The state fair has closed. If it was not a success it was owing to weather conditions and a lack of co-operation. To say the least it was more nearly conducted on busness principles than for several years, and we believe a foundation has been laid that will insure a much better fair hereafter.

An eastern dealer says the business of manufacturing "foreign" cheese in the United States has grown to such an extent that the output now amounts in value to about $10,000,000 per year. Swiss cheese is made chiefly in Wisconsin and Ohio. Roqueforte is manufactured on the shores of the Great Lakes. Farmers in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., turn out tons of "Stilton," "Cheshire," "Parmesan" and similar cheese. Many kinds of foreign cheese have been made successfully in Oregon.—Oregon Agriculturist.

It has been a common thing for Oregon canneries to put up fruit for California canneries to be sold under the label of the latter, and it is quite probable that there has been some reciprocal business. It is rather surprising, however, that tomatoes have this year been canned in Portland for a cannery at San Jose, Cal. It is an indication of the great progress which has been made in growing tomatoes here when but a few years ago there were never enough of the home-grown article to supply the local demand at any time during the season.

It is a disgrace the whole nation that the official acts of one high in authority should be such as to demand an investigation. It is also a disgrace that such men should be retained in power. Their services should be dispensed with the very moment that charges of sufficient importance as to demand an investigation are made. Too many political bargains are made for the welfare of the nation and its people. These, to, are too well remembered in the appointment of the nations officials high in authority.

Not long ago mention was made in the Albany papers of a man beating his horse to death, presumably because it could not pull the load put upon it. Nothing has been done to punish the man for his fiendise work, so far as we have noticed, and in this justice is most certainly lacking. A man who will delibertly beat a dumb animal until death relieves its sufferings, is too low in the scale of beings to be classed as a man, and no punishment is to severe. To put an animal in harness and place upon it a load too heavy for its strength to move and then beat it to death because it is not equal to the task is a crime which should not go unpunished.

Few there are who have attended the State fair this year and returned home satisfied with what they have seen. It is a fact that the fair, so far as being one representative of the state and its rescurces and industries, its products and its factories is concerned was a failure. Blame for this is very unjustly heaped upon the present management. We say unjustly, for it is our belief that the fair has gone down year after year until it has reached the present deplorable condition. The blame should be placed on those in authority a number of years ago. The management of the fair should have been in the hands of man outside of Salem and who would have made something more than a Marion county fair of it. The present managers are not to blame for this condition of affairs, for the people have long ago lost faith in the State fair.

"The Democrat several days ago published an account of a double wedding at Wells between Ed Pagenkopf and N. M. Clem and a couple of young ladies there. The item came through the mails and the Democrat supposed was all right. It transpires that it was a joke. There was no such wedding. Such jokes are small business and confer no credit on the prepetrator."

Notice of the wedding above referred to was copied by this paper, but was credited to the Democrat, and this fact seemed a little strange, inasmuch as the parties live a short distance from Scio. The Democrat suggests that it was a joke, and a serious one, too. It is just one of those kind of jokes the prepetrator of which should receive the condemnation of the entire community. It is an easy matter to impose upon newspapers in matters of this kind, and a person who will do it has little respect for the feelings of those about whom he perpetrates such jokes.

A man who cannot successfully conduct his own private business and affairs of life cannot be expected to preform successfully the same duties for others, either public or private. Almost daily some person in the employ of others is found short in his accounts. In many cases the parties are under heavy bonds, but this matters not. In others the iron doors of the state prisons are standing ajar, only waiting for the hour of exposure to dawn, and the wheels of justice to revolve and they will close behind one who a few short days before was a shining light in the social whirl of civilization. There are cases where the misappropriation of the funds of an employer is unintentional; where no crime was intended; where the employee was not competnt to fill the position held by him. This we believe to be the case with ex-county treasurer P. G. Morris. He had intirly failed in the administration of his own affairs, still he was entrusted with the affairs and money of the county. The result is a shortage of $3000. Mr. Morris does not deny that the books show a shortage, but thinks they are wrong. He carried the county's money and his own all in one "sack" He got "mixed," and gave himself the benefit of the doubt, hence he leaves a shortage of $3000 to be made good by his bondsmen. It is a case of incompetency in office; nothing more nor less.

The Michigan crop report for September says that threshers' reports show the average yield of wheat this year to be 19.64 bushels per acre, which on a basis of 1,725,148 acres of wheat in the state gives the total wheat yield of the state at 34,162,563 bushels. This is the greatest wheat yield ever reported in that state.

In response to the joint resolution of the Oregon legislature, asking the war department to retain "Battery B" in the service, Adjutant-General H. C. Corbin telegraphs form Washington that there will probably be no more service that will require light artillery, hence the battery cannot be kept in the service. The boys will probably be mustered out next week.

Under a new regulation of the postoffice department a money order may be made payable at the office issuing it. This will be a great convenience to the public in many ways. Thus a person can pay a small bill, or large one for that matter, through the postoffice, without going to the trouble of hunting up the creditor, or a person who wishes to deposit money for safe keeping can secure money orders at small expense payable to himself.

The rapid rise of the land about Huds on Bay is said to be the most remarkable graduat upheavel of an extensive region ever known. Driftwood covered beaches are now 20 to 60 or 70 feet above the water, new islands have appeared, and many channels and all the old harbors have become too shallow for ships. At the present rate, the shallow bay will disappear in a few centuries, adding a vast area of dry land or salt marsh to British territory in America. —Scientific American.

A Spaniard told an American officer: "What especially terrified our men was the huge American negroes. We saw their big black faces through the underbrush and they looked like devils." A young lieutenant of the ninth U. S. infantry, and a southerner at that, said: "Do you know, I would not want anything better than to have a company In a negro regiment. I am from Virginia and have always had the usual feeling about commanding colored troops. But after seeing the charge up the San Juan hill I should like the best in the world to have a negro company. They went up that incline shouting just as I have heard them when they were hunting rabbits in Virginia. The Spanish bullets only made them the wilder to reach the trenches."

At Half Fare.

The music will be the finest ever heard in the Northwest.

Some man with plenty of time on his hands, and much arithmetic in his head has figured out that when a man walks a mile he takes on an average 2263 steps, lifting the weight of his body with each step. when he rides a bicycle of the average gear he covers a mile with the equivalent of only 627 steps, requires no force, bears no burden and covers the same distance in less than one-third of the time.

Oregon Industrial Exposition.

The whole Northwest is going to attend the great fair at Portland Sept. 22 to Oct. 22, because it is going to be representative of the whole Northwest, and is going to have Bennett's full Military Band of 32 pieces. There will be exhibits of all kind, including one sent by the Oregon Volunteers from Manila. There will be pieces of the Spanish warships and of the shells that destroyed them. Also large paintings of every battle by sea and land during the recent war.

The Suthern Pacific is going to carry passengers to the Exposition from all points on its lines at one and one-third fares for the round trip. Don't miss the chance.

It is rather a remarkable coincidence that the edict of the Emperor of China conferring the right on every person to memorialize the throne should have been made public on the same day with the Alger interview in which the Secretary of War authorize the private soldiers to make known their grievances to him. Let us trust that in each case the edict will not be an empty pretense.
