PHILOMATH HERE FOR FIRST GAME

Chetwood, Heavy, Experienced, and Shifty Expected To Lead Teammates

REEDSPORT GAME AHEAD

New Students Add Strength To Local Eleven; Turnout Of Reserves Pleasing

Football season is here. Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock Springfield high school grid will officially open their grid with a game against the Philomath eleven on Brattain field and the people will be given their first chance to see their team in action.

Although the boys are not yet in their best form, many of them being green at the game, they have been working hard and are rapidly learning the fundamentals and the plays which Coaches Marion Hall and Robert Chatterton are drilling into them.

The boys have already learned that they have to work hard to play football which any person who watches them practice will soon understand. Last night the coaches kept their teams, the "A" and "B" squads, on the field until supper-time. They were drilled in plays, and went through both offensive and defensive scrimmage, finally winding up with stiff sprinting.

Tonight the boys will be given only a light workout to keep them limbered up and to give sore joints and bruises an opportunity to heal before Friday's game.

All of last season's veterans are expected to be given places in the starting lineup although their places may be taken by other aspirants during the game. These will include Bun Scott at center, Kenneth Cox, George Irvin, Disque Smith, Everett Chetwood, the heaviest and fastest man on the team, Charles Cole and Jack Williams.

New additions who may start in the game are Pete Taylor, John Gooding, Tom Goodale and Bill Hill.

Hill is very light and was moved up to the line from the "B" squad when Verlin Posey was forced out with an injury. It is not certain yet whether he will be able to play Friday. Hill is quick and may make a good showing depending on the weight of the opposing team.

Much promising material for future teams may be forthcoming from the "B" squad which is being coached by Chatterton. The school has an unusually large turnout of these younger students this year and with the necessary training in fundamentals they will be very valuable to the team later in the season if needed and will be almost certain of places a few years later after they have gained more weight.

The Reedsport game, scheduled for this week-end at Reedsport has been advanced to a future date it was announced at the high school.

OLD FEATURES GONE IN FROSH INITIATION

The time-worn practice of using paddles and paint in initiating freshmen students into the student body has been eliminated at least at Springfield high school it was announced following the annual initiation party held Friday evening at the high school gymnasium.

For many years it has been the custom to paint the underclass students and then make them run a gauntlet of paddles wielded by the upperclass men. This was eliminated this year, following the general trend in most schools.

A large crowd attended the initiation ceremonies and a good program of entertainment was provided by the senior class which had charge of the arrangements.

Hunters Report Varied Success

Many Return From Over Cascades Without Meat; Few Find Bucks Plentiful

Hunting has not been as good so far this season as it usually is during the opening days say hunters who have returned from eastern Oregon. Experienced hunters and those who are able to take a week or ten days for a hunting trip are returning each with their buck, although many of those who have made annual trips across the mountains for several seasons have returned after a week's trip with only one or two deer for five or six hunters. Several have received station men and game tags in eastern Oregon say about half of those who rush for their deer on the open days returned without them.

Those hunting on the west side of the mountain have met with less success on the average. Here the hill sides are more brushy and afford more cover for deer.

The extremely bright moonlight nights since the opening of the season are claimed by many hunters to make for bad hunting conditions.

Snow across the mountains and in the high reaches also caused the deer to take to cover in the brush and made hunting difficult over the week-end. Most of the snow which fell on the McKenzie pass has melted and no trouble is being found in crossing the mountain highway.

LIONS CLUB WILL AID IN FOOTBALL

Committee Named To Cooperate With Coaches and Players; May Close In Field

Springfield Lions club members will take an active interest in the activities of the high school football team this season it was indicated Friday when members of the club named a committee to work with Marion Hall and Robert Chatterton, coaches, in carrying out what assistance the club is able to offer the team and the coaches. Members of the committee are F. B. Flanery, W. K. Barnell and J. D. Pyle.

The club also began an investigation of possible means of enclosing the football field back of Brattain school. At the present time there are too many adults who ignore the requests of the student ticket sellers for the regular admission and as a consequence the school athletic finances have been suffering during the past seasons despite large attendances. If some plan can be devised by the businessmen whereby necessary funds for materials can be raised it is probable that SERA funds for labor will be asked.

During the business meeting the club voted to send a letter to Ted Gillenwaters, district president, advising him that the club was ready and willing to assist him in his official capacity in any undertaking he may desire. The meeting had been designated as a special occasion to consider the activities of the state official.

SLATE COMPLETE FOR CITY OFFICES

Recorder Post Proves Most Interesting To Candidates As Four File Petitions

TUESDAY WAS DEADLINE

Two Want Treasurer Office; Two Will Seek Short Term On Springfield Council

There will be contests for only three city offices in the November election it was revealed here Tuesday evening after the deadline for filing nominating petitions had been passed. Following a quiet lead-off during which but little interest had manifested, the political situation took on a sudden spurt the final few days with the result that 10 candidates have entered the contests for the five offices to be filled.

Greatest interest in the campaign, it now seems, is destined to be found in the race for the office of City Recorder. Four candidates, I. M. Peterson, incumbent, Mrs. Dodd Miller, Wm. G. Hughes and E. E. Kepner all have petitions filed for this office, and each claim to have their distinct group of supporters. Only Mr. Peterson, who has been kept in the office despite opposition during the past several terms, has made any statement at this time. In another part of this paper will be found his statement in which he calls attention to the gradual improvement of the city's financial structure during his tenure and states that he has further plans in the offing which will work for the benefit of the city if he is retained in office.

Two candidates, Mrs. Elsie Pollard and Chester Aldrich, are seeking the position as treasurer. Little can be said yet as to the strength of either except that both are already working among their friends seeking support. W. E. Buell, incumbent, has declined to seek reelection in the office.

A Council ticket was presented during the week-end with P. J. Bartholomew seeking the unexpired two years of the term vacated by C. F. Barber, and Edward Privat and Earl Thompson seeking the full four year terms, to succeed John Pyle and Jesse Cross, whose terms will expire in January.

Another candidate, heeding the urgent request of his many friends that he remain on the council, consented Monday and filed his petition for the two year term. He is John Pyle.

As a result there will be a contest between Pyle and Bartholomew, but there will be no contest for the other two places unless enough names are written in to defeat them as their names will appear alone on the November ballot.
