HOW ABOUT YOUR CHILD?

One child in every five has defective vision. In most cases these children do not know that their vision is at fault and handicapping them. They find it hard to study. They have frequent headaches. They are graded as dull. Naturally they do not get ahead as well as their parents and teachers would like to have them. So it is wise to get their eyes tested and know, not guess, their true condition.

SAYS HER HUSBAND LOST 16 POUNDS IN 4 WEEKS

"I have never found a medicine that 'peps' you up like Kruschen Salts and better still leaves you 'pepped up.' I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce, he lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks." Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 29, 1932.)

To "cut fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce weight, hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

SUMMONS

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, IN AND FOR LANE COUNTY.

Orville S. Maxwell and Iola Maxwell, his wife, Plaintiffs, vs. William Edward Warren and Eleanor Dorothy Warren, his wife, defendants.

To William Edward Warren and Eleanor Dorothy Warren, his wife, Defendants:

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON: you and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the Complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, within four weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to answer, for want thereof, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief as prayed for in Plaintiffs' Complaint, to-wit: Judgment against the defendants for the sum of $5,500.00 and interest thereon at the rate of 7% per annum from Nov. 1, 1931, and for the further sum of $59.98 and interest thereon at the rate of 7% per annum from Nov. 5, 1932, and for the further sum of a reasonable Attorneys fee and for the costs and disbursements of this suit; also for the foreclosure of the mortgage executed to plaintiffs by said defendants upon the following described premises:

Beginning at a point in the center line of County Road No. 1008 in the East line of the James McCabe D. L. C. No. 46, in Township Seventeen (17) South, Range Four (4) West of the Willamette Meridian, 1226.5 feet South of the Northeast corner of said claim and running thence South along the East line of the claim 429.5 feet, thence West 1017.2 feet, thence North 427 feet, to the center of the County Road, thence East along the center line of the County Road 1017.2 feet to the place of beginning, containing ten acres, in Lane County, Oregon; and also for such other and further relief as to the Court may seem equitable, and that each of you be barred from all interest in said premises, except only the statutory right of redemption.

This summons is served upon you by publication by virtue of an order of the Hon. G. F. Skipworth, Circuit Judge, dated and filed March 28, 1933, directing that this summons be served upon you by publication in The Springfield News, once each week for a period of four weeks. The date of first publication is March 30, 1933.

This Week in WASHINGTON BY RADFORD MOBLEY

Washington, D. C., April 13—The situation here simmers down to a complete national housecleaning. New brooms proverbially sweep clean, and the Roosevelt broom has hardly begun to show signs of wear. Congress doesn't like the assumption of such complete leadership by the president, but the president has the public behind him and congress hasn't. So it is a safe bet that Mr. Roosevelt will get the rest of his major program through congress, although not without a good deal of muttering and grumbling. He holds the whip-hand and nothing scares the average congressman so much as the thought that the president can go right over his head by means of newspapers and radio, and tell his constituents that he isn't doing his duty.

Moves for Farm Relief

Farm relief, for example: The senate doesn't want to pass the president's bill, and doubtless will succeed in inserting some unimportant changes. But it will be passed, because senators don't want to risk the president going "on the air" and telling people that they were willing enough to help bankers but unwilling to help farmers!

Meantime, practical steps toward what Secretary Wallace calls "abolishing anarchy in agriculture" have been taken by the president's order abolishing the farm board and combining its work with the Federal Farm Loan Board, the Federal Land Banks, the Joint Stock Land Banks, the Intermediate Credit Banks, the Agricultural Credit Corporations set up by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Crop Production Loan Bureau and agricultural association loan bureau. All of those functions will be performed by the new board with Henry Morgenthau, Jr., at its head. Mr. Morgenthau will pull one of the strongest oars in the whole government. He and Secretary Wallace will share complete control so far as government can control such things, over what farmers may plant, how they market their product, how much they may get for it and how much they can borrow for their farm operations, as well as what they can borrow on farm mortgages.

Unemployment Relief Next

The first stage of President Roosevelt's unemployment relief plan, the enlistment of 250,000 men under military discipline for forestry work, seems likely enough to be put into operation speedily. It will use money which had been appropriated but not spent for other kinds of public works. The next stage, it is expected will be an appropriation of something like five hundred million dollars for appointment among the states for direct relief. The administration conceives it to be the government's first duty to see to it that nobody starves, while waiting for the wheels of industry to begin to turn again.

Money for this and probably for other purposes will be raised by a new government bond issue of perhaps three million dollars. Long-term bonds bearing a low rate of interest may be offered in small units, as low as $20, and it is expected that there will be little difficulty in disposing of them. The interest will be a charge on the annual budget but not so heavy as to offset economies already beginning to be put into effect.

Funds from this or some other source, possibly through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, are expected to be used to shoulder some of the farm mortgage burden, but not to lift it all from the shoulders of the insurance companies and other large mortgagees.

Business and Railroads

One use to which government funds may be put is the stimulation of business by means of some method of either making loans for extension purposes or guaranteeing business enterprises against loss if they will undertake to resume operations at full pressure under conditions laid down by the government. This is one of the plans not yet fully worked out, but generally talked about among President Roosevelt's intimates.

Early action by the administration for the relief of the railroad situation seems imminent. It is said here that some of the delay is due to negotiations under way between the new Secretary of Labor, Miss Perkins, and the railway brotherhoods, looking toward a reduction of railroad wage scales as a necessary part of any wide-spread reorganization calculated to put the roads on an earning basis.

The railroad plans contemplate a single managing head, similar to the position of Director of Railways during the war. This man will be the supreme boss of the railroads, with the Interstate Commerce Commission acting in an advisory capacity.

Still on Banking Problem

The banking situation considered as a whole is regarded here as in good shape, but with much yet to be done to insure stability. Some few banks which were not in perfect condition have been allowed to open, due to exigencies of state politics. There is going to be some sort of strong government super-

EDIBLE WILD PLANTS NOW READY FOR HOUSEWIVES

Freezing out of many winter gardens has made it necessary for the general public to buy vegetables from the market or go without. Oregon is blessed, however, with an abundance of wild plants which may be eaten as greens or in salad and which are as palatable and rich in vitamins as any of the domestic plants.

Descriptions, drawings and suggestions for preparation of these plants have been prepared by Dr. Helen M. Gilkey, associate professor of botany at Oregon State college. This mimeographed sheet will be sent free upon request from the college.

Dandelion and common mustard leaves are among those which may be gathered for greens in April while they are still tender, according to Dr. Gilkey. Dandelion leaves are boiled in two waters to remove the bitter taste. Indian and Chinese lettuce, curly dock and pig-weed may be used for greens in April and May. Indian or miner's lettuce grows in moist shady places with small white or pinkish flowers and upper leaves which are circular around the stem. Chinese lettuce or false dandelion resembles the dandelion but the flower stems are branching and the leaves somewhat hairy. Curly dock is a roadside weed, often found around deserted buildings, which has small greenish flowers in long clusters and narrow, crinkled leaves. Pig-weed or lamb's quarters has small, inconspicuous flowers and the entire plant is somewhat white and scaly. Greens are washed thoroughly to remove all grit, and cooked for a short time in a very small amount of water. In most cases, the water left clinging to the leaves after washing is sufficient. Greens may be pleasing.
