

LOGGING DROPS AS STRIKE WAGES

West Coast Log Production Cut Ordered For Third Quarter; Many Mills Idle

An order of the Pacific Northwest Loggers association, Seattle, the code agency for all log production in the West Coast Logging and Lumber division, approved July 11 by the Lumber Code authority, Washington, is announced, which calls for a reduction of 155,000,000 feet in the total log quota for the third quarter of 1934.

The reduction, the official order states, is "entirely due to the longshoremen's strike, the said strike retarding the cutting of lumber" and "to piling up log inventories which are now becoming excessive."

The program of reduction, according to the order, is intended to bring total log inventories into line with the averages of the previous three years by October 1.

Many Workers Idle

A decrease of close to 20,000 in the number of employees in the logging and lumber industry of Western Oregon and Washington is reflected in current production reports as compared to the week preceding the longshoremen's strike. The decrease in employment is due primarily to the effect of the strike but in part to a seasonal reduction in production and employment which usually occurs at this time of year. In April there were about 51,000 persons in the industry.

Fifty-eight large tidewater mills in the Douglas fir region, which during the week ending May 5 produced 42 per cent of the cut reported by a total of 594 mills, were not operating during the week ending June 30, and are still down. These mills sell more than half of their output in markets requiring water delivery. The docks of practically all these mills are loaded to capacity with lumber which is sold and awaiting shipment. Even after it becomes possible to move this lumber, resumption of production will be slowed until piling space becomes available.

CIVIL WAR PAPER TELLS OF DISLIKE FOR NORTH

An interesting copy of an early Democratic paper of the Civil War days which was published on wallpaper during the days General Grant laid siege to Vicksburg, Mississippi, was received here this week by Dr. W. N. Dow, who purchased it from a collector in the East.

The paper, the "Daily Citizen," was dated July 2, 1863. It is printed on the reverse side of wallpaper and was published by the northern troops after they had taken the city from a form left by the editors.

Interest in the paper centers about the various statements the southern writers made about local conditions, their faith in confederate victory, and their comments about food conditions. The paper is four-columns in size and had only two single column headlines. Small hands pointed to the start of a new article.

One article dealt with the stealing of food and how mule meat and cats were eaten.

WOODCRAFT NEIGHBORS SET PICNIC FOR SUNDAY

Members of Pine circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will meet at the Eugene-Springfield auto park Sunday for their annual all-day picnic. The lodge will furnish coffee, cream, sugar and ice-cream.

A program of sports and stunts is planned.

Ball Games Cancelled—The Lions club baseball game set for Monday evening was cancelled because of the inclement weather. A new date for the initial game will be set at the club meeting Friday.

Relatives Visit—Mrs. Chris Thygesen, mother of H. O. Dibblee, Mrs. Louis Rossick, a sister, and her daughter, all of Everett, Washington came down over the weekend to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Dibblee.

Work at Astoria—John Dale Adams left last week-end for Astoria where he will be employed.

U.S.S. Houston Steaming Pacific With President

Fair and Reasonable Profits

With congress out of the way until next January there can be no new legislation, and the nation can take time to sit back and evaluate what has been enacted, and find out whether it looks, on the whole beneficial or injurious to private capital and enterprise.

There seems to be a feeling that the president will not willingly use the broad powers granted to him in any injurious way, that he is essentially conservative. In his recent statement expounding his plans for the future he took pains to lay stress on the statement that there is to be no interference with fair and reasonable profits.

The administration's friends believe that as things quiet down during the summer, business men will begin to realize that a good many of the things that have frightened them are bogies, without real power to do them harm. Also, it looks as though the whole administration program has now been disclosed.

BRAIN . . . doesn't wear out
The human brain doesn't wear out. It grows with use. Not long before his death I asked Thomas A. Edison how he kept his youthful outlook. He had been talking, at 82, of things he was going to do next.

"You can keep your brain young by working it hard," he replied. "It grows in power with use. The only thing that grows old about a man is his body. If my stomach holds out I'll be inventing new things and better things at 100."

McDONALD BRINGS FILM FEATURING KAY FRANCIS

"Doctor Monica" coming to the McDonald theatre in Eugene Sunday for four days, is one of the most fascinating triangular love dramas ever screened, in which the wife and the "other woman" both attempt to sacrifice themselves to give the other a chance for happiness.

It is enacted by an all star cast headed by Kay Francis in the title role and including Warren William, Jean Muir and Verree Teasdale.

Miss Francis, as the beautiful Doctor Monica, is very much in love with her author husband, John, a part played by Warren William, and is unaware that he is having a clandestine affair with Mary, one of her girl friends of her own social set, a part portrayed by the gorgeous ravishing Jean Muir.

The husband and the girl have established a love nest, but after the first flush of passion the consciences of both begin to bother them. They finally decide to end the romance, the husband going to Europe, where he discovers his love for the girl was merely a passing emotion and that he really is in love with his wife.

Still hopelessly in love, Mary becomes reckless and at a weekend party narrowly escapes serious injury when, riding like the wind, she tried to jump her horse over a high fence and sustains a bad fall.

Doctor Monica who is also present at the party, attends her. Although called "Doctor Monica" it is not in any sense of the word a hospital or medical picture. Rather it is the amazingly colorful drama and romance in which the central character happens to be a doctor.

JOHNSON DENIES NRA FAVORS LABOR GROUP

"The duty of NRA is to see that men are represented by their own freely chosen representatives. The administration will not favor any particular form of organization—neither the American Federation nor any other."

This statement was made in Portland Monday morning by General Hugh S. Johnson, in speaking to representatives of the Four-L association and to quiet many rumors that the NRA body was favoring the one labor organization as against another.

McKenzie Valley

Some of the announcements of general interest the past and coming week were: Walthamville Ladies' club day last Thursday when Mrs. E. I. Reynolds entertained the Mt. Vernon Thimble club all day. The Workers' society met with Mrs. A. A. Campbell. The Ladies' Aid met all day at the church. The Camp Creek Needle club met with Mrs. William Strunk.

Rev. E. L. Winterberger preached at Walthamville Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Winterberger were week-end guests at the Frank Page home. Mr. Winterberger is a former pastor, now stationed at Anchorage.

The sectional rally of the Lane County C. E. will meet at Walthamville church Sunday 3 p. m. have potluck supper and evening meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Grand Hendericks and son, Normal, of California are camping on the McKenzie.

Thurston

Mr. and Mrs. McFay, from Los Angeles, and daughter, Nedro, spent last Wednesday night at the A. W. Weaver home. Mrs. Beulah Harbit is in Salem visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lester Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver from Portland are here on an extended visit with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Branch and daughter from California are visiting at E. V. Stivers home. They with several members of the church had a basket dinner after church services last Sunday near Hendricks bridge.

HOME OWNERS LOANS AVAILABLE FOR REPAIRS

Federal Funds Also Available To Those Already Having Financing Loans

Federal Home Owner's loans may now be had in addition to refinancing their mortgages. Many people are under the impression that if they already have a Home Owners' loan they cannot borrow money from the government to fix up or remodel the interior and the exterior of their homes. This is not the case, as those who have already borrowed from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation are entitled to the readjusting the same as those who are now making application to have their mortgages taken over by the corporation. Again, those who own their homes clear of mortgage but who are unable to obtain readjusting loans from private lending agencies are entitled to the benefits of this department.

Three distinct operations have been earmarked by the government. Repair and maintenance is first, including all work designated to restore a house to its condition when new, such as painting, pointing of masonry, calking of doors and window frames, roofing, replacement of gutters, downspouts, floors, plumbing, etc.

Remodeling is next in order, involving structural changes, such as enlargement, addition of a bathroom, a porch, window, rearrangement of rooms, or any other alteration in the design.

Modernizing, the third operation, involves installation of new equipment, such as insulation, heating plant, electric system or running water.

Those who wish to repair or make their homes more livable and attractive should make immediate application to Edward F. Bailey, district Home Owners' Loan Corporation manager in the Miner building in Eugene.

CITY WARRANTS MOVE RAPIDLY WHEN CALLED

All but four of the city warrants called for payment Friday under the new financing plan adopted recently by the Council had been presented for payment by Monday afternoon according to I. M. Peterson, city recorder. The unpaid warrants are held by persons living at distant points.

Under the new finance plan the city will operate on a warrant basis and call all old outstanding warrants for payment as fast as funds are made available.

REMODELING STARTS IN DENTIST'S OFFICE

Remodeling, which will include enlarging, rearranging, and improving the dental offices of Dr. W. N. Dow began Monday. The east wall of the present office is being moved out about four feet enlarging the office room. The office itself will be changed about with new quarters for the laboratory, and special rooms for dental work and for patients to rest.

'TRAIL' PAGEANT EPISODES TOLD

Interest Centering in Final Scenes of "War Madness" And "Trail Of Future"

The triennial epic "The Oregon Trail" scheduled to be presented to the people of the state and nation by citizens of Eugene July 26, 27 and 28, will not only have the same three outstanding features as before, the pageant, pioneer parade and parade of progress, but each of these have been expanded far beyond anything ever before attempted, a survey just completed shows.

The pageant, the cast of which has grown from 1200 in 1929 to more than 2000 this year, will also have at least five new and original features, is announced by Mrs. Doris Smith, nationally known director, who is in charge. The new additions include a children's covered wagon prologue, an impressive verse speaking chorus of 40 voices, frontier days episode which will include the historic Champoug event, a world war memorial, and several entertaining and thrilling interludes. In all 10 episodes, four interludes and the prologue are on the program.

A new thrill will be added to the pageant by the use of "wagon" stages, an innovation that is already attracting national attention to Eugene. Complete sets are constructed on wheels, and the whole appearance of the huge stage, 240 feet in length and reaching a height of 35 feet, can be changed in a few seconds. This has been made possible by the genius of Fred Harris, former university drama instructor and now a nationally known stage designer.

Another feature worthy of national attention will be the appearance of Raymond Marlowe, celebrated lyric tenor, who will sing "Indian Love Call" in the Pony Indian episode. Mr. Marlowe, hearing of the community enterprise here, volunteered to take part.

Pageant Episodes Given
The pageant proper will open with a depiction of pre-civilization, or Myra times. This will include a new feature, the "dance of death," to be done by a real Indian girl, with the accompaniment of tom-toms. The second episode will depict the life of the early coast Indians. A cannon shot scatters the Indians and projects the third episode, that of the arrival of Captain Grey's ship Columbia. This will roll in on the wagon stage, until the ship, life size, with men high up in the rigging, is in view. Sea Chanties and other atmospheric music will make this scene unusual.

Wagon Train Planned
The pony Indians will be the motif of the fourth episode. The fifth episode will show Lewis and

DEATH DANCER

The weird, impressive "dance of death" will be one of the unusual sights accorded people who attend Eugene's Oregon Trail pageant July 26, 27 and 28. The dance will be done by a real Indian girl, attractive Theima Knowlton, whose Indian name is "Sui-Kauis." Her husband will give the old Indian chant, accompanied by tom-toms, while she dances.

Clark entering the Oregon country, guided by Sacajawea.

The covered wagon episode will come next, in which will occur the famed and powerful "Driver's Song," the gay "Oh Susannah," and a faithful representation of life along the Oregon Trail. This will be followed by the "Frontier days" with the historic Champoug episode, trappers, prospectors, pack trains, pony express, attack of Indians and many other interesting and thrilling features.

Lone Cowboy To Sing
An interlude next will portray the cow trails, with a "lone cowboy" singing plaintive songs of the range, accompanied by a melodious chorus, all mounted on horseback. The World War memorial, the "post war Madnes," and the "Oregon Trail of the Future," will conclude the night event.

Pioneer Parade Friday
The world famous pioneer parade will be held on Friday. Entries for the Parade of Progress, Saturday, are coming in from scores of communities and other organizations.

Attend Funeral
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott drove to Silverton Tuesday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. May Scott Marinella who died there last Sunday. Mrs. Marinella was a niece of Mr. Scott's.

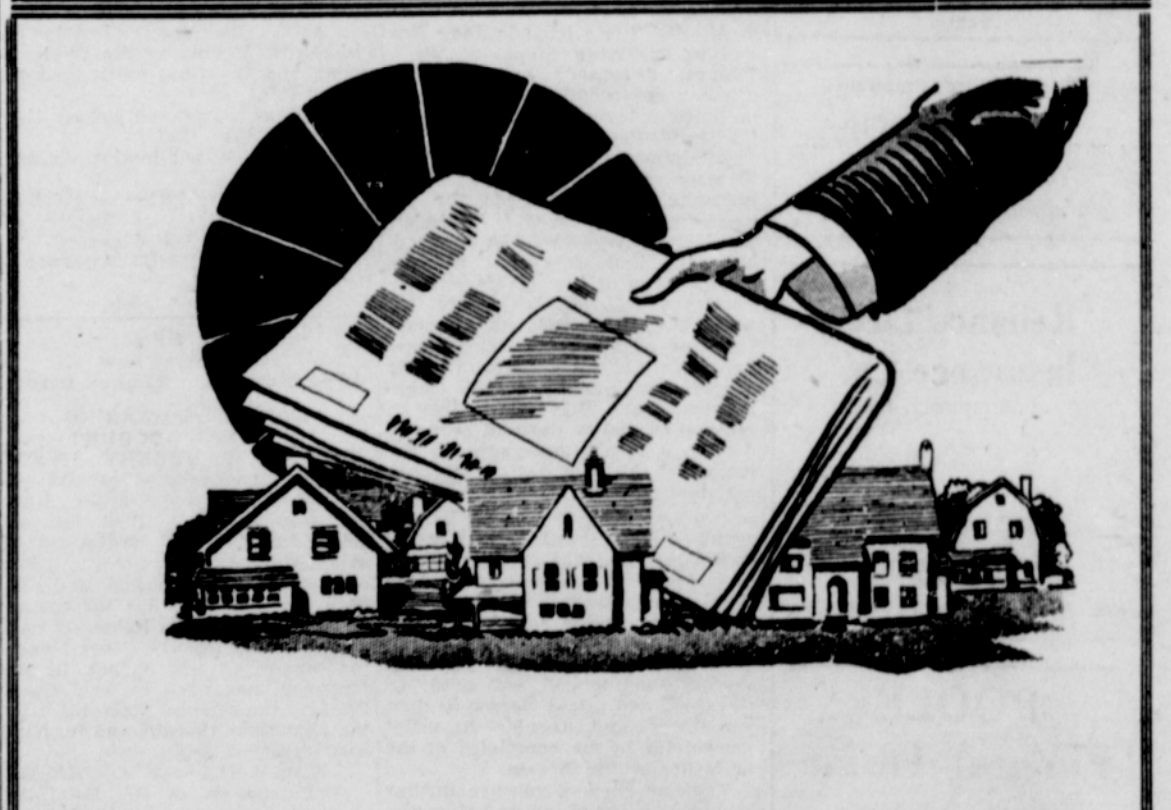

Visit Girl Scouts—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gerber drove to the Girl Scout camp Clearwox near Florence Sunday to visit their daughter, Eunice, who is leader of the Springfield troop and now serving as camp nurse for the second year.

Down from Blue River—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Scott of Blue River were in Springfield on Tuesday.

Pengra Man Here—Irl Deamond of Pengra was a visitor in Springfield Saturday.
