

FOLLY IS EXPLAINED.

COIN REDEMPTION ACCORDING TO DEMOCRACY'S IDEA.

Simply the Swapping of One Dollar for Another—True Redemption in the Receiving of Money in Exchange for Commodities or Services

Five Logical Objections. The Democratic party teaches that paper money, in order to be good, must be based upon, or redeemed in, coin.

1. It is a fraud and a swindle on the face of it, for the reason that the amount of coin in existence is entirely inadequate to redeem the amount of paper money needed in business, even if it were desirable to do so.

2. It is theoretical absurdity, inasmuch as it would inflate our paper money when we had more coin and did not need it so badly.

3. It is contrary to the lessons of experience, since nations have always had to abandon the coin redemption policy in times of war and disaster and fall back on legal tender paper money, coin invariably disappearing on the approach of danger.

4. It is a prolific source of panics and commercial disturbances. At one time the specie basis is larger, more credit money is in circulation, and the volume of business is greater.

5. It offers a plan by which speculators may raid the treasury at their wish, deplete the redemption fund, and compel the Government to issue bonds in order to replenish it.

Democracy and National Banks. The Democratic party now declares against national banks.

1. National bankers have stood high in the councils of the Democratic party. Among them may be mentioned Marston, Mearns, W. H. English, Calvin Brice, Senator Jordan, Samuel Tilden, W. C. Whitney, Samuel Randall, Grover Cleveland, Daniel Manning, Secretary Fairchild, Thomas Bayard and many others.

2. When the question of rechartering the national banks came up in Congress in 1862 eight Democratic Senators voted for it, and sixteen dodged it by being absent.

3. During Cleveland's first administration the Government loaned about $90,000,000 to the national banks without any interest whatever.

4. In the Fifty-third Congress a proposition was made to reduce the tax charged by the banks by the Government from 1 per cent. to one-fourth of 1 per cent. per annum.

5. The Democratic party favors a tariff for revenue only. I contend that the tariff plan is not a proper method of raising national revenues.

port of the government. It is estimated by some that the amount thus taken from the people is about four times as much as actually goes to the Government.

According to our present tariff system the Government virtually levies a tax on one man's property and makes another man pay it.

Swept Away in a Flood. Mr. E. V. Smalley relates in a Chicago newspaper a thrilling and very peculiar experience which he underwent a few years ago in traveling in the Northwest.

The river was very high, and the broad slough was running like a mill-race. We know that the fordings place was narrow and the water deep, but we expected nothing more serious than to get our feet wet.

One of my friends swam ashore, and two others climbed out of the tail of the wagon and managed to keep their footing until they were rescued.

I could not swim, and gave up all hope of my life. I went under water, and there had a very clear experience of what psychologists call the double consciousness.

wellcome in so many intelligent, prudent homes where pains is taken to get only the best in so vital a matter. In such families all over the country Paine's celery compound is the first, last and only remedy used.

Prof. Phelps had studied the nerves in health and disease, when well nourished and when under-nourished, in men and women and children years before he looked for the remedy. Paine's celery compound is the outcome of his entire professional life.

Paine's celery compound induces the body to take on solid flesh. Physicians recognize Paine's celery compound as the one scientific spring remedy, and it is universally prescribed by them wherever there is great need of a vigorous and prompt restoring of health and strength to the worn-out system.

Paine's celery compound is the best spring remedy because it is more than a mere spring remedy. It brings about a healthy appetite, complete digestion, regular action of the bowels and the other excretory organs whenever taken, whether in summer or in winter, but as the greatest of spring remedies it has extraordinary opportunities for inducing the body to throw off morbid humors that poison it and cause rheumatism, neuralgia, heart trouble and a general low state of the health, as in spring the system is more pliable and chronic diseases so securely lodged in the system that they are with difficulty ousted, become more tractable.

Thousands of men and women have found from personal experience that Paine's celery compound makes people well, and keeps all from sickness who take it in the spring.

Many a father and mother have noticed the unmistakable improvement in the health of their children from taking Paine's celery compound in the spring. It is the one scientifically accurate remedy fitted by its composition to thoroughly purify the blood and dispel that exhausted feeling and get rid of skin diseases, headache and fits of depression with which children with weak, nervous systems, as well as grown people, are afflicted.

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes.

It is in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

This part of me felt quite delighted at being released from partnership with the other fellow. How long this lasted I do not know. I did not have any of that vivid recollection of all the events of life which men restored from drowning usually tell about. The higher consciousness only felt that it was an independent spiritual existence, now for the first time released from dwelling in a physical body.

But now the body, in its desperate struggles, clutched the ear of one of the horses. The horse got its head above water, and the man's head came up with it. The man was rescued by a boat, and with extreme regret my higher consciousness was forced to re-enter its old dwelling place.

Only a few years ago a process was discovered by means of which the armor plates of war ships could be hardened on the face that the best projectiles were shattered on striking them. This was regarded as a definite victory for armor over guns.

Recently, however, the tables have been turned once more. The first step, according to the Scientific American, was the placing of a cap of soft steel on the point of the projectile. This enabled the shot to penetrate the armor plate by preventing the breaking of the point. Then increased velocity, given to the shot by the use of improved powder. The result was that a six inch solid shot was sent through ten inches of face-hardened steel, twelve inches of oak-banking and three additional plates, each seven-sixteenths of an inch thick, after which the shot practically unimpaired, buried itself eight feet in a bank of sand. The experiments were made in this country, and both the best armor and the best shots are of American invention.
