LOCAL BREVITIES.

Come to us for your job printing.

Nice, nobby, new goods arriving daily at S. M. Daniel's Call and see them.

A. G. Prill, A. M., M. D., physician and surgeon. Calls promptly attended.

Nice fresh eggs, brought to the creamery in first-class condition, will be paid for with cash.

Hay hauling has been lively during the week. The ruling price has been $5 per ton in the field.

The Union (Fraternal) picnic on the 31st inst promises to be a successful affair. Several good prizes for contests are offered.

S. C. Browne, M. D. Physician & Surgeon. Calls answered town and country, day or night. Office in residence next door to SCIO PRESS office Scio Ore,.

Bryan's Oregon City speech will be printed in pamplet form and circulated. Hon. M. A. Miller has charge of the matter, and it is to be commended for his effort for increasing its circulation.

G. M. Stroud (Pap) an old time citizen of Scio, who was a conductor for years on the old O. & C. railroad, paid this city a visit last Saturday remaining over till Monday greeting old friends. He is now grand lecturer for A. F. & A. M. in Oregon and while here paid Scio Lodge an official visit.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktstown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by EWING & PEERY.

The Red Crown flouring mills, of Albany, have been leased to the Portland Milling Company. W. L. Vance and S. E. Young, of Albany, who with others have been operating these mills, have leased the Mognolia mills, at the foot of Calapooia street. They will operate the warehouse department, and are contemplating refiting the mills, adding improved machinery and starting them running again.

Rev. J. S. Wallace, of Lebanon, will preach in the M. E. church, next Sunday at 11 A. M. and at 8 P. M.

If about 12 hours rain could fall on our base ball grounds, the willow-wielders of our city would be extremely happy.

As time for the picnic on the 31st approaches, all arrangements are being perfected and a most enjoyable time is promised.

Henry Black and wife, of Dallas, were visiting at T. S. Coffey's the first of the week. Mrs. Black is Mrs. Coffey's mother.

R. Shelton and family and the family of Alex Montgomery went to the Cedar Flat black-berry fields in quest of berries on Tuesday.

LOOK HERE—L. W. Pomery & son are prepared to bale hay and straw, during the present season, in a satisfactory manner, for all.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Warmer went over to the bay yesterday to stay a spell. Mr. Warner will remain two weeks while Mrs. Warner may remain till the first of September.

Scio Creamery butter brings the very highest price paid for creamery butter in Portland, which is gratifying to Superintendent Morris as well as all who are interested in the success of the creamery.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlaine's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by EWING & PEERY.

W. A. Ewing has sold his interest in the drug business in this city to Mr. Ed Peery, of Sodaville. Mr. Peery is a cousin of Mark and is said to be a most excellent young business man. Mr. Ewing's health is the sole cause of his selling the business.

Our base ball team went over to Albany Tuesday and played the Albany Boys team a match. They did not have much to say about the game when they returned as they were not at all proud of it. The game, it is said, was full of errors, resulting in a score of 20 for Scio and 2! for Albany.

Strange that nearly every young man in Scio is expecting "an important letter" this week asking, for the same from four to six times daily, leaving the delivery window reluctantly at each inter—we mean time. But when we know that the post-master during R. Shelton's absence, is Miss May Morris the conundrum becomes easy.

Contractor J. E. McCoy, of Salem, who has completed the new wagon-road bridge at Gates, which is to be paid for jointly by Marion and Linn counties, is having trouble over a settlement with the counties. The bridge is now a Howe truss span 196 feet long, with the necessary approaches, and is located just above the site of the one swept away by the freshet last winter. The original contract price was $1237, but the span was to be about 160 feet only. The plans were slightly changed during the progress of the work, causing the span to be increased to 196 feet; for this change Mr. McCoy charged $200 additional, and the same was agreed to by the courts. However, Mr. McCoy claims $100 more on account of some minor alterations he was compelled to make before the bridge was completed. This the court took under advisement, and decided not to take final action regarding the acceptance of the bridge until the August term; consequently Mr. McCoy boarded up the entrances to the bridge, and it will not be open to travel until the court can agree concerning the price to be paid the builder.

Death of Phil Smith.

Mr. Phil Smith, one of Linn county's best known citizens, died at Lebanon at 7:30 o'clock, Monday evening, July 19, 1897, at the age of 53 years. Mr. Smith was taken with an apopleptic stroke on July 11, which resulted in his death.

Mr. Smith was a pioneer of 1853, coming to Oregon from Missouri. He was a democrat and was one of the county's best assessors, besides being deputy assessor several times. He was a man well liked and many will regret his death. The deceased leaves a wife and several children, among them being postmaster C. S. Smith of Lebanon, Mrs. F. U. Hickook and Mrs. Buhl.

After Thirty Years.

Mr. R. B. Miller of near this city is in Portland this week as a representive of the Scio A. O. U. W. lodge in the grand lodge. This is Mr. Miller's first visit to Oregons metropolis for thirty years. What a changed condition things he will find? Probably where he camped and fed his team thirty years ago, he will now find a magnificent brick business block, for at his visit thirty years ago, Portland was but a small town surrounded by heavy timber, with unimproved streets. The East Side was but a hamlet—not more than a dozen houses likely. My! What a change Mr. Miller will be hold? We should like experience his surprise when first beholding it.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mill City, Oregon, July, 19, 1897.

An all night trip brought your correspondent to Lebanon, to hear the uncrowned king, Bryan, deliver his masterly address in his masterly way. I had a curiosity to observe the man as a man, as an orator, as a statesman. If I am any judge of human nature, I believe he is thoroughly in earnest and honest in his convictions. He belives in himself and the American people. He is of the Samuel J. Randall, or the Allen G. Thurman type of Democrat. Randall was several times speaker of the house of representatives in congress. He was repeatedly elected from his Philadelphia district, which was Republican.

Thurman had equally as good success, even when the odds were all against him. They were both above selling out, or compromise. Randall could have been elected president of the U. S. if he could or would have compromised with the Democratic leaders. He would have carried Pennsylvania and some other surrounding states, because the average voter would have given him his vote without regard to party lines. Thurman was defeated more than once in his own political household, notwithstanding the great majority of the Democratic voters wished to see him president.

Randall said: "If I can't be president without compromising my honesty and stultifying my principles, I shall prefer to remain with my old Philadelphia district." As speaker of the house, Republican voters placed him there. Why this hold upon that Philadelphia district? Because he feared no man, was not subservient to any man and spoke what he believed to be for the best interests of the greatest number without regard to the opinions of the party wire puller. Bryan is the Man of the Hour. The people are ready to listen. The average voter to day has no patience with straddlers or men who mince matters. His wonderful hold over an audience is mostly due to his fearlessness. He voices the sentiments of the great majority of the American citizens to day. He can do it in a clever, gentlemanly way which makes it all the more palatable.

The great mass of the public are looking for some knight who will enter the arena and sling his lance at the enemy, not over his head. The American people change policies every thirty or thirty-five years. A change is at hand and Bryan seems to be the leader. He will give the other fellows "a twister" but he can never be president unless the voters throw away all party affiliations. The Democratic party can never elect Bryan. Bryan is in the same position that Randall was.

He, if he secures the presidency, must curry favors with the party strikers. Will he do it? If he does he can never hold the populist vote of the country. The Democratic party will need to cut some other caper than expect Populists to vote for a full Democrat ticket. If the National Democrat committee had pulled Sewell off as was done in Oregon there is no doubt Bryan would be in the presidents chair to day.

The Democrats lost their opportunity and it can not be regained through any overtures at this late hour. The Populists are not saying much. They are "sawing wood." It means no fusion.

All hail, Bryan the typical American.

Farm Residence Burned.

Last Friday afternoon the residence of Frank E. Harris was destroyed by fire, including the entire contents. No one was at home at the time. Mrs. Harris has been sick at the residence of her husbands father for the past two or three weeks. During the day Mrs. Quincy Crume and a sister of Mr. Haris had been at the house engaged in canning berries. The fire in the cook stove had died out one or two hours before they left and thinking every thing was all right went to their homes without giving any further thought. When the fire was discovered, it was under such headway that, had plenty of help been at hand it would have been impossible to have saved the building. Neighbors assembled as rapidly as as possible, but before any had arrived the entire building was in a mass of flames. The fire eminated either from a defective flue or from a spark on the roof. Only what clothing Mr. and Mrs. Harris had with them and a very few bed clothes were saved. The loss is a severe one to Mr. Haaris and is probably in the neighborhood of $600.

A Real Good Time.

M. M. Peery, Dr. Prill, V. B. Goins, O. B. Cyrus and Chas Young, went up Crabtree to the vicinity of Larwood, last Saturday evening for a day's fishing. While all of the party save Goin, participated in a sort of free for all—go as you please fight, in which one man was pulled off a horse and his head punched with a scythe snath, another had his ear chawed and the third was kicked by the horse. When peace was declared it was soon ascertained that none were severely injured except Mark Peery, who yet complains of soreness in his sides. On the following day the party, after registering their names with some farmer up there, in order, we presume, to proove that they had been there should the fact be desputed, returned to their homes in this city, with a few trout and a great deal of experience.

It might be well to add, by way of explanation, that Findley was pulled from the horse, Howard Rose was the one kicked by the horse and Sam Fleener had his ear chewed; Mark Peery was general rusher Charlie Young bottle holder, O. B. Cyrus referee, Dr. Prill time-keeper and lint dispenser, and Virgil Goin spectator (at a safe distance.) The farmer with whom they registered names, holds a commission as justice of the peace. We judge they had a real good time.

Joint Meeting.

The members of Scio Tent No 87, K. O. T. M. and of Hive No— L. O. T. M. of this city will meet in joint meeting at their hall in this city on next Saturday evening. Music Literary program and refreshments will be the order, so every member of both orders should be on hand.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.
