LOCAL BRIEFS

J. W. Forrest was in town Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mote were town visitors last week. Go to the Spray Studio and have your picture "taken." William Templeton is spending a few days in town. Robert Kirby, of Richmond, was in Spray Saturday. I. F. Reed and son Robert were in Spray Sunday. C. F. Waters and family spent Sunday in this city. Oliver Trent came down from the W.B. Potter ranch Sunday. James Frost, who has been herding a few days for the J. D. D. Co. is back in town. Peter Morrison and Stewart Grant came to town Sunday from the big basin. Charles P. Branson fell and fractured one of his ribs last week. Robert J. Carsner and family were in town last Friday trading with our merchants. Do not forget the prayer meeting. Every Thursday night at the church. Mrs. Lou Murdock and her daughter, C. B. Bisbee, were shopping in town Saturday. The John Day River is the lowest known for years at this season. Uncle Billie Gates has been spending a few days in town. He walked most of the way down from the ranch. A. W. Anderson and Angelo Flor will have the river road from the Service school house to Alder Creek completed by the first of May. Charles Hill, wife and two of their children were trading in our burg Saturday. Charles said that he was feeling fine. Elmer Mathews, the real estate man, was in town recently. He had with him a prospective buyer. Prof. F. W. Hawes had an exciting time one day last week when his horses took fright and ran away. No serious damage. A fellow came to town the other day looking like he might have just aroused from a Rip Van Winkle sleep. But when the assistant barber had shorn and shaved him, we discovered that he was our friend, Johnnie Spray, who had been herding sheep for a few weeks. Mrs. Julia Cross desires to dispose of her stock of confectionery, patent medicines, etc. as she wants to spend a part of the time at Monument and Hamilton visiting relatives. We wish to thank D.E. Baxter and Prof. R. L. Greene for their kindness in getting out the Courier during our recent illness, and we feel sure that our readers enjoyed the opportunity to again read after their pen. Dr. Tiedemann, D. E. Baxter and Prof. Greene have been depositing another lead mine, this time on the Roysse Ranch. If they killed any of the rodents that inhabit the place you could not miss them. Andy Cress was in town, Friday on his way home from the Richmond country. He informed us that E. R. Shown's horse fell with him and that Ed had the misfortune to get his head cut very badly on a stone. Dr. Jenkins of Mitchell was called and dressed the wound and Ed is getting much better. Mr. Cress also informed us that Henry Trent was thinking of starting his sawmill on Indian Creek in about two weeks.
