Crawford & Harnish will be at the Scio Gallery on Friday of this week, and remain to the following Monday.

Mr. Dell Combs and Miss Betta Stuart, of Albany, were visiting Miss Mona Daniel of this city, last Sunday.

It is quite probable that more contests will be added to the picnic program by next week's issue of the PRESS.

L. W. Pomeroy of Dierdorf Lodge No. 54, of this city is attending the L. O. O. F. lodge in Portland, this week.

The shower of last Sunday afternoon and night was timely, and increased the chances of an abundant crop of all kinds in this locality.

An impromptu surprise birthday party occurred at the residence of Mr. Frank Irvine Monday evening. Mr. Irvine was the party surprised.

Some sort of a class reception was given at the residence of W. J. Crawford Tuesday evening. We were not furnished the particulars.

Uncle John Bryant was down from Bilyeu Don on Thursday. He reports every thing in the way of crops in that locality in a thriving condition.

Scio will have a very large crowd at the Macabee picnic on June 11. Large delegations from all neighboring towns and the country will be here.

From reports from every locality in this vicinity, crops of all kinds never looked better and the prospect for a bountiful harvest is now becoming a surety.

The class exercises of our public schools will be held on next Friday evening. The graduating class this year numbers six, and a very pleasant time is expected by all.

Frank Deakins ex-assessor of Linn county, but now of Clackamas county, was in this city last Friday, looking well and rugged, as if hard work agreed with him.

R. H. Irvine, of near Jordan, passed through town on his way to Albany, on last Friday. Ben says he will ask some leading questions of some of our county officials before he gets back.

A spark caught in the roof of the creamery yesterday morning and started quite a little blaze. The fire department was called out instantly and the application of a few buckets of water, through the hose squelched it.

Wool Wanted. I am buying wool again this season for Mr. W. B. Donaca and the Oregon City Mills and it will be to the interest of growers to see me before selling your wool. Remember we will not be outbid by anyone.

Yours for business S. M. DANIEL. Wanted—An Idea. Who can think of some way of getting the wool grower to get his wool to market? Write JOHN WILSON & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C. For their $1.00 price offer and new list of one thousand inventions wanted.

A Graveyard Robbed.

Providence grave yard is robbed of its neat and tidy appearance, because of the briars, grass, stumps and brush growing up therein. In order to have the last resting place of those who are near and dear to us to appear as if we had not forgotten them; everybody in and about Providence, Scio and elsewhere who have friends or relatives buried at this cemetery, are requested to meet at Providence church, on May 25, 1897, at 11 o'clock A. M., or earlier, and bring with you grubbing hoes, spades, shovels and mowing scythes, in order to clean up and put in shape the graves and grounds wherein our loved ones rest. Bring your dinners, so that you can put in the day.

On the 29th day of May—Memorial Day—and which is also the 5th Sunday of the month, you are also cordially invited to bring your dinner and baskets of flowers, and decorate the graves of those you love on this date. There will be some kind of religious services in the memory of the dead at this time. But be sure and remember the 29th day and do not forget to come on this date. The grave yard needs cleaning up badly so come and bring implements as suggested.

Mrs. C. C. LEE.

The Second Shoot.

The Mascot Rod and Gun club, met on its grounds for its second weekly shoot on last Saturday afternoon, and enjoyed a good time shooting blue rocks. A goodly number of Scio's best shots faced the traps and the scores were good all along the line. Some of the boys were a little timid at first, but as soon as they began to smell powder, they pulled themselves together and shot like old timers.

The first event was a ten-bird match and the score as given was as follows: S. W. Dugger 7, Dr. Prill 6, C. A. Loud 10, B. Bilyeu 4, John Hay 8, H. Palmer 4, J. Rock 6, C. Young 8, O. B. Cyrus 8, J. Jones 4, M. Peery 9. The second event was between teams chosen by S. W. Dugger and Dr. Prill—5 on a side—the latter team winning by 3 points.

Blue rock shooting is excellent sport and costs but little. The birds are furnished at 1 cent each and furnish fine training for wing shooting. In the near future a suitable medal will be prepared, which will be worn on the bosom of the champion of the weekly match shoot, the wearer to retain the medal until it is rested from him by superior marksmanship at some subsequent match.

Probably Important Visitors.

On Wednesday evening of last week Hon Jeff Myers and Mr. Waters, of Salem, and Dr. A. F. Hirz and M. T. Lang, of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived in this city from Salem; the last two gentlemen being under the escort of Messrs Myers & Waters. They are looking over Oregon for a location for a colony of about 100 families that purpose emigrating to some point in Oregon in the near future. While here the party was joined by R. Shelton and on the following day the Minneapolis visitors were shown the Cyrus and Shelton tracts of land consisting of upwards of 1500 acres and lying on Crabtree some six or seven miles S. E. of Scio. Dr. Hirz who seemed to be the principal of the party, expressed himself as being very well pleased with the land. Whether Scio will be fortunate enough to obtain this colony or not we cannot say, but as we see it, the chances are favorable.

A Distinguished Honor.

From the Salem, Mass., News we notice that Gen Geo. B. Loud was selected in New York city to deliver the memorial address on May 30. When we consider that New York is the chief city of the nation and that it is the home of some of the most gifted orators in the world—any of whom would have been proud to have delivered this address—the selection of Gen. Loud marks him at once as being one of the most gifted orators of the nation and is classed by 56 G. A. R. posts of New York city as the equal of such orators as Dewey, Ingersoll, Talague, Ireland and Ingalls. Gen. Loud is a brother of C. A. Loud of this city who is justly proud of his distinguished brother.

Died.

TRANK—At the family residence in Fox Valley on May 12, Mrs. Lucinda Trank; aged 26.

Mrs. Trank was the daughter of A. M. Shelton, of this city. She leaves a husband Mr. Ed. Trank, and two infant sons aged four and two years to mourn her loss. She was a member of the Degree of Honor of the A. O. U. W. and carried a life benefit policy in that order. The A. O. U. W. had charge of the funeral. New Barber Shop.

Mr. C. A. Loud, recently of California, has opened a new barber shop near the south end of the bridge in this city, in the Austin building, where you can get a first class shave or a hair cut. The shop is new and everything is neat and clean. Give him a trial.

Bowling Alley.

S. I. Shore is fitting up a bowling alley in the building adjoining the Press office on the South. Workmen are engaged this week in fitting up the building. In the future if the Press editorials are of a rolling, rollicking nature, our readers will know the cause to which to attribute it to. Further if some of the balls from the aforesaid bowling alley carroms into our bedroom and knocks us out of bed, either Mr. Shore or his land lord may expect a suit for damages. We have managed to escape the dangers of balls for a term of military service during the war of the rebellion, and have passed through innumerable Fancy Dress and other kinds of balls since—even taking a turn at baseball and escaping with our lives—but we most seriously object to being bowled out of bed, in our mature years, by a bowling alley ball.

A peculiar thing about the mandamus suits against the secretary of state to try to force him to do something prohibited by law, is that in case the plaintiffs should win in the higher court and should force Mr. Kincaid to audit accounts and draw warrants on the state treasury therefor, the treasury would have no funds in the treasury from which to pay them. The treasurer only has funds applicable to any particular object after they have been appropriated for that specific purpose by the legislature. Suppose then that they should force the secretary of state to draw warrants for their claims, they would next have to mandamus the state treasurer to pay such warrants and would have to go through the lower and higher courts and find out whether the state treasurer has full power to pay out money for this or the other thing, just as he pleases, without special authority from the legislature. Should they win in the second suit and get their money, Oregon would no longer need legislators and the biennial expenses amounting to $50,000 or more would be done away with. The secretary of state would be high mogul, and the state treasurer his right bower, so to speak, and the governor wouldn't be in it at all unless the secretary and treasurer took compassion upon him and gave him a few dollars now and then. The whole business is so absurd that it seems no wonder Judge Hewitt threw it out of court and dismissed the suits in five minutes. All power to levy taxes and pay out money originates, is governed by and permanently abides in the people, and no court in the world can disinherit the people. This exclusive power is everlastingly in the people and their representatives, the legislative assembly; and unless the legislative assembly authorizes the servants of the state, the state secretary and state treasurer, to pay out their money those servants are powerless to act. To uphold the other theory would be to overthrow the fundamental principals of our government, and the establishment of an Aristocracy or a monarchy would be the only logical outcome.—Salem Journal.
