Three cases of measles were reported in one family this week. The cases referred to were the little ones in the family of the editor of this paper. And he was kept jumping sideways carrying something to drink, wringing out hot cloths, running on errands etc. Confound the measles any way.

Hubbard Bilyeu is suing R E Misener at Prineville to recover $400, which he gave to Misener for safe-keeping. Misener testified in his own behalf that, having no safe, he hid the money behind a pile of mineral water bottles, thinking that no one would disturb so mild a thing as a mineral water bottle The money was stolen. Judge Bradshaw has the case under advisement.—Oregonian.

Attempted Robbery.

An attempt was made to blow open the safe of R. E. Hibler's general merchandise store last Friday night The outer door was drilled through and a charge of powder set off which failed to do any material damage.

The thieves used poor judgement in tackling such a safe, as it is warranted burglar proof for eight hours and is considered the best safe in town except the safe in the bank. It was this safe that was rolled out in the floor and left unmolested when the robbers sacked this town a number of years ago.

Usually not much coin is kept in the safe, probably not more than is neccessary for change used in the business. Sums of any amount, aside from check, which no one but the firm could use, are deposited in the bank, which is near by,

The would be robbers left a monkey wrench, two chisels and oil cloth buggy curtain behind them, as it is supposed they were frightened away They went into the black smith shop of Gill and Ray and secured drills and other tools with which they done part of the work. They entered the store by the front door, breaking the lock off.

Nothing was taken of any value except some silk handkerchiefs. They were after bigger game. Had they succeeded in getting open the front door of the safe, they would have encountered a second door, of the safe proper, seven inches thick, of the best safe steel, so put together as to be practically burglar proof.

Since the store was broken into, it has been discovered that a hole has been dug into the wall of the building on the north side, behind a pile of wood stacked there. Several bricks have been removed showing plainly that an attempt had been made to enter the building at some time or other, in that manner.

Scio will celebrate. Make up your minds to that effect. It will be a celebration to be remembared too, remember that. The business men of the town and Scio's citizens generally are not going to squeeze onto any money in this matter, and things will be whooped up to the last degree.

A man giving his name as Sid Moore, and claiming to be from Corvallis, was placed in the city jail Saturday night. He is a cocaine and morphine fiend of the worst type, and his arms and legs are in a frightful condition from the effects of the injections of the drugs. He was raving yesterday morning, and had to be given an injection to pacify him, and was then ordered out of town. He begged for more cocaine before leaving, but it was refused him and he went off crying like a baby. Death would be a relief to such a man, and every day of his life he is suffering the worst tortures imaginable.—Eugene Register. Moore is a former Scio boy. He resided at Albany and Corvallis, and was known as a tin horn. He recently came from Prineville and other E O towns.—Democrat

Advices received from Hong Kong by the steamer Doric, state that Li Hung Chang, the aged Chinese statesman, was assaulted recently, almost in the presence of the celestial emperor. Li was entering the grand audience hall to interview the emperor. It was about 3 o'clock in the morning as the former viceroy was passing through a double line of imperial guards, near the palace gates, a man dressed in black, who was concealed behind the guards, broke though the line and struck at the old statesman. Li Hung Chang dodged and his assailant first struck him on the shoulder. The man then tried to trip Li, but a blow from the sword of one of the guards brought the stranger to the ground and he was soon over powered and placed under arrest. He carried no arms and the object of the attack is unknown. Li proceeded to the residence of the emperor and had his interview.

Hurrah For Dewey

May 13.

Hong Kong, May 15.—"I am maintaining a strict blockade. I have reason to believe that the rebels are hemming in the city by land, but they have made no demonstration. There is a scarcity of provisions in Manila. It is probable that the Spanish governor will be obliged to surrender soon. I can take Manila at any moment. The climate is hot and moist. May 12 we captured the gunboat Callao, attempting to run the blockade. We have plenty of coal. One British, one French, two German and one Japanese vessels are here observing. "DEWEY."

May 18.

Secretary Long this afternoon said: "It can be stated positively and officially that the Oregon is safe but it cannot be properly made known where she is."

There is reason to believe that the department was informed today that the Oregon had joined Sampson's fleet, though no official admission on this point has yet been made. It is believed the big battleship left Bahia on the 10th or the morning of the 11th. The same average speed made on the way around Cape Horn would place her in the windward founded the department will be relieved of a great load of apprehension and it will be able to proceed at once to the prosecution of a plan of campaign that was very desirable, but impossible of execution so long as the safety of the Oregon was at stake.

Naval Scouting.

The mystery surrounding the movements of the Spanish fleet is said here to show the system of the naval scouting is in its infancy The Morning Post says, rather ironically:

"What have the American's swift cruisers been doing since the commencement of the war? Apart from the single possibility of admiral Cervera's efforts proving successful, more inaptitude has never been displayed than in the present. war. The failure of the beautiful merchant cruisers on both sides is calculated to support the opinion of those who think the money expended in England in subsidizing cruisers might be much better employed."

The Daily Chronicle, referring to the same subject, admits the failure of the scouts, but says:

"England would have done better under similar circumstances, because of late years our naval maneuvers have been devised with a view of obtaining instruction in this direction. We greatly doubt that the Cadiz cuisers have arrived at Martinique, first, because they are not ready, and, second because they are wanted to convey reinforcements to the Philippines."

Preparations for the relief expedition to be sent to the Philippines are being hurried in both the military and navy departments, says the Madrid correspondent of the World. Five battalions, each 1200 men, under eight officers, are assembled at Cadiz, Barcelona and Valencia, all ready, or will be ready for embarkation this week. This force will be commanded by General Campradi. It is made up wholly of picked men, who have served two years. Several batteries will go with the expedition and large supplies of stores and coal. Warships to convey the transports will go from Cadiz to Barcelona.

A Spanish fleet was to leave Cadiz today, bound for the Philippine islands. The troops and warships, will go by way of the Suez canal. Its object is to raise the blockade by Admiral Dewey's ships if possible and recover possession of the islands. If that cannot be accomplished troops will be landed for the purpose of enabling Manila to try to hold out against capture until the plans for intervention by Europe might restore the islands to Spain.

Gladstone Dead.

Mr. Gladstone died May 9 at 5 o'clock

Mr. Gladstone had been unconscious practically all day yesterday, though at times he seem to recognize for a moment some of the watchers about him. Certainly, he did recognize his wife, who was beside him all day, except when the physician prevailed upon her to rest. She tenderly clasped her husband's hand as she watched him.
