget about the common Italian rye grass, as there is too much of it for present conditions, but it could grow some English rye grass, English rye grass, orchard grass, tall oat grass, chewing fescue and meadow fescue all offer good returns and are cheap crops to grow. There is no reason why Oregon couldn't be producing these crops at the rate of some $300,000 a year."

Corn and seed flax also provide possibilities of profitable expansion in many sections. Corn could replace potatoes or spring grain on thousands of acres without danger of oversupplying the local north west market. Seed flax has an assured market in Portland and will do well when properly cared for on much western Oregon land.

The Whole Family Will Enjoy the Convenience of HUMPHREY Radiant Heats

Over three million American families are now enjoying the scientific radiant heat of the Humphrey Radiant Heats.

The ever increasing popularity of the Humphrey Radiant Heats is due to the fact that it produces exactly the same kind of heat as Nature's great generator, the sun. Radiant rays pour forth into the room to warm the solid objects. The air through which the rays pass remains temporary, active, invigorating. Rooms equipped with a Humphrey Radiant Heat are never stuffy or oppressive.

PEOPLE OF EAST EYE PACIFIC COAST REGION

That the Pacific coast is one of the brightest spots in the United States today and that large numbers of business men and residents of the east are watching this section was the opinion expressed by R. E. Hood, manager of the Golden Rule store in Eugene, Tuesday after returning from a 30 day business trip which took him to New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Chicago.

There was no snow in the East, but the Middle West had a blanket of snow and the weather was disagreeable on the return trip, he declared.

There has been a decided change in the markets of the East. Most of the items which were manufactured for sale purposes before the price decline have been cleared out. People are buying better merchandise now because they realize that prices have actually declined and are not just marked down for sale purposes. There are only a few firms manufacturing inferior sale articles now, he declared.
