The Union (Fraternal) picnic on the 31st inst promises to be a successful affair. Several good prizes for contests are offered.

LOOK HERE—L. W. Pomery & son are prepared to bale hay and straw, during the present season, in a satisfactory manner, for all.

The Scio Roller Mills flour is highly satisfactory to the Insane Asylum athorities. A letter has been received by Messrs Johnson & Phillips from Supt. Paine, highly commending their flour.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlaine's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by EWING & PEERY.

A fine new school house is being erected at Shelburn. It is to be a two-room building and will be completed by the middle of September, in time for the fall term of school. A number of families from Utah have settled in the district, adding to the pupils in the district about twenty in number.

"Last summer one of our grand children was sick with bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Frederichstown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by EWING & PEERY.

You can get coffee now at Hibler's that is cheaper than roasted wheat or corn.

We hear of wheat yields in this vicinity of over 40 bushels to the acre, for which we should give thanks to the great Mark Hanna.

S. C. Browne, M. D. Physician & Surgeon. Calls answered town and country, day or night. Office in residence next door to SCIO PRESS office Scio Ore,.

The oldest person in Linn county by far is Mrs. Mercy Simons, of Sodaville, now over 104 years of age. Mrs. Fisher, 95 years old, is Albany's oldest resident.

Yukon gold contains considerable silver, iron and lead, and is worth about $1 less than California gold. The nuggets are worth $17 and $18 per ounce, and the finer gold-dust is worth from $16 to $18 per ounce.

The Jefferson ball twirlers came over last Sunday afternoon and played a practice game with the Scio team, resulting in a victory for the visitors. It is quite probably that these two teams will contest for the picnic prize next Saturday.

All of the necessrty preliminary arrangements for the picnic next Saturday have been made. It is expected that a very large crowd will be in attendance all of whom will no doubt have a day of enjoyment.

The A. O. U. W. grand lodge has changed its method of levying death assessments. A member now pays according to age after the manner of the Maccabees and Woodmen. A reserve fund is also provided for. It is thought that the tax on the member, especially if he is a young man, will be very much lower.

Hop lice are said to be in evidence in nearly all of our yards. The weather will have largely to do with whether the hops are injured by the parasite or not. Should the weather be warm and sunshiney, no injury to speak of will result; if cloudy and damp, at least one-half of the crop will be spoiled. The price promises to be 15 cents per pound or better.

Among the new samples at the Linn county exhibit room, in Albany, is some wheat secured by Mr. Watts from the farm of A Croft, of Orleans precinct. It is simply wonderful in its size, a small bunch weighing almost like gold ore, says the Albany Democrat. From 13 acres Mr. Croft threshed 42½ bushels an acre, actual yield. The wheat is the English blue stem.

Henry Marx, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Marx, of Eugene, died shortly after midnight at Sodaville, Oregon, last Thursday morning, from heart disease, aged 21 years, 3 months 29 days. He was born in the city of Portland on March 23, 1876 and went to Eugene with his parents when about three years of age. The young man was ill only a few moments. His remains were taken home Thursday evening.

Mr. R. L. White who lives near the foothills east of this city was in town Wednesday. He informs us that the coyotes in that vicinity are still feasting upon turkeys. They do most of their work in the day time, and since our last writing have gotten away with 150 birds belonging to Dug Wassom and 45 belonging to Gabe Warner. An effort will be made to secure dogs and capture them or drive them from the country.—Harrisburg Review.

The man who shaves himself may read a dreadful warning in the experience of Charles Cohee, an economical citizen of Mount Holley, N. J. He was shaving in a hurry one day last week, when his razor slipped and cut off the end of one of his fingers. Cohee tried in vain to stauch the flow of blood. He was unable to do so, and finally lost so much blood that he fell in a faint. As he fell his head struck the stove, and his jaw bone was fractured and three teeth were knocked out.

Hon. D. Solis Cohen of Portland, has just returned from a seven weeks' visit to the east, but has nothing very encouraging to speak of excepting the crops. These, he says, will be unusually large and superior in quality from the Atlantic to the Pacific seaboard. The prices, also he predicts, upon information received, will range as high as any quoted within the last five or six years. But the great problem now to be solved, he says, is the disaster arising from the centralization of trade in the large cities, which is sapping the ambition of the young business men there.

The Eugene Guard says that, in every part of Lane county, there are more hop lice and honey dew on the hop vines than ever before, and that it is the general opinion that yards not sprayed will go unharvested, and therefore the greater number of growers are running sprayers from daylight to dark. The Guard is informed that the second crop of the vermin is making its appearance in yards sprayed a week ago. This will necessitate another spraying, and possibly more. William Nels, near Springfield, has already sprayed his yard five times.

A man in Kansas City asks for a divorce from his wife because she went in bathing "clad in a little dinky bathing suit about as big as a pocket handkerchief." Women going to Newport will take warning.

The Corvallis Gazette is certainly overdoing matters these harvest times. Its edition of last week was a splendid number, consisting of eight pages of eight colums each, in which the Corvallis business men, Agricultural College, O. C. & E. R. R. are given meritorious write ups. Our neighbor will certainly have to take a week off after this effort, and imbibe Yaquina ozone in order to repair his wasted energies. Laying all jokes aside, the Gazette of the 23 inst. reflects credit on its proprietor both editorially and mechanicall yand is probably the best number that has ever eminated from that office.

Do you want to go over to Yaquina on Sunday August 8? We are making arrangements for an excursion on that day, leaving the foot of Main street, Scio at 6 A. M. and returning on the same evening. This will give you some five or six hours on the beech. The fare for the round trip will be $2,00. Fix up a basket of grub preparatory to having a picnic on the beech. In order to insure the excursion, report immediatly to us whether or not you desire to and will go. It is required that 50 tickets will be sold.

Serious Accident.

Late Wednesday evening Earnest Long and Ot Bilyeu were driving into town, having a large hog in Richardsons butcher wagon. Three teams were driving in the same direction close together, Long being behind. The second team, Mr. Trask, drove to the side of the road in order to pass the first team, Long following up. Mr. Trask passed in safety but by some means Long's wagon (the left side) passed over the end of a log that was concealed in the dogfennel, through which he was driving. This occured just as he was driving by the horses of the first vehicle and Long was thrown out of his wagon and against the near horse of the team he was passing. This caused the horse to jump which threw Long back under his own wagon, the wheels of which passed over his feet. As he fell his right hip and side struck a rock. He held the team, however, and he was at once picked up and brought to town.

Dr. Prill was called and made examination. He ascertained that the right hip was dislocated, with the top or end of the hip bone broken; also two of the short ribs on the right side were broken. The injured hip and ribs were restored to their proper positions and Long made as comfortable as possible. On the following morning, he was moved on a stretcher to Mrs. Jennie McKnight's, his boarding place, where he will be nursed to convalescence. Fortunately Mr Long holds a sick and funeral policy in the K. O. T. M. and will draw a benefit of $5 per week pending his disability.

The expense of his office so far this year has been $1496 and he estimates it will not run over $2150 or $2500 for the year, $3000 is his legal pay.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Everybody busy now and items scarce, but look out after harvest.

R. L. DeVaney has built an addition to his house; and S. A. DeVaney and William Bilyeu finished digging his well, and S. A. DeVaney walled the same.

It is generally reported in the neighborhood that the Rev. Hautman umpired the ball game last Sunday, as a reason for his not filling his appointment at this place. People generally are anxious to find out if such is the case. If so, the excuse is sufficient.

The people seemed disposed to chew over their disappointment, and at the most heated time Ernest Long came along with some splendid beef and sold all he had before noon. The Jefferson Review correspondent has agreed to notify Earnest if they are disappointed again so that he may bring them a tougher piece to chew next time.
