Presents Plan to Collect War Debts

John H. Perry, New York newspaper owner and publisher, with properties in states throughout the nation, presents an original plan to displace income, inheritance and nuisance tax. The plan is already receiving the serious consideration of various national and international leaders.

Mr. Perry proposes that war debt nations pay Uncle Sam what they owe with alcoholic beverages inasmuch as they have no cash. He produces figures which show how the United States would thus net four billion dollars with which to lift tax burdens; eliminate bootlegging and its evils; release hoarded money; restore respect for law; and, greatly aid in restoring international trade.

The Perry Plan

In outlining his plan Mr. Perry said:

"I have submitted this plan as an idea for the government to obtain sufficient revenue to operate its business WITHOUT ANY OF OUR PRESENT NATIONAL TAXES:

"The cost of our Federal Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, amounts to the total of approximately four and three-quarter billions of dollars, an increase of 19 percent over the preceding year. Of course, this paralyzes business and renders the re-employment of labor impossible.

"Foreign nations owe our government around fifteen to eighteen billions of dollars. They cannot pay us in cash. If they paid us in commodities, in competition with our own industries, it would paralyze our industries.

"We can collect it in the following manner: For the next five years or so these foreign nations can, and doubtless would be willing to pay us two billion dollars annually in alcoholic beverages—Great Britain with its Whiskies, Gin and Ales—France with its Champagne and Wines—Italy with its Vermouth and Wines—Germany with its Light Wines and Beers—Spain with its Sherry—Cuba with its Bacardi, etc., etc.

Net Profit and Effectiveness

The U. S. Government under a dispensary system similar to the Canadian System could sell these beverages at 2 1/2 times the purchase price, approximately five billions of dollars. The cost of transportation, insurance, haulage and distribution would probably be around 20 percent, or one billion dollars, leaving four billion dollars net revenue to the U. S. Government, which would do the following:

- 1—Eliminate the income, inheritance and 'nuisance' taxes.
- 2—It would eliminate bootlegging and the racketeering resulting therefrom.
- 3—It would bring out the hundreds of millions of dollars now held and hoarded by bootleggers and allied industries who have it in hiding for fear of government detection.
- 4—The elimination of these illegal profits would prevent further undermining of law and order in our national, state and city governments.
- 5—Greatly aid in restoring international trade.

"Such a program would last until the 18th Amendment is repealed, and with sufficient time to allow for the proper manufacture and aging of alcoholic beverages in this country. The manufacturing of our own light wines and beers need not be delayed by this program, and the state and city would be accorded the right to impose an additional tax for the purpose of lightening state and city taxes.

"Of course, this program would not apply to those States which prohibit the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages.—They would be permitted to remain in the clutches of the bootlegging industry."

John H. Perry, nationally known publisher, offers an original plan to displace income, inheritance and nuisance tax by having European debt nations pay us with alcoholic beverages—which would net Uncle Sam four billion dollars.

TWO INJURED WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schantz of Springfield were severely injured Sunday afternoon when their automobile struck loose gravel and skidded, turning over against an embankment near Sparks ranch on the McKenzie highway. Both were cut and bruised about their heads and shoulders.

Faaling motorists removed the two from their car taking them to the resort ranch where Dr. E. L. Zimmerman was summoned from the Boy Scout camp to give first aid. He sent the victims to the Pacific Christian hospital for further treatment.
