SEED CROPS VITAL IN FARM ADJUSTMENT

Probable Demand for Crested Wheat Grass Seed May Open Large National Market

A prospective demand for milions of pounds of crested wheat grass seed, which can be raised in eastern Oregon, to be used on land taken out of wheat production through operation of the new tederal agricultural adjustment act, is foreseen by E. R. Jackman, extension agronomist at Oregon State college. For western Oregon Jackman foresees an almost equally stimu lated demand for the seed cropy grown there, such as the clovers, vetches and various other grass seeds.

"If the rdministration decides to Dr Harold Willis Dodds, 43, is the try to effect a reduction of 20 per sity He was born at Utica, Pa.
