It calls for a payment of $1360.92 a year as now in operation, or about half what has been required in former years. If further lights are added the city will be required to pay as follows: $4 per month for 400 candle-power, $3.33 per month for 250 candle power, $1.83 for 100 candle power, $1.71 for 80 candle power, $1.50 for 60 candle power and $1.25 for 32 candle power.

POSTMASTER OUTLINES NEW POSTAGE CHANGES

Effect of Government Revenue Bill on Mail Is Explained Here by F. B. Hamlin

Changes to be effected in postage rates for various classes of mail on and after July 6, when the new finance bill passed by congress takes effect, were outlined this week by F. B. Hamlin, Springfield postmaster.

Of major importance to the majority of the post office patrons will be the increasing of postage rates on first class mail from 2 to 3 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof.

Postal cards will continue to be available at the one-cent rate. Airmail postage will advance from 5 to 8 cents for the first ounce and 13 cents for each ounce or fraction over the first ounce.

Three-cent stamped envelopes will be issued by the government as fast as present stocks are used up. Postmasters are instructed to dispose of their present stock of 2 cent envelopes furnishing one cent stamps to be placed on each envelope at the same price the three cent envelopes will cost. Patrons of the postoffice who have surplus quantities of 2 cent envelopes on hand after July 6, are requested to attach one cent stamps on these envelopes and use them instead of bringing them in for redemption.

The new envelopes will carry the three cent Washington Bicentennial stamp, the current issue of the Lincoln stamp, and another Washington stamp without the Bicentennial design and dates.

The increased postage rates are to be effective until July 1, 1932, under the provisions of the new revenue law.

M'Kenzie Pass Opened Tuesday

Roadbed Not in Best Condition and Use of Tire Chains Advocated for Motorists

The McKenzie pass is open. The rotary snow plow from the East side of the Cascade mountains ate its way through the final barrier at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon and orders immediately went out from the highway maintenance office in Eugene to remove all road side signs which said the pass was closed.

Extensive traffic over the pass is not desirable immediately by the highway officials, who warn those attempting the trip to equip their automobiles with tire chains. There is a great deal of snow at the top of the mountains and this will continue to melt and be absorbed by the uncovered roadbed which will be softened and damaged if used much by heavy cars.

Opening of the pass was accomplished in about half the time estimated for the work when the announcement was made that it was to be opened. At that time it was said that two plows would start work on either side of the pass and work until they met, which would probably require two weeks. Only one plow was sent to the pass and it began its work June 6. Possibility of opening the pass on Saturday of last week failed when the rotary plow broke down.

The official opening of the pass this year lacked just one day of being one month later than it was last year when the first cars made the crossing on May 15.

POLICE DOG CLUBBED DRAGGED BY VANDALS

Criminal Act Believed Work of Group of Petty Thieves Who Operate in Vicinity

Using a large wooden club to strike a police dog unconscious when he indicated he would attack them, unknown vandals who broke into the garages at the site of the old Mill and Grain company on Mill street last night, tied a rope about the dog, and dragged it behind their automobile across the Springfield bridge to West Springfield where they abandoned it, evidently believing it dead. The dog recovered however, and made its way back to the garages where it was found in a corner this morning by H. McKee, owner, with one eye out and the hair and flesh scraped off of one side of its face and body.

Tracks spattered with blood were followed from the garages to the side road running South near Plumber's service station in West Springfield. They indicated clearly that the dog had been dragged this distance and had been left in one place alongside the road for some time before reviving and starting its painful journey back to the garages where it has been kept nightly as a means of protection against petty thieves who have been molesting property in that vicinity for some time.

Anyone who may have seen the dog or a car with a police dog behind it are asked to notify Lum Anderson, chief of police, who is seeking clues of the criminals.
