Go to O'riens the cheapest store in Albany.

Spectacles for a pair at Peery & Peery's.

Mr. James Dickens and mother expect to start to Eastern Oregon on a visit to relatives the first of next week.

Johnny Morris had a knife and scabbard made this week with KLONDIKE stamped on the scabbard. He has been acting strange for some time, but this explains the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Harnish were over from Albany Tuesday. They came over to get some fruit from their orchards here. Mrs. N. T. Higgins accompanied them home for a short visit.

Messrs. John, George, Albert Hay, and Clabe Quonter went hunting on the Little North Fork of the Santiam last Thursday. They expect to be joined, later on, by Joe Warwick.

Marshall Richardson is on crutches. He received a very bad fall last week, in Jefferson, where he has been studying photography. The fall was caused by a loose board in the sidewalk.

A couple of Albany men are arranging to hunt geese in a decoy cove. Geese are not afraid of cows, hence a big killing is anticipated. It is also anticipated that this crew will be more sought after than spotted horses.—Democrat.

George Daley, who went to Princeton a few weeks ago, returned home last Sunday. His horse gave out on the way over, but he walked back from Princeton to Scio in four days. He walked from upper Scio in home the last days walk. He found considerable snow at the summit.

Mrs. Geo. Allen, living 1 mile above Scio on Thomas creek, had the misfortune to break her arm last Saturday. She had been visiting at a neighbor's, and when on the road home her horse threw her breaking both bones of her right arm above the wrist. Dr. Prill reduced the fracture.

Sam Dugger has bought Jack Jones' interest in the Wigwam and will conduct the business alone hereafter. He expects to move the business to the building now occupied by Dr. Brown as an office in the near future. Dr. Brown will occupy the building formerly used as a barber shop.

Two students were expelled from the university yesterday for gambling. It is said that a third student did not care to stand trial and left to avoid the action of the faculty. We are told that the U of O grand jury is in session and that more "true bills" may be found.—Register.

The grand jury brought in a true bill against Jas Blackburn, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Wm. Maher. At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the defendant plead not guilty and the trial of the case was set for 1 o'clock in the afternoon. After investigating the case the district attorney consented to a plea of guilty of a simple assault, which was made by the defendant, and sentence was to be pronounced Thursday at 9 A. M. The attorney in connection with his statement said that it was the intention of the defendant to leave the country.

Last Tuesday night Mrs. Yarbro, who lives at the Pitchford farm, was awakened by somebody moving in the bedroom. Thinking it was some of the family, as the person seemed to be fumbling in the pockets of Mr. Yarbro's trousers which was hanging on the bed post, she called to him but receiving no answer after calling the second time she became frightened and screamed to awaken her husband. When Mr. Yarbro did finally wake up the burglar had escaped. Upon investigation it was found that two dozen eggs were taken together with some cake and other victuals. The thief had opened three doors to make sure of having a clear way of escape.

Dr. E. O. Hyde is visiting friends in Scio after an absence of one year. He traveled through Arizona and California while away, but thinks there are no better people to be found anywhere than in and around Scio. He is now living at University Park, Portland, Or. The doctor says he liked Arizona, especially as he done a fine business there, but he was compelled to leave that climate on account of Mrs. Hyde's health. He visited white away, or located in most of the principal towns down the coast, being at Phoenix, Glendale, Congress Mines, Fools Gulch Mines, Arizona, Elandro, Sandiego, Los Angeles, and San Francisco, California.

Oscar is at Jerome, Arizona, where he has a good position as clerk in a large store, while Walter is with a surveying outfit in Southern California.

A Tough Lad.

A little over two weeks ago there came to Billy Arnold's home, two miles East of Scio, a young man looking for work. A bargain was finally made between Mr. Arnold and the stranger, who proved to be Owen Hunt, formerly of Stayton, in which Hunt agreed to give two weeks work for a shotgun. Hunt went to work the next morning. At about the same time that Hunt came to Mr. Arnold's, Mrs. Ida Neal living on the Pitchford farm, lost a gold watch and a gold finger ring, with no clue whatever as to where the things had gone to, and nothing much was said about it.

Last week Owen Hunt traded a ladies gold watch to Arthur McDonald for a dog and 50 cents to boot, saying he would rather have the dog than the watch, for then he could hunt birds. As the watch was out of order, Mr. McDonald brought the watch to A. W. Hagey for repairs. While in the jeweler's shop, Mr. Ed Pitchford, brother to Mrs. Neal, discovered the watch and claimed it as belonging to his sister. Upon investigation the theft was easily traced to Hunt, and he was made to produce the ring which he had in his pocket.

Hunt is a tough case, and has already served time at the Reform School. Hunt must have stolen the watch and ring when he first came into the neighborhood as he was seen to have the watch the next day after going to work for Mr. Arnold.

Without warning a cofferdam retaining a wall of water 28 feet high gave way at Oregon City last Tuesday, carrying 10 men to what seemed almost certain destruction. By a chance effect of the men got out, but two men Anton Natterlin and Jacob McComb were drowned.

Fred and Theodore Miller, two brothers who were at work in the power house, heroically sprang into the whirlpool, which formed after the dam broke, and aided by men on shore, rescued eight of the victims, who had been swept to a second dam, 100 feet below, and there were thrust to the surface by a merciful freak of the current. Four of them sustained slight injuries, and one, Thomas Smith, seems to be seriously hurt.

It is claimed, of course, by those interested that the accident was caused by the carelessness of the workmen themselves. But one thing is always noticeable the men in charge seldom, if ever, get hurt. The foreman was upon a scow, where he should be out of danger. The superintendent was away. All agreed it was a dangerous place and one man noticed the timbers spring every time a bolt was loosened, but still the work went on. It was a miracle that any of the gang escaped.

300 acres of land 5 miles Southeast of Scio, 150 acres in cultivation, balance open pasture and brush, some timber. Three-fourths of this is No. 1 farming land, price $15 per acre. Terms, half cash, balance, one year. Will rent the purchaser 275 acres adjoining the above for a term of years, 125 acres of which is in cultivation, balance, pasture, brush, and some timber, good house and barn, orchard, etc. This is an opportunity for some one to make money.

RILEY SHELTON, Scio, Oregon.

BORN—To the wife of Price Munkers, at Munkers Station, Wednesday, Oct. 27, 1897, a boy.

MARRIED.

BILYEU—HENDERSON.—At the residence of E. C. Perrine, Salem, Or., at 10 A. M. Sunday, Oct. 24, 1897, Miss Minnie Bilyeu to C. S. Henderson, Rev. H. A. Denton officiating.—Capital Journal.

DIED.

AVERILL.—At the residence of his son, Mr. A. A. Averill, in Brownsville, Thursday evening, Oct. 21, at 12:40 p. m., Mr. H. J. C. Averill, aged 88 years, 3 months and 1 day.

The deceased was a pioneer of 1852, and leaves a noble record. He was county surveyor for fourteen years, and justice of the peace for ten years or more. He was married twice and had five children. For a number of years he has been too feeble to work.

MUNKERS.—At his home, four miles east of Salem, at 9:30 p. m., Friday, Oct. 22, 1897, W. R. Munkers, aged 76 years.

Deceased is an old pioneer of Marion county, coming across the plains in 1846, locating on a farm east of Salem, where he has since resided.

Deceased leaves nine children, five daughters and four sons, his wife preceded him to the grave in January, 1886.

Of the party that crossed the plains with the Munkers brothers, still living, are W. B. David, Ben and James Simpson, and David Guthrie.

W. T. Emery's steam flouring mills at Oakland burned at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The loss is $12,000. They carried $5,000 insurance. About 9000 bushels of wheat were stored in the building, belonging to the firm and farmers. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought it may have originated in the furnace-room.

Corvallis Times

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe, and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the many good recommendations contained therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly. Indeed, it acted like magic and the result was a speedy cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by PEERY & PEERY.
