THE WILLAMETTE PRESS

H. E. MAXEY, Editor Entered as second class matter, February 24, 1903, at the postoffice, Springfield, Oregon

MAIL SUBSCRIPTION RATE Six Months One Year in Advance $1.50 Two Years in Advance . $2.50 Three Months

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1934

The situation in Washington, in which the Congress of the United States has abandoned its Constitutional functions and seems to be content to leave direction of the Nation's affairs, legislative as well as executive, in the hands of the president, it not without parallel in our political

THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS

Three times before has Congress abdicated, in effect. Andrew Jackson was the first to take its powers away from it, which he did with threat and violence rather than by Persuasion or consent. In the war between the states Congress was, as now substantially all of one political party. and President Lincoln had his own way, as far as war measures were concerned. And in the Great War Congress, like the rest of the United States, was content to leave leadership to President Wilson.

President Roosevelt, however, is the first to propose, in so many words, that Congress leave everything to him. In his message, delivered at the opening of the session, he said to Congress, in effect, that while the letter of the Constitution provides for a division of powers, as between the legislative, the executive and the judicial branches of government, "the impulse of a common purpose declares a union." And not a single voice, able to make itself heard, protested.

The president may be right. It may be that the people of the United States, represented in Congress, are unanimously with him. It is our understanding however, that a member of Congress represents everybody in his district, not those of his own party alone. How many of them, we wonder, have gone to the pains to find out whether their constituents agree that they should shoulder their rights? Not many, we fear.

We wonder whether Congress is getting ready to abdicate.

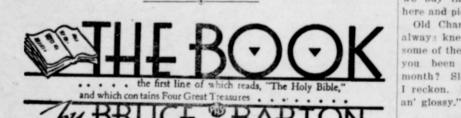

Presidents without pay have been created for the University and State college. That's an idea for the railroads, power companies, etc. The board of higher education must have taken its cue from Commissioner Thomas, Sam Brown, state senator from Marion county, has announced his intentions of running for governor. History records another Brown who started something that ended disastrously.

Eugene is now after a federal insane asylum says a news report. We have always wondered just which way our county seat town was headed.

Well if we get three miles of our short road to the coast that is more than Portland has gotten on two short roads to the coast.

Nobody on the relief rolls will be issued a liquor permit says the Know law. That's going to cut down the business of the state's stores materially.

FORTY YEARS IN WILDERNESS

The distance from Egypt to the Promised Land is no longer than the trip from New York to Buffalo. Moses might easily have led his people over the route in a few weeks, instead of which the wanderings occupied forty years. Guided by divine wisdom, he saw the necessity for a long period of isolated discipline. They were slaves when he started with them; they were an organized self-governing nation when, at length, he climbed to the pinnacle of Mount Pisgah and looked across into the Promised Land, which he was permitted to see but not to enter.

So Moses, the servant of the Lord, died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord. And he (the Lord) buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor; but no man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day.

How well he had done his work was immediately apparent. Joshua, whom he had chosen to succeed him, took hold without a hitch and completed the journey into Canaan. He, too, was a man of vision. As a young man, he had been sent by Moses with eleven others to spy out the Promised Land. Ten of the twelve came back with a faint-

It is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people we saw in it are men of a great stature.

And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants; and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

Thus you can always get a majority vote to do nothing to take no chances. But there was a minority report. Joshua and Caleb, without minimizing the difficulties, protested stoutly that the land was fertile and worth fighting for. They brought back samples of fruit to prove their contention, but it was a long time before the people had the cour-

Joshua was a soldier and was much needed for the work which Moses had left to be done. He led his people across the Jordan, engineered the successful attack upon Jericho, the walled city of the unfortunate people who happened to be in possession of the Promised Land, and conducted a triumphal campaign which was about as savage as any war could be. Finally, his work completed, he called his people together for a farewell address of great dignity and power "Behold, this day I am going the way of all the earth," he told them; and with that he laid aside his arms and died. Comes now a picturesque succession of leaders, called Judges, with whom we can tarry only a moment in this rapid survey. There was a woman, Deborah, among them, whose stirring battle-hymn is one of the first recorded peoms. There was a keen fighter named Gideon, a shrewd strategist, who equipped his slender force of 300 men with chariot lights and trumpets and attacked at night.

THE SPRINGFIELD NEWS Whispering Rock By JOHN LEBAR

Arizona by her only brother who is reported to have met his death while on business in Mexico. rivinge in Arizona with her husband who has ailing lungs, and their small child, they learn that the ranch is located 85 miles from the nearest railroad. Old Charley Thane, rancher and rural mail car rier agrees to take them to the "Dead Lantern" gate, 5 miles from the ranch house. As they trudge wearily through a gulch approaching the ranch house, a voice whissuspiciously by the gaunt rancher partner, Snavely, and Indian Ann, herculean woman of mixed negro and Indian blood. Snavely is diffi- of the value of her note. cult to understand but regardless Ruth takes up the task of trying to and passes away before a doctor arrives. Ruth tries to carry on. She improve it. She writes to her father in the East asking a loan with which to buy cattle. She re-ceives no reply. Will Thane comes . and by decides to retire and offers to sell Ruth and Snavely his livestock Snavely tries to balk deal but Ruth buys to the limit of her three-quarter interest in Dead Lantern ranch. She is assisthas been hired to assist with the work. A peculiar sickness develops with the livestock. Snavely calls it "liver fever" . . . and says he has a powder for the water to cure the disease. Ruth's whole future is at stake on the development of the herd to meet her notes following the first round-up.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY-

"Oh, I'm so sorry," whined the voice, "but I jest can't open it."

"Well, why can't you open ityer arm broke?"

"I'm taking a bath," said the voice sweetly.

This was too much. Old Charley planted the sole of his boot against the door with all the force in his body. The door flew inward and Will Thane steped to the threshold. "Come right in, Dad-I knew you'd call some day."

Old Charley sat down slowly on the box, utterly heedless of the wash-basin. After a time he murmured mournfully, "If you was only ten years old again for about half an hour!

Later, after he had eaten Will's mollified. "Will, you ornery pup, day I've seen! And you've already been here a month. You son-of-agun-provin' up on your homestear. And you're all through with real

"Plumb through, Dad. Turned everything I had into cash a month ago. Cash'll come in handy when we buy that section south of us always knew you'd be comin' back you been doing here the last month? Sleeping most of the day, I reckon. I never saw you so fat

INSTALLMENT SEVENTEEN

Ruth slowly awoke and saw that it was still dark. She wondered idly why Ann was moving about in the kitchen so late, and was luxuriously slipping back to sleep when she heard the thump of boots, as Snave-

East, is willed three-fourth interest anxiety which had lifted during her kicked of their chaps, and building finger : 64, 32, 15, 44! Twice she in the "Dead Lantern" ranch in sleep settled back upon her. The a fire, laid on the branding irons; added the column before she was cattle?

In the two months since she had accidentally placed poison in the spring troughs no new harm had come to the cattle-but, were they and advanced into the center of pounding decfa: "I've won! I've enough to meet her note? Her desire to find the answer to this ques | riata. tion increased with each day, but she could not estimate the number of salable animals scattered over in place many of the cattle decided and coyotes, Ruth put on a gown Go back!" At the ranch she could not give an in- to break away. Every ten seconds, she had not worn for more than a the ranch house they are greeted telligent guess about weights and it seemed to Ruth, some animal on year, and did her hair three times. that she had lost more than a tenth ker was to do the ranch any good.

adjust their three lives to the ranch and its development. Ken only the poorest of the cattle could the cow business. He enjoyed run-Ruth's husband, caught in be sold—only the steers and the old ning after the animals that broke chilling rain contracts pneumonia cows. The rest of the stock and from the herd- Ruth rather susthe fine bulls must remain for the pected him of egging them on. is not encouraged by Snavely in improvement of the ranch. Ruth plans to try and stock the ranch or could not see much advantage in for half an hour-rather like the selling all the cattle to keep the fastest moments of a fast poli man Witherspoon from foreclosing on the note-what good was there home to visit his father . . . and in three-quarters interest in a car-Ruth meets him. A rancher near tle ranch with to cattle—or, in a in three-quarters' interest in a cat ranch which only brought in fifteen holding pasture, a small enclosure by way of the back porch. Snavely hundred dollars a year?

She left David sleeping and went Snavely breakfasted silently by ed by Old Charley Thane and his son, Will Thane, A Mexican family lamp-light, then went to the corgrown steers, and a fourth, cows. rals

> It was just light enough at the from another. The six Mexican cowboys were waiting by the gate, each with a cigarette in his mouth and Snavely. a rope or bridle over his arm Snavely indicated to each of the men the horse he was to ride for the day. The Mexican entered the steers in that bunch?" corral, caught his mount, and led it to the saddle shed.

Ruth. Snavely and the Mexicans rode into the north pasture. About thre miles from the ranch house Snavely gave each man his orders, then rode away to the west. To Ruth he had said nothing, nor could understand much of what Snavely had told the Mexicans. She stayed where she was, on a hilltop. The men, she supposed, would ride west and distribute themselves along the line fence as it wound cattle before them.

the cattle coming. Two miles to dle shed, Ruth had learned that supper, the old man was somewhat the north an ant-like string moved Don Francisco considered the catdanged if this ain't the happiest a ravine. A moment later, and plentiful. He also succeeded in conmuch pearer, she saw a small veying to her the results of the bunch of animals emerge from the count. underbrush followed by a man on That evening Ruth studied these children. On Saturday we will cook horseback- Snavely, she thought. figures in connection with others a cow." on three cows, each with a calf, decided as ever. The round-up here and pick up some more stock," and drove them before her. Just would take four days and if on Old Charley nodded happily. "I where she was driving them she each of these days the count ran had no very clear idea, but she as high as on the first, and if on me of these days. But what have could see that the other riders were one of those days about one hundconverging toward a common point red extra animals should appear, and governed herself accordingly. Ruth knew that she could meet her This point proved to be a level note. Provided, of course, that Old piece of ground about half a mile Charley had guessed shrewdly from the eastern end of the about the prices the cattle buyers pasture.

The nine small streams of cattle merged, flowed on, and were thrown into an eddying pool by the circling riders. Two of the men left at once, loping to a ravine where branding begun, she left the herd mesquite was plentiful. When they ly came from his room and walked returned dragging firewood at the across the house to the kitchen, end of their riatas, the cattle were Suddenly Ruth knew that it was in a close-packed bunch, and the remorning-the long-awaited morning maining riders sat their horses at when the round-up was to begin intervals around the circle. Snav- and pulling on her saddle strings

WELL THERE'S MY

UNCLE ROBERT, WITH

THE FUNNY WHISKERS,

MI BIRAM THUA' YM OHA

WASH BOWL ;

I'LL TRADE YOU THEM

THE LILLIAM RUSSELL

THE DELLA FOX,

THROW IN FATHER WITH THE

FOR THE

RIDER

GIVE YOU YOUR PICK

BAREBACK

SIDEBURNS

Ruth Warren, who lived in the riding clothes, the great weight of of the extra Mexicans dismounted, in her note book with trembling round-up-would there be enough Ruth and three Mexicans keeping sure that the total was 151. Then the herd together, meanwhile.

the milling cattle, swinging his won! I've von!"

only three riders to keep the herd chickens secure against skunks quality and price. She only knew her side of the herd would bolt. She had abandoned old Brisket for such active riding in favor of Boots, tiful, Mama?" Then, too, if her deal with Par- a springy young horse with an alert mind and a thorough knowledge of quite know, herself; but she was

Such riding is exhilarating sport game, but in three hours it can be and Alfredo's playing music. Shall

When all the calves had been of one thousand acres. As the cat. was in the sitting room. tle passed through the gate the into the dining room. She and counting began; one man counted

The count was over and the riders were returning to the home corrals to distinguish one horse ranch when Ruth rode up beside Snavely. "Well, how does it look?" "How does what look?" replied Francisco was first.

> "I mean-do you think we're going to have enough? Weren't there a good many calves and young

> "Can't tell nothin' yet," said Snavely gruffly. "I don't know if you're goin' to have enough or not. As a guess I'd say, you ain't.' "I have it all figured out just

"You figgered, I reckon, that a quarter of the sale don't apply to that fool note, didn't you?"

how many we-"

Ruth drew herself straight in the saddle. "Certainly, Mr. Snavely!"

She reined in her horse and dropped back between Alfredo and old Don Francisco. The Mexicans pullthrough the mountains. They would ed their horses aside to make room then all start eastward driving the and with many smiles and chuckles began talking to her. They loved She waited two hours on that to hear her broken Spanish. By the appeals to Magda for the right word hilltop before she saw the first of time the company reached the sadover a ridge and disappeared into tle large and fat and the calves

By the time the first two bunches she had gathered in her conversawere opposite her, three more were tion with Old Charley and her in sight and she turned her own studies of the cattle raisers' magahorse eastward. She soon came up- zine. But she went to sleep as unwould be paying

Ruth never knew how she got through the fourth and last day of the round-up. Twice, after the cattle had been gathered and the and rode into the foothills. But neither time did she see a single overlooked cow or calf.

She stood biting her lower lip

By DWIG

ED.

WASH BOWL

I DON'T THINK YOUR

UNCLE'S SO FUNNY

EVEN TRADE,

as the counting began. There sim ply must be more than one hund red and twenty head, she kept telling herself-there just had to be! As the last of her cattle passed through the gate, the counters drew together and Kuth rode up. She listened as each man gave his count As she rose and struggled into her ely, Alfredo, Don Francisco and one to Snavely and wrote the figures with a slap she whirled her horse When the irons were hot Snavely and galloped toward the ranch motioned to the grizzled old Juan, house. Her cheeks were wet and who left Ruth's side of the herd she sang a throaty chant to the

> That evening after supper while Ruth had her hands full. With David and Ann were making the

When David came in he asked Why are you dressed up so beau

"Oh, just because. Ruth did not "I think we ought to celebrate once in awhile, don't you, David?"

"Like a party?" "Rather, yes."

"Mama! Let's go down to the barn-they've got a nice fire there we? Come on!

Ruth grasped the boy's arm and branded the herd was driven to the led him guiltily out of the house

The Mexicans sat around their fire, talking, laughing and singing, calves; another, yearlings; another as the mood and the ever-active strings of Alfredo's guitar persua ded them. When they saw Ruth, wonder shone from their faces then admiration and pleasure. They all sprang to their feet, but Don

Ruth smiled, went to the fire and spread her hands. "It is cold," she said in matter-of-fact Spanish, Im mediately Francisco bowed her welcome and hurried to the barn for one of his rawhide chairs. But when he returned Ruth had seated herself on the ground next to Magda. She was not going to be the only one of the group who sat on a chair, gown or no gown.

Gradually, it became apparent to the Mexicans that the Senora Ruth and her son had merely come to the fire for warmth and company Delightedly, they assured each other of this by smiles and nods Little Magda sat closer to Ruth and made her own importance felt among her companions by speaking exclusively in English, thereafter. EASY PLEASANT WAY Suddenly Ruth had an inspira tion, and with many pauses and she made a speech: "My friends We have worked and gathered many cattle. The roundup has been good. I think we will have a celebration-una fiesta grande. Some of you have friends in Palo Verdebring them and the mothers and tion?

TO BE CONTINUED

MRS. PRIVAT HOSTESS FOR PRISCILLA MEETING

Members of the Priscilla club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. G. Privat. Mrs. Ernest Black will be the assisting hostess for the semi-monthly meet-

Resident of Pleasant Hill for 22 Years Passes Saturday At Home of Daughter

George Datson King, 78, died Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joe E. James of Jasper. He had been a resident of the Pleasant Hill community for the past 22 years coming there from Grande Ronde, Oregon in 1911.

Mr. King was born in Hancock county, Tennessee on August 3, 1855. He came to Oregon in 1891 settling at Grande Ronde where he lived for 42 years before coming to Pleasant Hill. He had been a farmer all his life.

He was a member of the Church of God for the past 14 years.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. W. H. Burns, Reno, Nevada; Mrs. A. E. Gilkison of North Powder; Mrs. C. E. Hayes of Goshen; Mrs. Flora Enyder of Eugene; and Mrs. James of Jasper; and one son. R. D. King also at Jasper. His wife died several years ago. He is also survived by 29 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10:30 from the Pleasant Hill church. Rev. Harry Neat officiated, and interment was made in the Pleasant Hill cemetery. The Poole-Gray-Bartholomew chapel had charge of arrangements.

MASTER TOMMY PUTMAN HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Lee Putman entertained at her home Saturday with a birthday party for her small son, Tommy, who was six years old. Games were enjoyed and a large birthday cake was cut and served to the following guests: Yvonne and Donald Sneed. Ann and Nada Gossler, Joanne and Jackie Barber, Joan McFarland, Norman Maxey, Graydon Lewis, Annabelle Pyle, and the honor

BRATTAIN SCHOOL TO HAVE HARMONICA BAND

Plans for the organization of a harmonica band at the Brattain school have been completed. The novel band group will be directed by Mrs. Alene T. Basford, a mem ber of the teaching staff.

TO LOSE FAT

How would you like to lose 16 pounds of fat in a month and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too promi nent abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admira

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an which will last you four Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends,— "One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money." Leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts-You can always get it.

Candy -

The Suburb Gift For Your Valentine

Every girl appreciates a Valentine, of course, but when it comes in the tangible form of candy, you know they love it. . .

We have a special assortment of fancy Valentine boxes and candies for the occasion.

SCOTT'S DRUG STORE

Our Only Label

We do not put off brands under someone else's label. Every product going out of this modern plant is labeled Maid O' Cream and is guaranteed by us to be pure, fresh and wholesome.

This product uses exclusively Lane county dairy products and when you bu y from us you are helping your own community.

Ask your dealer in Eugene or Springfield for Maid O' Cream Butter

Springfield Creamery Co.

Cough Drop Time

Winter and spring months are the time for coughs and colds. Eggimann's old reliable cough drops stop the trouble and prevent throat irritation running into something serious.

Easy to take Eggimann's cough drops have long been a leader in western states. Made right here in Springfield and we guarantee them.

EGGIMANN'S

SCHOOL DAYS