The Letter Box

Pollard Makes Statement The recent school election was of more than usual interest to the community.

As chairman of the Board I desire to correct some very misleading and false statements used to influence the voters.

The first one that fell into grasping hands was to the effect that the School Board was voting presents to themselves, and what right had they to do so.

At a board meeting of June 5, Mr. E. Stuart, (member of the board) made the statement that Dr. Pollard's office had been used for a good many years for board meeting place, without cost to the district, namely lights and fuel used all this time, thus saving the expense at one of the schools.

The unscrupulous politicians used this to influence voters as I have since been informed. Second: It was overheard three times on the afternoon of the election, too late to make any public correction, that since the school board was able to secure an extra month of school for the teachers and that they received cash for the last 11 weeks of that period, that I went to them and asked them to donate the last one-half month salary to the Methodist church.

The above statement is utterly false and was concocted with the idea of injury to me, and of making votes for the opposing candidate.

I desire it to be understood that I do not think the successful director had knowledge of or any part in this low down type of Tammany politics.

W. H. POLLARD.

MILK USE IN OREGON BELOW REQUIREMENTS

Preliminary reports from the voluntary city surveys of milk consumption shows that the amount now in use is far below the minimum requirements for general health, says the consumers council of the AAA which is conducting the study among school children of the principal cities. A news release from Washington received at O. S. C. states that the Portland, Ore., committee found that consumption of milk and other dairy products is "decidedly below" even the "cheapest possible adequate diet. The analysis shows that the average consumption of milk among Portland families questioned is less than three quarts a week per person.

This is WASHINGTON BY RADFORD MOBLEY

Washington, — When President Roosevelt starts on his vacation trip in the near future, to be gone five or six weeks, he will leave in charge of things in Washington quite a different set of men from those who seemed to be—and thought they were—the Government of the United States a year ago. They will be men whom the President has discovered are to be trusted to use their own judgment without getting him or the Administration into a hole.

President and Helpers Tired

Mr. Roosevelt is tired, but he is neither ill nor "worn out," and while he needs the vacation rest, there is nothing in his physical condition to worry about. So, too, are some of the older men in the Cabinet and high administrative posts pretty well tired out. This is the hardest-working Government that has ever been seen in Washington in peace times.

Yet it is upon these older men that the President is now coming more and more to rely. Experience has proved the wisdom of the old maxim: "Old men for counsel, young men for war." A good many of the young men who were put in because they were expected to be good executives, tried to be counselors.

That there will be many more changes in addition to the changes that have occurred in the last year is not to be doubted. The President talks with some of his intimates about his desire to find new blood to carry on the greatly increased activities of Government. He wants more young men whose physical stamina will stand the strain, and more older men of wisdom to act as counselors and balance-wheels to keep the youngsters from running wild.

Roper and Walker

Among the older men who are closest to the President are Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, experienced, able and wise, and the President's closest friend, Louis McHenry Howe. Col. Howe has been ill and almost inactive for months. Secretary Roper is feeling the strain, so that his trip to the Northwest to look into the salmon fisheries tangle will be lengthened into a real vacation.

Frank C. Walker, chairman of the Federal Emergency Council and one of the elder men upon whom the President relies heavily, is laying off for all summer. He has carried a larger burden than anyone realizes. He does not get into print very often, because he has the habit of not talking about what he is doing, but his job is that of trying to get all the branches of the Government pulling in the same direction at the same time.

Not long before he went out of office Mr. Hoover spoke of the fact that Thomas Jefferson, when president, had only 150 persons in all the executive departments, but that President Hoover had 750,000, including the army and navy, for whose activities he was responsible. Now this total has reached more than 1,250,000 Federal employees, without any increase in the army and navy.

Through the Ranks

The one among the older men in high position who doesn't seem to mind the work is Jesse Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., who is termed here "a horse for work." Incidentally, Mr. Jones will not be the next chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, although Chairman Black is on the way out and his successor is said to have been picked.

Chester Davis, Administrator of the AAA, is near a breakdown and will have to lay off for his health most of the summer, it is reported. Nobody would be surprised to see General Hugh Johnson, NRA administrator, "blow up" at any minute.

There is a good deal of talk here to the effect that Secretary Wallace is not living up to expectations as an administrator. His speaking trip out West left Professor Tugwell in charge of the Department of Agriculture just at the time when Mr. Tugwell's personality was under investigation by the senate committee which had been asked to report whether he ought to be confirmed as under secretary.

Tugwell's Rating Mr. Tugwell is decidedly not popular with either house of Congress. Mr. Roosevelt still likes him very much personally but has found that his advice is not always sound.

Two young men who are growing in the estimation of the President and of those whose business it is to appraise personalities are Secretary Morgenthau—very close in deer to the President—and W. I. Myers, Farm Credit Administrator.

Fulfilled Promise

HOLLYWOOD... Joan Blondell (above), was a Wampus screen star choice in 1931. Now, three years later, she is awarded the achievement trophy by the same judges as having scored the greatest screen advancement since then.

Those, with Miss Perkins, Secretary of Labor—who, like Jesse Jones, is "a horse for work"—Dan Roper, Louis Howe and Frank Walker, are the real wheel-horses of the Administration.

SPEAKERS TALK CREAM QUALITY

Dairymen Showing Unexpected Interest in Discussions of Butter Regulation

Unusual interest in the meetings of the Cream Quality Improvement association of Lane county is reported by O. S. Fletcher, county agent who is assisting in conducting these sessions in all parts of the county. Four meetings were held last week, one each evening at Cottage Grove, Lowell, Pleasant Hill and Loran. This week starting Tuesday meetings were scheduled for Elmira, Franklin, Junction City and Irving. The meeting until July 14 when the Cushman district will be visited and a schedule covering the remainder of the county will be announced.

The purpose of the meetings is to acquaint the farmers with the various state and national regulations, explaining the present situation regarding cream and how it affects the quality of butter. Speakers and scientists show the farmers how they can produce better cream to meet the state butter grade laws, thereby increasing their income without increasing their expenditures.

These meetings are sponsored by the National Creamery association and Federal Pure Food administrators. Vice-presidents of the national association are named for each state, and county or district chairmen are named for each county or other subdivision. The Lane county chairman is Glenn Harden, manager of the Eugene Farmer's Creamery.

NEW SCHOOL OFFICERS START WORK JULY 5

The next meeting of the Springfield School Board will be held a week from tonight, Thursday, July 5. A new clerk and a new director will be sworn in at this meeting. This meeting and all later sessions of the board will be held at the Library and all interested persons are invited to attend the meetings.

BALL CLUB LOSES TO HILLS CREEK

Springfield At Benton-Lane Park Sunday; Yoncalla To Be Hills Creek Opponent

By C. E. WHEATON

Springfield's chances for capturing the second half of the Cascade baseball league went glimmering Sunday, when the Hill Billies, led by Mauney and Stenchell, put the skids under them by the score of ten to four. That the Hill Billies battery has the well known Indian sign on the locals, was quite evident to all who saw the game. Give "Bud" a few runs and he has the locals eating out of his hand.

The first inning was the start of our down fall, Brown the midget of the game, led off with a single, Grover Kelsay then drove one at Mattison, with a perfect double play in sight, our second sacker was in the land of dreams, and before Lloyd found a place to throw the ball, Brown was safe at second, and in his hurry to get the hitter at first, made a bad peg, and all hands were safe, Stenchell next up sent a sharp single and three were on, a fielders choice sent Brown home and two more hits and an error, accounted for four more, by that time Hills Creek was tired and retired for a rest.

Locals Count in Third

Springfield counted twice in the third on three hits and an error, after which both teams traveled along nicely until the fifth, Hills Creek having rested, Graham had the power turned on again, and three singles, a walk and a two bagger, sent over four more, and just to show us that it was no accident, put one more over in the ninth to make it ten. Springfield with a two bagger, a walk and an error put two home, making the final ten to four. Both teams, at times, played good ball, but the errors of our boys were more costly, and with that sterling battery of Mauney and Stenchell, working with a full head of steam, it was just too bad for Springfield.

The following box score tells the story:

Table with columns: Springfield, Mattison, Chatterton, G. Wright, D. Wright, Shull, Chetwood, Mulligan, Squires, Taylor, Hills Creek, Brown, Kelsay, Stenchell, H. Park, Lawson, Parks, Laird, Mauney, Stutz. Rows show runs, hits, errors, and scores.
