MANY BILLS PASSED.

Oregon's Lawmakers Are Now Getting Down to Work.

In the Oregon state senate Wednesday the following bills were passed: To authorize the construction and maintenance of floodgates on Douglas and other sloughs, Douglas county, to require justices of the peace to submit complaints to the district attorney, except for murder, arson, robbery, grand larceny, before fees may be collected; to provide a trust fund in Multnomah county; to authorize the Eugene divinity school to confer theological and biblical degrees; to amend the act passed last fall so as to make all quartz and placer claims real estate; to remove from principal defendants in prosecutions for abortion the shield afforded by section 2011 of the statutes, which absolves them from testifying on the grounds that it might incriminate the witness; to provide for county clerks to transmit to the secretary of state a summary instead of a complete transcript of assessment rolls, amendments to Oregon Pass charter; to permit suit for possession of real estate to be maintained by plaintiff not in actual possession; to provide for election of a district road supervisor.

Later bills for clerks of the justice courts in Multnomah county, after being amended by striking out the salary feature, were recommitted because found not to be limited to Multnomah county.

Adams' bill to tax dogs also was recommitted, after considerable discussion, for amendment so as to exempt cities where dogs are already licensed.

In the house the bill providing for a special election in Malheur county for relocation of county seat was made a special order for Wednesday, February 1.

Upon motion of Curtis, each Wednesday night hereafter will be devoted to consideration of local measures.

Dr. Joseph's insane asylum bill, which passed the senate yesterday, was rushed through the first and second readings and referred to the committee on penal, reformatory and charitable institutions.

Showin's bill, to amend the charter of Hill, so as to enable the town to issue $2,500 water bonds, was passed.

The joint committee on fisheries, to meet a like committee from the Washington legislature, was excused till Monday next. The bill of Curtis amending the fishing laws was ordered printed and referred to this committee with instructions to bring it to the attention of the Washington committee.

The reappropriation bill was passed in the house Thursday by the narrow margin of one vote.

The bill to create a new county out of portions of Grant, Crook and Gilliam counties was defeated.

A bill for protection of trout, and one for protection of carfish were killed.

A resolution was introduced to restrict the introduction of new bills to February 3, but it was indefinitely postponed.

A resolution changing the date of visiting Corvallis by the joint committee from February 1 to February 4 passed.

In the senate the bill to authorize school clerks and county judges to dispose of land laid in at sales for delinquent taxes came up as a special order Thursday. An amendment excepting from redemption by original owners land contracted to be sold was offered and the bill was recommitted for amendment.

Bills passed were: To amend the law relating to the sale of animals running at large, applicable to Eastern Oregon ranges; to cure defects in deeds heretofore made that are faulty in execution, witnessing or acknowledgment; to amend the law relating to the making of deeds by the sheriff.

The reappropriation bill which passed the house Thursday passed the senate Friday after a debate consuming nearly the whole morning session. The final vote was 22 ayes, 4 noes, 4 absent.

The report of the committee appointed at the special session to investigate the Lowenberg contract at the penitentiary was taken from the table, and amendments proposed to the effect that the $32,500 settlement be made by February 10, that not less than $10,000 be paid in cash and the balance in notes satisfactory to the board, and then the whole matter was made a special order for Tuesday at 2:30 P. M.

In the senate the following bills were introduced during the past week: To put in the hands of the secretary of state the matter of ordering the printing of reports, session laws, circulars, blanks, etc.; to print at the penitentiary upon the written order of the secretary, except that the governor may order the printing of executive documents; to protect life and property from danger of railroad trains by providing numerous regulations for warnings on trains and railroads and exempting from claims for damages railroad companies that comply with the law; to prevent combinations between fire insurance companies to maintain rates—same as the Iowa statute; to amend the charter of Woodburn—passed; to appropriate $30,000 for a flax manufacturing plant at the penitentiary—same as was introduced in the house yesterday; to provide for a uniform public system, and complete codification of school laws; to permit recording in all but one county of certified copies of deeds of property situated in two counties or more; to authorize county officers to sell property bid in for sales for delinquent taxes.

Friday in the house the bill to increase liquor licenses in the state was practically killed by the measure being reported from committee with the recommendation that it do not pass. The report was followed up with a motion to indefinitely postpone. By amendments to the pilotage bill, which was passed Thursday, compulsory pilotage is allowed between Astoria and the bar, and optional pilotage is established between Astoria and Portland.

In the house Friday the bill to promote the culture of sugar beets in the state, by appropriating $50,000 for a series of four years as bounty money, was killed by a vote of 28 noes to 23 ayes.

A bill for the protection of razor clams was passed.

JOSEPH'S BILL PASSED.

Is to Reform Management of the State Insane Asylum.

Salem, Or., Jan. 23.—Joseph's bill to reform the system of management of the state insane asylum, putting the institution in the hands of four trustees appointed by and to act with the governor, was passed by the senate this afternoon by a vote of 21 to 6, after a debate of an hour and a half. By a still larger vote, Driver's bill authorizing county commissioners to employ county assessors, which was passed.

The defeat of Mulkey's resolution to limit the introduction of bills to the 25th day of the session and an invitation that the matter of the Lowenberg contract at the state penitentiary would be reopened were interesting incidents of the senate proceedings.

In the house, six bills were passed, including one carrying an appropriation of $25,000 for building and operating salmon hatcheries, and a bill to appropriate $35,000 for buying and operating the flax mill at the penitentiary was introduced.

Other bills passed were Stillman's bill legalizing marriages contracted within the six months' limit, and amending the code relative to actions for recovery of personal property so that the defendant, where property so claimed by a third party, may surrender the same into the custody of the court; the Ross bill to abolish private seals, and Morton's bill to cure defects in deeds heretofore made.

Many bills were passed through formal readings in both houses. This has been by far the busiest day of the session, and a great amount of work has been accomplished.

Considerably out of the usual order was the proposition of John H. Albert to exchange an eligible full block of voters with the present blind school for the state's former site of the blind school, now occupied by the Salem hospital, so he might present the property to the hospital, and the state would at the same time get more room for the accommodation of the blind. The petition went to the printer under the rules. The property is estimated to be worth $1,750.

SENATE SPECIAL SESSION.

All of Governor Rogers' Appointments Confirmed.

Olympia, Jan. 23.—All of Governor Rogers' appointments during the past two years were confirmed at a special session of the senate this afternoon. The voting for United States senator today was exciting only when Gundersen changed from Humes to Wilson. Two ballots were taken, although an effort was made by fusion members to elect the latter.

A CELEBRATION IN HAVANA

Four Thousand People Assemble to Hear Speeches.

IN HONOR OF FIRST PRESIDENT

Lively Times Are Foreseen in Cuban Politics When Commission Returns—Mass Meeting to Be Held.

Havana, Jan. 21.—Four thousand persons, men in their best clothing and women gaily dressed, stood amid a pouring rain in Paula square today listening to six intensely patriotic eulogies of Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot and first president of the Cuban revolutionary government. A tablet to his memory was unveiled at the house where he was born in a street near by, and 82 societies, consisting of 2,500 persons, with banners, flags and five bands, marched through the principal thoroughfares to the square.

The procession, whose distinguishing feature was 500 girls wearing white dresses and red liberty caps, started at 11 o'clock, reaching the square two hours later. The streets were gaily decorated with Cuban and American flags, and though the interest ran high, there was no disorder of any kind.

Marti's widow, mother and son, led the parade, with the first Cuban flag used by the patriot, which was loudly cheered.

This promise to be a lively week in Cuban politics. The special commission from the Cuban military assembly will return to Havana, after its interview with the Washington government, and popular interest is increasing in the preparations for the mass meeting February 6 at the Tacon theater, where a separatist party, proclaiming the principle of independence, will be founded, under the direction of such men as Senor Giberga, a noted autonomist; General Leyte Vidal, General Lora, Senor Fusterling and other opponents of annexation.

More Dreyfus Agitation.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The government's decision to submit to the chamber of deputies tomorrow a bill providing that the cases of trial revision shall be brought before the revised sections of the court of cassation has reopened the Dreyfus agitation.

The situation appears more confusing and menacing than ever. For days the anti-Dreyfusites have been clamoring to have the case referred to the known Pacific coast lumberman, who has just returned to Sydney, N. S. W., after taking soundings between the island Tongi and Auckland, N. Z. The officers found that Falcon island, which suddenly came up out of the ocean in 1885, is gradually receding.
