

FARMERS TO VOTE ON CONTROL PLAN

Producers To Decide Upon Future Program For Corn-Hog and Grain Activities

Corn-hog adjustment contract signers in Oregon will be called upon by their county association to vote soon, probably during the second week in October, on two questions submitted from Washington and growing out of the recent regional conference, in one of which extension officials of Oregon State college took part.

AAA officials foresee serious difficulties in the next few years if the natural reaction from present drought conditions are allowed to develop, as they have in past years, into a cycle which will carry production of forage crops to the opposite extreme stimulated by scarcity of high prices of the present.

Fear Future Surplus

Such a condition, they believe, would be disastrous to the corn and other forage crop producers and the livestock growers as well, particularly the hog growers in the cornbelt states.

In order to get a definite expression of opinion from growers themselves, the AAA officials have requested the state extension services to arrange for the taking of a referendum by each corn-hog county association on the following questions:

1. Do you favor an adjustment program dealing with corn and hogs in 1935?
2. Do you favor a one-contract-per-farm adjustment program dealing with grains and livestock to become effective in 1936.

May Raise Corn Payments

It is explained that if the producers vote favorably on the first question, AAA officials will confer further with representatives of producers in developing details of a suitable contract. Any 1935 program will follow the general outline of the 1934 program but benefit payments would probably be somewhat larger for corn and materially less for hogs than under the program this year.

In voting on the question, western producers will be faced with the fact that this region is a deficit area for both corn and hogs. Suggestions was once made that control of too rapid expansion in hog production be attempted wholly through a contract dealing with corn production alone, but western men objected strenuously to this at the recent Salt Lake conference, contending that it would be unfair to continue the processing tax on hogs and pay out the proceeds entirely to corn growers.

PEDESTRIAN CODE FOR SAFETY DRIVE LISTED

Half Of Fatalities In State Involve Persons Walking On Streets and Public Roadways

Approximately 50 per cent of accident fatalities in Oregon are pedestrians, it has been pointed out by the "Let's Quit Killing" campaign workers now seeking to reduce the death toll from motor accidents on the highways and city streets. During the first eight months of 1934, 190 persons were killed and 3068 injured in the state by automobile drivers.

In an effort to reduce the number of fatalities the campaign committee has issued the following seven rules for the pedestrians' code:

Never cross streets between intersections.

Do not cross streets in front of oncoming cars at night, especially if wearing dark clothes or the weather is rainy.

Remember it is easier for a pedestrian than for the driver of an auto weighing more than a ton, to make a sudden stop.

Don't step into the street from between parked cars.

When crossing a street in traffic, don't oscillate "like a sewing machine shuttle"—proceed slowly and steadily ahead so motorists may know which way you are going.

Give consideration to the fact that pedestrians are permitted to walk on both sidewalks and streets, while the motorist is required to remain between curb limits.

Always walk on the left side of a highway, facing traffic; step off the pavement when a car passes you.

'NOW AND FOREVER' IS INSPIRING PICTURE

Shirley Temple, the sensation star of Paramount's "Little Miss Marker," returns in another Paramount picture which affords even more scope for her ample talents. It is "Now and Forever," coming Sunday to the McDonald theatre in Eugene, in which the five-year-old is starred with Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard.

Shirley Temple plays the role of the daughter of the light-hearted, reckless adventuring confidence man, Gary Cooper. Since Cooper in the film, has not seen the child since birth, he decides to relinquish his rights in her to his brother-in-law for a cash consideration. But he has not reckoned with the child's appeal, and after his first sight of her he changes his mind and takes her off to Paris to live with Carole Lombard and himself.

Here a gradual but perceptible change comes over Cooper and Miss Lombard due to the influence and the love of the child. When Cooper becomes pinched for money he slips back to his old ways again. He is discovered by the child, and in a thrilling climax performs a deed of heroic self-sacrifice to restore her faith in him and free her for happiness.

READING FUN IN STORE FOR BOYS

Here's important news for the boys of America: THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

"For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of THE AMERICAN BOY to readers," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that make the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends."

Along with the cut in cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hideback, the red-and-gold riddle, Bonehead Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the readers many exciting hours in the months to come. William Heyliger, whose true-to-life, gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the hearty approval of boys, is working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY, under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and THE AMERICAN BOY will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

WILL PLANT 500 PEAR TREES FROM SAME STOCK

Horticultural history will be made in southern Oregon this fall when what is believed to be the most uniform as well as the most blight resistant block of 500 young pear trees are planted out on the federal pear experiment station near Medford.

The trees are being selected from 2000 raised on the southern Oregon branch experiment station at Talent under the scientific methods developed by F. C. Reimer, superintendent and probably the world's leading authority on fire blight of pears.

These pear trees will be the most uniform, and hence the most desirable for experimental purposes, because every root stock in the entire lot was grown from seed produced on a single tree and fertilized with pollen from one other selected tree. Thus for the first time in history a large group of trees have been raised with exactly the same known parentage.

COLLEGE OFFERS MANY EDUCATIONAL MOVIES

A new catalog listing all moving picture films, lantern slide sets and other materials available from the department of visual instruction, has just been issued by the general extension division of the Oregon state system of higher education.

The department of visual instruction of the entire system is located on the Oregon State college campus with U. S. Burt in charge. The present catalog lists the largest collection of such materials ever gathered together for educational use in this state, all of which are available for public use on payment of a small fee ranging from five cents to 25 cents each, used to cover partially the expense of tracking and inspecting.

Many of the lantern slide sets and moving picture films include lectures, which may be given along with the pictures, making them adaptable to a wide variety of group meetings. A copy of the catalog may be had free on request from the Corvallis office.

FOOD POISONING IS GIVEN EXPLANATION

Bacterial poisons resulting from the improper and insanitary preparation and storage of food has long been considered the direct cause of food poisoning says the State Board of Health in their weekly bulletin. Now scientific investigation has shown the cause to be of two types. The first is certain resistant bacteria growth which in the absence of air produce a violent poison or toxin. Symptoms of this poisoning are double vision, nausea, constipation, inability to swallow, impairment of speech, general weakness and loss of muscular control and finally respiratory paralysis.

The second cause and the most common type is caused by careless and unclean methods of preparing food or improper storing methods such as large amounts of salad frequently prepared days in advance. Symptoms of this poison appear a few hours after the food is eaten and consist of vomiting, fever, abdominal pains, diarrhea, and general weakness. The course of the disease is usually short, seldom over 24 hours, and very few fatalities have been reported.

ARNHEIM IS COMING WITH HIS ORCHESTRA

Noted Orchestra Leader At McDonald For Two Shows And Armory For Dance Oct. 10

Outstanding among the events for next week will be the personal appearance in Eugene of Col. Gus Arnheim with his orchestra and vocalists. He will play at the McDonald theatre on Wednesday, October 10, at both the afternoon and evening performances, and will conclude the day with a mammoth dance at the Armory that evening says James O'Connell, McDonald manager, who is arranging for the visit of the famous musical leader and his organization.

Arnheim is a piano player who began a successful career in Los Angeles and reached such fame that he was invited to tour Europe. He returned to America to take first place among orchestra leaders, to write songs, and to appear in motion pictures. Among his compositions are "Sweet and Lovely," "Mandalay," "It Must Be True," and "Good Night, My Love." He does not use any of his own compositions for his theme song, choosing instead, "Say It With Music," which tune has heralded his appearance on the air for many years.

Coming with Arnheim are Maxine Tappan, Jimmie Newell, and the Downey sisters, all of whom have been heard nightly on the air.

The evening dance program at the armory to follow the afternoon and evening theatre engagements will start at 9:30 says O'Connell. Persons who can be urged to attend the matinee show at the theatre.
