Capt. and Mrs. Frank Winch of Los Angeles Take 400 Feet of McKenzie Pictures

Speaks at Fish Dinner

Residents Urged to Welcome Visitors; Many to Tour Pacific Coast This Summer

Before July 1, more than a million people living in various parts of the United States will see motion pictures of a days out on the McKenzie river at the hear of the unusual advantage offered both the sightseeing tourist and the sportsman was the pronouncement by Captain Frank Winch, manager of the sports bureau of the Gilmore Oil company at Los Angeles made to members of the Lions club of Springfield and their wives at a fish dinner here Friday night.

Captain and Mrs. Winch had spent the day fishing and taking motion pictures on the McKenzie river from Blue River to one mile below Bear creek. Dr. W. C. Rehban and Veltie Pruitt manned the boats and took their guests out for their first fishing trip on a river in a boat. Negotiating some of the rapids provided a great deal of interest and some thrills for the guests who not infrequently were sprayed with water.

Day's Trip is Filmed

Motion pictures, 400 feet in all, were taken during the day. Every incident from the time the party stopped in Springfield to purchase fishing licenses until they had started down the river in the boats, later dragged the craft from the stream and finally started for home was recorded in the film which is destined to become one of the most valuable bits of advertising which the McKenzie river country has received for many years. A print of the film will be sent to Dr. Rehban and Veltie Pruitt after the pictures have been developed and edited.

Stressing the advantages of this type of publicity this year, Captain Winch, in his address of the evening, declared that investigations which his office has been conducting this year indicated that tourist travel and visitors to the Pacific Coast this summer will be greater than it has been for the past five years; put together, the Olympic games, Lions International convention, both at Los Angeles in July; the American Legion National Convention at Portland; more than 200 conventions in Seattle; and similar gatherings in each of the larger cities of the coast region were cited as reasons for his statement.

Hunting, Fishing Lead Sports

A strong plea for the preservation of the rights of sportsmen, hunters and anglers especially, was also made during the evening. A survey which has recently been completed by newspapers in 14 Southern states showed that more persons participated in these two forms of sport than in all others combined. The hunters and anglers numbered over 4 million, while 2 million found their greatest enjoyment in baseball, and one million in football.

Boat fishing on the McKenzie river should not be banned. This is one stream where bank fishing is impracticable. Fishermen who ride down the river in a boat do not take any great amount of fish from the river when one considers the money they spend for the privilege. Many boat fishermen obtain as much enjoyment from the boat ride downstream as they do from actually catching fish. These were some of the remarks made by the speaker on this subject.

Politics was blamed for most of the trouble which is now being experienced in game preservation in most states. The practice of posting all property to prevent hunting and fishing has been done in some eastern states was severely denounced as being unfair to the rank and file of the citizens who pay their share towards the expenses of these projects but who are unable to enjoy them.

Sell Advantages to Visitors

Springfield has a wonderful opportunity to sell the city and the McKenzie country to visitors, declared the sportsman in closing his address. Tell the people who come here in automobiles with out-of-state licenses on their cars, of the recreational and other advantages of your town and valley. Offer to aid them in finding that which they seek, and above all make them feel that you are anxious to have them come.

Special musical selections were given during the evening by Miss Barbara Barnell, xylophone; Mrs. W. K. Barnell, vocal soloist; and Mrs. Bernice Neher Finley, piano. Motion picture films which were taken on the trip down the Rogue river, last summer were shown for the pleasure of the visitors after the dinner meeting.

Legion Meeting To Cost $85,000

An $85,000 budget for the national American Legion convention at Portland in September was read to the Willamette council at a meeting in Springfield Wednesday evening. M'KENZIE RETAIL STORES ORGANIZE

Collective Buying to Obtain Quantity Discounts; Customers Will Benefit

Formation of the McKenzie River Retail Association, an organization of McKenzie river valley merchants for the purpose of purchasing supplies collectively, was organized Tuesday at a meeting held at the Vida hall.

Frank Rennie, Thurston, has been named president of the new organization, and R. H. Payne, of Vida, secretary. The merchants expect to be able to purchase larger quantities by buying together and thus be able to take advantage of the discounts which are given for quantity purchases. This action, they believe, will enable them to sell for less and eventually prove an advantage to their customers.

CRIME COSTS DEPLORED BY LAW SCHOOL DEAN

Crime in the United States costs the citizens between 12 and 14 billions of dollars each year, Roy Hewitt, dean of the law school at Willamette university at Salem, told members of the Brotherhood of the Methodist church Monday evening. The speaker criticized the action of officials in Chicago where they are cutting school funds and at the same time allow their crime bill to run into stupendous figures. The address was delivered following the regular dinner served by the Ladies' Aid of the church. Several visitors from Eugene were present.

Plans for the annual picnic of the Brotherhood were started at the meeting. Committees will be announced later and they will determine the time and place for the outing. The picnic will bring the year's activity of the group to a close until in the fall.

BALL SEASON TO CLOSE FOR H.S.

High School Team Goes to Roseburg for Final Baseball Game This Afternoon

Springfield high school baseball players will end their league season this afternoon when they go to Roseburg to play a return game which they expect to win without difficulty. The game has been advanced one day so that the local players will be able to be here for the annual senior class play at the school tomorrow night. The game had originally been scheduled for Friday.

The local nine took their second defeat in league play Tuesday afternoon when they dropped a game to Eugene high school 9-2. The game, played on the fairgrounds in Eugene, was one of the best contests of the entire season of all teams. Each team scored one run early in the game and then it became a pitcher's duel until the seventh inning when Eugene strengthened and circled the bases for eight runs before the game ended.

This game settled the leadership of the Sixth district league giving first place to Eugene with Springfield trailing second. Springfield is expected to end the season with four victories and two defeats. Eugene high will probably defeat U. H. S. in their two games and will have six victories.

Last Friday Springfield high players defeated U. H. S. 12-3 while Eugene ran away with Roseburg 20-3.

MUCH ALFALFA BEING PLANTED SAYS AGENT

Much alfalfa has been planted in Lane county this week and more will be planted during the next week. This is the opinion of O. S. Fletcher, county agent, based on sales of inoculation culture at his office and on inquiries on the growing of alfalfa.

During the past 10 days the county agent has sold sufficient culture for more than 500 acres of alfalfa. This culture is prepared by the Oregon Experiment station for sale to farmers of the state at cost.

Indications are that Lane county farmers will plant more alfalfa this year than ever before. Last year farmers of the county sowed approximately 2000 acres of this fine forage crop.

When Springfield high students present their annual class play "The Meanest Man in the World" at the high school auditorium Friday evening May 20, at 8 o'clock their audience will be treated to one of the most sparkling comedy-drama productions to be staged in this city for years, according to John Douglas Knox, director.

Other outstanding features of this production will be the extensive staging created especially for the play, and the mirthful introductory and intermission numbers. All play equipment and staging materials have been stored in the school library for the past week and are taken out only for the rehearsals which have been held every night this week.

Swindle Plot to Play

The play "The Meanest Man in the World" is a three-act comedy-drama written by Augustin Mac Hugh and has a cast of 15. It has had a successful Broadway run in New York and was an even greater hit on the road.

The main part of the story takes place in a Pennsylvania town where a starving attorney goes to collect a bill. He discovers that the debtor, his million-dollar boss, wants him to throw out into the street a girl, who will be penniless if he carries out his orders. He also finds that Leeds, the village millionaire, and a great tightwad, in conjunction with his own employers, is trying to fleece this girl out of a rich oil field. How he fools these men, gets the girl's rights for her, falls in love and marries her, and puts the town on the map, is shown by the story.

The players in the cast are: Bart Nash, played by Reval Sumner; Kitty Crockett, June Danks; Richard Clarke, Winston Bacus; Ned Stevens, Don Wilson; Mrs. Clarke, Eunice McFarland; Nellie Clarke, Valda Bartholomew; Frederick Leggett, Bud Thienes; Henry Billings, William Sword; Carlton Childs, Lloyd Freese; Michael O'Brien, Paul Schantol; Jane Hudson, Lela Squires; Hiram Leeds, Jim West; Franklin Fielding, Elmer Ware.

The musical interludes will include the following selections by the jazz orchestra before the first curtain: "Home," "Starlight," "You're the One, You Beautiful Son-of-a-Gun," and "Pagan Moon." Numbers between the first and second acts will include: "Lies," "My Gal Sal," tap dance; "Dinah," "Swaggle on Your Shoulder," tap dance; and "Somebody Loves You." The tap dancing will be done by Jeanette Thompson a new student at the high school who has studied tap dancing in California.

The final interludes will be given by the orchestra and by Hazel Wilson and Emma Trinka singing duets. The orchestra numbers will include "Love, You Funny Thing," and "I Know You're Lying, But I Love It." The duets will be "Time Alone Will Tell," "Paradise," and "Nobody's Sweetheart."

Members of the business staff include: Gene Hamlin, advertising; Harold Stevenson, business manager; Donald Anderson, publicity; Reval Sumner, stage manager; Eldred Glaspey, music; Maxine Swarts and Melba Mellons, make-up.

Ticket sales have been going strong with classes at the school engaged in a sales contest, and indications are that the entire house will be sold out when the first curtain goes up.

VOTERS TO NAME PARTY LEADERS

Great Interest in Campaign Aroused by Last Minute Efforts of Office Seekers

MANY ASK ELECTION

Few Candidates Without Opposition for Republican Nominations in County

Friday all Oregon citizens who are interested in their own welfare as well as the welfare of the state and nation will take their pencils and mark crosses before the names of the candidates which they want to see elected to the various offices.

The ballots which they receive when they enter the polling places will be unlike those of other primary ballots voted for some time. The ballots this year contain an unusually large number of names of persons seeking office and the voter will find a wide choice for his selection.

Persons registered as a Republican will receive the Republican ballot and the non-partisan judicial ballot. Democrats will receive the Democratic ballot and the judicial ballot.

Both Democratic and Republican voters will find lists of candidates for delegates to the national convention at the top of the left-hand column of their ballots. In addition the Republican ballot will carry the name of Joseph Irwin France of Maryland as a candidate for President, while the Democratic ballots will have the names of both Franklin D. Roosevelt and William H. Murray on them.

Voters attention is directed to the fact that the position of the various candidates names will not be the same on each ballot. One candidate may find his name at the top of the column on one ballot and again at the bottom on another. This rotating of positions is made in printing the ballots so that any one candidate will not have a preferred position and draw the votes of many who mark crosses after the first name under each office regardless of who the candidate may be.

Republican Candidates

The offices to be filled and the candidates for each on the Republican ballot are as follows:

United States Senator: Alfred E. Clark, Robert G. Duncan, Kenneth G. Harlan, Robert N. Stanfield, and Frederick Stelwer.

Secretary of State: Hal E. Hoos, George A. Palmiter.
