OREGON TO VOTE ON LIQUOR FRIDAY

Ballot Contains Nine Measures and Names of Two Delegations to Convention

BOARD MEMBERS GIVEN

Every Ballot Must Be Marked in Three Places to Cast Complete Wet or Dry Vote

Just one more day and the people of Oregon will again go to the polls to express their opinions on the question of prohibition and a number of other measures which always find their way onto the ballot at any election in Oregon.

To vote the ballot on the prohibition question, which will be the major matter of interest to many, it will be necessary to vote three places on the ballot. First, at the top of the ballot the voter will find names of candidates to the state convention to consider ratification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution. If he is dry he must mark an X before the names of the following: Robert T. Burnett, Truman A. Chase, S. J. Hansen, Mrs. Louisa F. Kellems, E. E. McLendon, and Jacob H. Miller. To vote wet he must place the X before the following names: Victor Chambers, Hugh H. Earle, Mrs. Dorothy Hesse, Van N. Kemery, Geo. C. Stanley and Welby Stevens.

Then, next comes the amendment to the federal constitution, itself. To vote wet the X must be placed before the word yes, I vote for the amendment, and to cast a dry vote the X must be placed before the no.

Finally comes the question of repealing or retaining the state prohibition amendment listed on the ballot as 314 and 315. An X after 314 is a wet vote, and after 315 is a dry vote. The state enforcing laws have been wiped out at the previous election leaving the amendment without any legal means of enforcing it or punishing violators.

Sales, Olee Taxes Up
Next in importance on the ballot will be the sales tax bill near the bottom of the ballot. This has been discussed repeatedly and has strong critics as well as supporters.

Another measure arousing considerable antagonism in some quarters is the oleomargarine tax bill, the last on the ballot.

Other measures which will be found on the ballot includes a "Soldiers and Sailors Bonus Amendment" eliminating the payment of cash bonuses; "County Manager form of Government," "Proaeraction by Information and Grand Jury Modification," "Debt and Tax Limitation Control for Municipal Corporations" requiring two-thirds majority to issue bonds except refunding bonds; and "State Power Fund Bonds" providing for the issuance and sale of power bonds in the sum of $103,779.45.

Counting Boards Named
Polls will be open from eight to eight and two boards will be on duty at each precinct. In Springfield the counting boards for precincts one and two will start work at 4 p. m. and those for precincts 3 and 4 will start at 3 p. m.

Election and counting boards for the Springfield precincts will be as follows:

Precinct 1, High school—Election: Cora M. Hinson, Elsie C. Stewart, Olive M. Nice, Gertrude R. Wilson, Nellie G. Carr. Counting: Maxwell A. Pohl, Malinda Hawke, George A. Cox, Kate Brumette, Mabel Tyson.
