Mr. Jefferson Myers, of Salem, came up Wednesday. Ben Cleveland, of Albany, was in this city Tuesday.

L. W. Pomeroy & Son have hauled 50 tons of straw this fall. Quite a run.

Eve Bilbey and family, of Portland, are visiting relatives and friends in this city.

Lee Bilbey has rented the Kinder farm and will soon be back near his old stamping grounds.

Mr. Holden of Salem was up Wednesday looking after the hop crop of this vicinity.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Ad Harmon, an old time saloon keeper of Scio, died at Roseburg recently.

The Linn county side of the Stayton bridge is now all right for travel. W. H. Roberts fixed it last Monday.

One day last week J. C. Wilkins, a farmer living 12 miles beyond Lebanon came to Scio for a load of flour.

Last week at Salem a stranger made an attempt to pick Uncle Tom Allison's pocket. Had he succeeded it would have been worth something to him as the pocket contained $200 at the time.

Frank Gill and W. A. Ewing went down to Portland Tuesday. Frank will attend the Grand Lodge K. of P. At intends going down the Columbia for a short stay.

Senator A. J. Johnson, of Scio, has been elected as one of the trustees of the Oregon state fair in place of Mr. M. Wilkins, who served in that capacity for so many years.

There will be a show given at the City hall to-night, Prof. Troxel will give a free slack wire exhibition before the show proper opens. Doors open at 7:30. Admission 25 cents. Children 15 cents.

While out hunting last Wednesday evening in the river bottom below Shelburn, Tommy Smallman met a black bear face to face.

School will commence next Monday at Shelburn with Will Miller as principal and Nellie Jester in the primary department.

Miss Beattie Cary, of Independence, who has been visiting relatives here, received a telegram from Charles Cary saying that he was very ill. She returned home but found Charles so much improved that she came back with Mrs. S. A. Johnson who drove down with her.

The heavy stable has made another change in business. This time Mr. John Cyrus, recently of Albany, says a half interest, Riley Calavan and Uncle Alf Shelton retiring. We understand Mr. Cyrus traded his farm south of Scio for his part.

Mr. T. J. Munkers has a field of fall wheat which promises a fine crop for next harvest. It was sown about the first of September and now the average height is from fourteen to fifteen inches.

On Sunday of last week a very pleasant family reunion was held at the home of Ben McDonald in this city. A dinner also was given in honor of Grandma McDonald who is now in her 74th year.

As Bill Brenner was coming toward home last Wednesday, driving a bunch of cattle, he was overtaken while on Albany prairie by a stray cow. He chased the cow back up the lane several times, trying to get rid of her, but all to no purpose.

At the dance given Wednesday night by W. H. Wickham, in celebration of his daughter's marriage, some of the young men tried to turn the dance into a genuine Irish jubilee.

Confidence Not Fully Restored

Confidence has not been fully restored among the farmers living in the Forks of the Santiam as the following will show: Last week, as mentioned elsewhere in this paper Bill Brenner brought a cow home that he did not keep, a farmer from Albany prairie claiming the same, and making his claim good by taking her home with him, leaving Brenner to explain the matter as best he could.

Our Butcher it seems also made some kind of a mistake this week in selecting an animal intended for the block. He claims he roped a beef thinking it was his own, and started to get it out of the pasture to the road, when the blamed thing sussed and laid down. While trying to get it on its legs again, the man came along who owned the "critter," and made him turn it loose.

And last but not least, J. N. Morris was asked how many sheep he had in a certain pasture. Joe did not know. The man thought that strange, which was natural. To make the thing plain, the farmer in question is minus 25 sheep. Joe's sheep range is near by, the circumstances surrounding the matter point to one thing. Well, we think it given a little more time Joe can explain the thing away.

All of the men in question think the farmers in this section have not the confidence in human nature they had a few years ago.

Through the courtesy of Mr. T. J. Munkers we reprint part of a letter from his brother-in-law Mr. Tom M. Namer who started for Klondike last August. Those here who know Connie are sure that if black, endurance and integrity will win in Klondike as elsewhere, Connie will surely not come out empty handed.

We are far ahead of any one else who came up on the Elber and is doing his own packing. Will spend about $500 this week, so that we can get started earlier. Men are making $15 to $25 a day here packing. There were five men drowned here since we arrived and one shot for stealing. We have more provisions than any other $100 on the trail. We were offered $750 for the four mules two weeks after we landed but could not spare them. We have one best done and the other will be done by the 10th of the 18th we sail if we have no luck. It has not froze any to speak of yet but there has been a freezing rain most of the time. Flour is selling at $23 a sack and bacon at 50 cents per pound. Eighteen sheep came in yesterday and I got $50 for killing them. During the storm on Lake Linderman 2 boats were wrecked and three lives lost. One fellow came to camp Sunday with 80 pounds of gold. He had just come up from the Yukon. I may not be able to get a letter out again before spring.

A Fatal Burn.

At Medford last Friday, while getting breakfast Mrs. J. L. Wigle had her clothes catch on fire, and she rushed from the house in flames. A son attempted to put them out, but not until she was seriously burned. The injuries were so severe as to cause her death, from which she died Friday night. The remains were brought to Harrisburg, from which place she had recently moved, for burial. The deceased leaves a husband and four children. She was an old resident of Linn county, and was highly respected.—Albany Democrat.

A murderous row took place Sunday night, on the Grand Ronde reservation, in which about 20 Indians took part.

It is reported that the Indians broke into a house and seized a barrel of hard cider, and went in for a "hily skookum" time. It is supposed that they had something stronger than cider at the outset, but it is not known for a certainty. During the night a general fight took place, in which clubs and axes were freely used.

Jesse Wheeler was struck on the head with a hatchet, and was rendered insensible for hours.

Joe Young was struck in the face by Joe Dawg, and died in less than 30 minutes.

A number of others were more or less injured.—Oregonian.

The Sunset Telephone Co., are expecting to connect Portland and San Francisco by telephone before New Years 1898. Only about 400 miles yet to build.
