

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Go to O'Brien's the cheapest store in Albany.

Uncle Dick Carmike, of Prineville, and old resident of this county, has just returned to Seio, where he expects to buy land, and go into the chicken business exclusively.

Ira Hilyeu while blocking the wood saw engine, as it was being pulled up a steep pitch, had the misfortune to get the fingers of one hand under the wheel, squeezing his hand severely.

The bowling alley is now completed and presents a very neat appearance, besides improving the alleys generally. Tom Claxton who did the work, planned the alleys down a very difficult piece of work.

The rock with the queer markings that was spoken of some time since, has returned from the Smithsonian Institute. There was no significance or meaning in the strange figures on the stone. It is supposed to be the working of nature in some mysterious way.

The farm residence of Mrs. Looney, near Tangent, was burned Monday, having caught in the roof, was entirely burned, together with nearly all the contents, after an effort was made by the neighbors to save the property.

A very enjoyable halloween evening was spent, by some of the boys and young men of this place, last Sunday evening. They moved signs and piled miscellaneous things in front of the doors of the business portion of town, giving main street a very much tumbled up appearance.

The little son of W. H. Wickham had his elbow thrown out of place the first of the week. It was caused by a schoolmate throwing a stone and striking him on the arm. The boy was brought to town and Dr. Cole straightened the dislocation.

The rascal that stole John Brock's pure bred pointer, McGinty, has never been located. He was a dog that would attract attention in any company. Fleet and staunch, with true nose and excellent bird sense, he was a great loss, being the only one of his kind in this section.

Henry Queener of San Francisco, formerly of this city is visiting friends and relatives in Seio. Henry is conductor on an electric car line in San Francisco, having worked there for nearly two years. He has just recovered from a spell of sickness, and is taking this visit to recuperate his health. He expects to go to Nicaragua in the near future, where he will act as foreman on a coffee plantation.

Jeff Myers and O. D. Gabrielson of the Salem Rod and Gun Club, went to Portland Wednesday morning upon invitation from the Arlington club of that city to participate in a duck shoot on Sauvie's island near that city. Mr. Myers took with him a $10 gold piece and there is no question but he will return with that amount.—Salem Journal.

For sale—One second hand ten horse power engine, and an Advance 38 inch cylinder separator. All in good order. Call on Austin & Austin, four miles East of Albany, Oregon.

Texas has an editor without arms, but writes with toes. He is proprietor of the Mount Pleasant Items Review. Texas also has a blind girl that is a successful farmer, her name is Mary Ashby. She lives at Oak Hills, and cultivates the land herself. She has cleared about $200 each season for several years.

Two wild cats in a crate en route from Kansas City to Chicago fought until one killed and ate the other, to the terror of the express messenger.

Dolly Burton, a pioneer of Lane county, dropped dead Monday, while in the act of dehorning a bull.

The latest returns from Ohio are that Mark Hanna has carried that state by from 12000 to 15000 majority. The legislature, it is claimed, will stand 75 republicans to 10 democrats. Van Wyck, candidate of the Tammany democrats for mayor of Greater New York, was elected Tuesday by 85,308 plurality.

Those Gypsies.

The gypsies who passed through Seio some time since have got into trouble in Salem. It seems the young girl who was with them was of French persuasion and not gypsy at all, and the big fellow, Butler, wanted to marry her. He was jealous of the girl, frequently whipping and otherwise abusing her, as was shown at his trial in Salem last week.

The court, district attorney and examining physician pronounced Butler a sensualist, devoid of moral sensibility, and a fit subject for the penitentiary, but not insane, and he was discharged. The old woman, who told fortunes, proved to be a wretch addicted to drunkenness, having delirium tremens and snakes, a fit subject for the Keeley Institute.

Later—Pearl Boyd, the bright Gypsy girl, who has been the principal in quite a romance in local circles, has been provided a home by a committee of ladies in whose care she has been the last week. A respectable family in a neighboring city, consisting of but the parents and one daughter, has decided to adopt the girl and give her every educational advantage.—Journal.

Linn County Gold.

State Senator Alonzo Gesner arrived home Tuesday from the country a few miles south of the Quartzville Lumber mining district, where he and a party of young men did some surveying of mining claims located by them not long ago. While there they have made a discovery of some ore. A considerable quantity of the ore has been brought out by the locators at various times and sent to the assayer's office in Portland with results that indicate that the party has a small sized Klondike in Linn county about eighty miles from Salem. The locators propose to let their claims lay idle this winter but next spring they will push the work of developing them.—Statesman.

Important Invention.

Mr. N. P. Slate, of Tangent, has nearly ready for trial an important invention. It is a steam plow of ingenious construction. It works as anticipated it will plow fifteen acres of ground in a day. When the Webfoot plows he has to do so in a hurry, with a prospect of rain at any moment, and time is money, hence this invention will be a great thing for the farmer.

A peculiar accident recently happened at Lyons. The two children of Philip Lantzy, aged seven and five, were riding a horse when the whole three fell through a covering into an old well twenty feet deep. Fortunately the horses neck was broken and he never stirred. Mr. Lantzy was near by, and slipping down a pipe that remained in the well, with the assistance of neighbors soon had the two children out without any serious injury to them. An addition to the accident was the loss by Mrs. Lantzy while looking down in the well of a set of teeth, which was only secured by pumping the well dry.—Democrat.

A son of Wm. Jacka, living on Deer Creek, Southern Oregon, was burned to death last Wednesday. It seems that the young man, who was about 29 years old, was subject to fits, and on that day had been left alone in the house for a while. When the family returned at noon, he was lying in the fireplace, horribly burned, and already dead. His burning clothes would soon have set fire to the house had the discovery of the tragedy been longer postponed. A book lying near a chair told the simple story of the young man's awful death—how he was sitting by the fire reading, when a sudden attack of his malady caused him to fall helplessly into the fire.

The Corvallis agricultural college authorities have issued circulars announcing the farmers' short course held every winter at the institution. The course will begin January 11 and end February 10, and will embrace lectures by professors Shaw, Cordley, Craig and French.

Old Moore's almanac, which won notoriety the past year by predicting the Paris fire, predicts for 1908 a terrible civil war in the United States, the death of the Czar and the kidnapping of the young King of Spain; and that about the second week of November of that year communication will be opened with Mars.

BORN—To the wife of R. R. Gill, on Monday Nov. 1, a bouncing baby boy.
