

CHANGE MADE IN HOG TAX PLAN

Farmers Pay Tax Now Only If Selling To Consumer; Other System Unchanged

An important change in the hog regulations under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, effective November 1, 1934, provides when hogs are slaughtered by hog producers and feeders, the processing tax will be paid by them only when they sell the products direct to consumers...

This change affects only hogs slaughtered by farmers on and after November 1, 1934. Meat packing companies, slaughterhouses, custom killers and all other commercial establishments will continue to pay the processing tax as formerly on the live weight of hogs at the time of slaughter.

All commercial establishments will be required to maintain a record of all pork products handled by them to show whether they are subject to the tax or whether it has already been paid by some prior processor or distributor...

McDONALD THEATRE TO BRING 'MERRY WIDOW'

Immortal Songs of Franz Lehár Retained in Film Version of Musical Romance

Songs that will never die and that have delighted the world for years, becoming ever increasingly popular, are to come for the first time to the talking screen with Ernst Lubitsch's massive production of "The Merry Widow," which opens Sunday at the McDonald theatres...

The strains of the "Merry Widow Waltz" are as familiar and as loved today in Moscow as in Buenos Aires, in New York as in Peking. No light opera in history has so perfectly and permanently gripped the public.

All the famous of the Franz Lehár masterpiece are to be heard in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's presentation, co-starring Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald.

The hauntingly romantic "Villa" is sung by Miss MacDonald, as are "Tonight Will Teach Me to Forget," "Melody of Laughter," and "Widows Are Gay." Chevalier's songs include "I'm Going to Maxim's" and "Girls, Girls, Girls." Together Miss MacDonald and Chevalier sing "The Merry Widow Waltz." A male chorus renders "We'll Go to Cafe De Paris."

In addition, the Franz Lehár music in its original form embellishes the "Can-Can" ballet at Maxim's, the Marshovian ballet, the huge Albertina Rasch waltz ballet and other spectacular details.

Chevalier and Miss MacDonald head a huge cast that includes Edward Everett Horton, Una Merkel, George Barbier, Minna Gombell, Ruth Channing, Sterling Holloway, Donald Meek, Herman Bing and others of note in the elaborate presentation of the Lehár classic. Hundreds of gorgeously costumed players, huge and spectacular settings, and unique effects lend fresh glamour to the picture.

REBEKAH LODGE MEETS AT COBURG

Many Leave To Attend District Convention; Springfield Groups On Program

Many members of Juanita Rebekah lodge have gone to Coburg today to attend the district convention which convened there at 1 o'clock for afternoon and evening sessions. Mrs. Lee Putman, vice-chairman for this district, is a member of the Springfield lodge and, following precedent, the 1935 convention will be brought to Springfield with Mrs. Putman as chairman.

The business sessions are held in the afternoon when lodge problems are discussed and officers are chosen. After a supper the evening program is given by delegations from various parts of the county, each organization presenting a stunt.

For this stunt program the F. L. Girls organization recently organized here will present a number, and members of Rebekah lodge will present Mrs. Glenn Stone in a reading.

OLD AGE PENSION 4-L MEET SUBJECT

Unemployment Compensation and Wage Scale To Be Discussed At Portland

Portland, Ore., Nov. 15—Employees and employers of the West Coast and Western Pine Divisions of the lumber industry will be in Portland November 15 to 20 for the semi-annual meeting of the 4-L board of directors. W. C. Ruegnitz, president, will be in the chair.

The directing board of the 4-L is composed of 13 employees and 13 employers, each elected by ballot in the district he represents. Since 1917, the 4-L has been the only organization in the lumber industry that has set and maintained minimum wage scales.

Matters of interest to come before the board this year, President Ruegnitz said, include unemployment compensation, old-age pensions, and industry minimum wage scales and regulations. A series of local and district meetings just completed in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, California and South Dakota were held to consider resolutions and recommendations to the 4-L board.

The 4-L pioneered the field of vertical unions in industry. Vice-President Chisholm said in referring to the fact that under the 4-L in the western division of the lumber industry, employees for 17 years have had the highest wages of any section of the industry anywhere in the world. In making comparisons, Chisholm stated that the A. F. of L. had complimented the 4-L highly when it adopted the vertical plan of organization at its last convention. The 4-L has trebled its membership in the last year, Chisholm stated.
