Wrestling programs went flop in Lane county this week when the announced match between George "Wildcat" Pete and Joe Parelli blew up in a dispute over division of proceeds and Mr. Parelli did a walk-out on Herb Owens, match maker, who refused to consider his demands for a guarantee greater than the gross income last week.

Good news for the fans has finally evolved from the mixed tangle however, in the form of a championship match at the fairgrounds, this by the way, is to be the last outdoor card of the season, and Pete has agreed to post his world's junior middleweight belt in a match with Cyclone Mackey of Galveston, Texas.

Mackey was on the program this week for a match with Pat Reagan. Pat has been matched with Vasili Taacoff, the Bulgarian, for the special 45 minute event.
