

LION PARTY SEES SOLDIERS' HOME

Convention Visitors Surprised at Magnitude and Beauty of Veterans Property

The new Soldiers' Home at Roseburg may be opened shortly after the first of July for public inspection, or it may not be opened for many months, was the statement of Colonel Tandy, commandant in charge of the project, to a party of Springfield Lion club members which he escorted about the main buildings Friday afternoon.

Four members of the Springfield club, W. F. Walker, John D. Pyle, I. M. Peterson and Thelmer J. Nelson, and one other Lion member from Tigard comprised the inspecting party. These men were the only visitors at the Roseburg Lions gathering to be shown through the interior of the buildings.

This visit to the new project had been scheduled as a regular part of the afternoon program, but the Springfield delegation were delayed in starting for the grounds and discovered that the main body of the visitors had not stopped at the Soldiers' Home merely driving on to the golf tournament at the County Club.

Tall, straight, and with a sparkle of steel in his eyes despite the white hair on his head, Colonel Tandy, a New Englander, who is, himself, a veteran of both the Spanish-American and World wars, patiently explained every detail of the million and a quarter dollar expenditure to his visitors.

Lobby is Beautiful!

One of the most beautiful sights seen for a long time greeted the party immediately as they stepped into the lobby of the administration building. This, with its high ceiling embracing a multitude of small archways and tall white pillars, flanked on all sides by massive carved walnut doors with heavy solid brass hardware, is easily the most beautiful place in all the buildings.

Considerable time and much attentive listening was spent as the commandant took his visitors into room after room filled with all of the most modern hospitalization equipment and surgical machinery, and finally dropping slowly down from the fifth floor in heavy smooth elevators into the kitchen and food storage unit where long rows of massive cold storage boxes and batteries of electric stoves and ovens greeted the visitors. Everything in the kitchen is operated and heated by electricity.

Buy Water, Lights

Water and electricity for the buildings are purchased from local sources.

Included in the first unit of the project which is practically completed now are the administration buildings, the domiciliary unit, the nurses home equipped to accommodate 65 nurses, the commandant's home, two double houses for staff doctors, a boiler plant, laundry, and other lesser buildings.

A beautiful $45,000 steel bridge now spans the river between the old and new homes, but failure of congress to appropriate money for this purpose prevents the building of the necessary approaches making the bridge usable.

No Dedication Planned

The old soldiers' home, which is a collection of white wooden buildings in contrast to the new modern ones of red brick and midwest limestone with red slate roofs, is still being used as quarters for the veterans. The property, which originally was a state home, has been turned over to the Veterans Administration by the state of Oregon.

There will be no public dedication of the home Colonel Tandy assured his visitors. When orders are received to open the home I would like to have a very brief flag raising ceremony before the main building and let the people of Oregon spend the balance of their time viewing the buildings and their contents, he stated.

Credit Plan For Farmers Starts

Organize Under 5 Divisions of Administration in Federal Reserve Districts

Provision for farm production credit through regional production credit banks and local production credit associations is the outstanding feature of a new law which has passed congress, says the Oregon Agricultural Extension service in a review of the agricultural situation just released. The circular also gives an analysis of other farm credit and adjustment developments, and the current trend of demand, prices and costs of farm products.

The plan is to have five divisions of the new farm credit administration, each with a commissioner in charge under the governor and the deputy governors. Each division will handle one class of loans. The production credit commissioner will be in charge of twelve production credit banks, one in each Federal Reserve Bank district.

Provides Supervision

"The land bank commissioner will supervise the twelve federal land banks," the circular states. "The intermediate credit commissioner will supervise the twelve intermediate credit banks. The Co-operative Bank Commissioner will administer the Central Bank for Cooperatives and twelve regional Co-operative Banks. And the Emergency Credit Commissioner will supervise the regional Agricultural Credit Corporations."

Local production credit associations may be formed by ten or more farmers, and a part of the capital of local associations may be subscribed by the regional production credit bank.

Oregon Prices Up 40 Percent

According to the circular the trend of farm prices flattened out somewhat during the past four weeks, compared with the grand advance during the preceding month. As things stood at mid-June, the general level of farm prices is around 10 per cent higher than a year previous for the whole country, and around 40 per cent higher for the average in Oregon. High hop prices contributed materially to the upswing of the Oregon general farm price index.

Wool prices staged a remarkable comeback and now head the list in degree of pre-war parity "parity" with an index of 99. Wheat advanced sharply, but is still far below "parity" with the May wheat price index at 67 per cent of pre-war. The general level of farm prices at 62 is still a long way from "parity" as contemplated under the farm act. Even without any advance in prices for things farmers buy, most farm products would have to go up around 50 per cent to reach parity. Prospects for further improvement are reasonably good, says the report, but much depends upon national and international economic programs and developments.

COUNTY MARKET ROAD WARRANTS ARE CASHED

Holders of county market road warrants and special warrants are having them cashed by the county this week, these funds being nearly up to date. Market road warrants are being paid up to June 1 and special warrants up to June 19, according to Grace Schiska, county treasurer.

As yet county general fund warrants have not been cashed up to January 1.

Two Extremes in Improving the Breeds

Its meat is tasty and the hide and coat superior to the domestic. It is said.

GRANGE SETS UP WORK PROGRAM

State Banking System to Be Sought in 1934. To Enter Political Investigation

Unanimous disapproval of the proposed sales tax now being referred to the voters of Oregon and support for Ray W. Gill, state grange master, in his opposition campaign was voiced last week at the annual Grange meeting in Pendleton.

The creation of a state banking system will be sought by means of an initiative measure to be placed on the ballot in 1934. A committee has been named to draft the measure.

A firm and careful scrutiny of records of legislators seeking re-election will be undertaken by the Grange. They will make a careful examination of the candidates activities and voting at the earlier sessions and will publish such a report.

Members of the Grange asked that the postal savings banks be opened as general depositories. Efforts to provide for compulsory testing of dairy cattle for contagious abortion were defeated.

CALL FOR WARRANTS

Notice is hereby given that School District No. 19, in Lane county, Oregon, will pay at the office of clerk of said district, all warrants to and including 2643, dated January 13, 1933. Interest ceases after June 24, 1933. C. F. BARBER, Clerk.

Veterans' Act To Be Explained

Red Cross Plans Series of Five Institutes for Workers in Pacific Northwest

Fifth of a series of Home Service Institutes for Red Cross workers at which time the new federal regulations governing veterans' pensions and claims will be explained will be held in Eugene on June 30 and July 1. It was announced this week by R. E. Arne, director of war service, who will attend all five of the gatherings. Miss Alida Bigelow, assistant instructor, and Miss Mary Annin, executive secretary of the Lane County Chapter will assist Mr. Arne.

All home service workers are invited to attend the meetings at any of the designated places. The first will be held at Odgen, Utah, June 21-22. The second will be held at Pocatello, Idaho and two more in Washington cities immediately thereafter.

Under the new law, effective July 1, veterans have only one opportunity to appeal. Therefore, says Manager Schafer, it is essential that Red Cross workers who handle approximately 400,000 cases a year for veterans and their families, should be thoroughly posted on all changes in the law.

Miss Rowena Nisson, Red Cross representative for this district, left Sunday for Hicks Lake, Washington to attend a Red Cross Life Saving and First Aid institute.

Cherries Need Fruit Fly Spray

Three Sprays Needed; Anticipate Residue Problem If Instructions Are Unheeded

First spray application for the cherry fruit fly in sections of the state where this pest is a problem is expected to be due about the middle to latter part of the week of June 19 to 24, according to observation of specialists at the Oregon Experiment station. This first spray is timed according to time of emergence of the flies, which is usually about the time Royal Ann cherries attain good color.

This is one pest where the poison spray is directed toward the adults, because the flies have a handy habit of spending considerable time flitting about the trees sampling any drops of moisture they find. The idea is to have some sweetened poison "moisture" ready for them during this period.

Formula is Given

The spray used is made of lead arsenate one-half pound, molasses 2 quarts, and enough water to make 10 gallons. Trees are never drenched with this spray, the idea being merely to sprinkle the foliage enough to have plenty of the droplets on the top side of the leaves for all flies. Excellent results have been had by spraying with any sort of a rig which will do that.

Three sprays are usually needed to give complete control. The first is given, as mentioned, when the flies first emerge. The second follows in seven days, and the third a week later. In case of a heavy rain in between, the spray is repeated.

Use Spray Sparingly

This is one of the most economical sprays to apply, as only a pint to a quart is needed per tree, says S. C. Jones, entomologist at the Oregon station. To use more is not only unnecessary, but may prove harmful by causing a spray residue problem.

"Since careful control work was started by the experiment station at the request of the industry several years ago, excellent control of this pest has been obtained everywhere that full directions as to timing and method application have been followed.

CHURCHES UNITE IN PROHI DRAMA

Public Invited to Attend Presentation at M. E. Church Next Monday Evening

Churches of Springfield will unite their efforts Monday evening in the presentation of "The Aftermath." This is a religious, temperance drama-debate dealing with present conditions and played by Hall and Summers, two leading characters. It will be given at the Methodist church starting at 8 o'clock. A number of local people will assist in the presentation.

The two leading characters, Tom O'Neil, in the liquor business, and Judge Wood, judge of the superior court, are seated in the judge's chamber discussing accident cases reported in the morning newspaper at the start of the show.

Newspaper critics in various parts of the United States have praised the work of these two men in presenting the arguments of the anti-liquor forces.

There will be no admission charge, but an offering will be taken during the evening.

Upper Willamette

At the annual school meeting of the Pleasant Hill public school Mr. Hammond was elected director for 3 years to take the place of Sam Baughman and Mrs. E. Giustina was elected clerk.

A large crowd attended the Pleasant Hill picnic which was held at the picnic grove last Saturday after having been postponed twice because of rain. A good program was given in the morning and sports and two ball games held in the afternoon. The game between the high school and alumni teams was very interesting and close. After a two inning overplay the high school team won.
