OF LOCAL INTEREST

E. O. Hyde, M. D. Scio Ore.
A. G. Prill, Physician and Surgeon Scio Oregon.
Dr. L. J. Todd, Vitapathic Physician, Scio Ore.

The postoffice boxes were treated to a new coat of paint the first of the week.

Beginning this week the Scio creamery will take in milk every day except Sunday.

Dr. Hyde is again under the care of a physician, and this time he is ill with malarial fever.

A meeting of the Oregon Presbytery of the U. P. church was held at Albany the first of the week.

For sale or trade.—House and two lots in Shelburn. For particular enquire of S. M. Cooney, Fallman, Ore.

S. M. Daniel has a new ad in this issue, and it contains something of importance to every purchaser in this locality.

C. A. Lund, who once resided in Scio, has recently been appointed game warden in one of the lower California counties.

W. B. Stevens & Co., of Albany, have a new ad in this issue of THE NEWS, which contains something of interest to the ladies.

Artist Fred Smith has just completed a new sign for the millinery firm of Cole & Wylie, which is quite an artistic piece of work.

White clover seed for sale by C. O. Mayer, one and three-fourths miles above Prindle's mill, on Roaring river. Postoffice address, Jordan, Ore.

Albany bakers have formed a trust. They have raised prices, giving 30 loaves of bread for $1, and have agreed not to sell to middlemen.

Burglars entered the store of Walter L. Toose, at Woodburn, Ore., Saturday night, and attempted to open the safe with explosives. They took nothing.

That part of Wasco county that was formerly in Grant county owes unpaid taxes amounting to $13,358.72. This will be quite a windfall for the new county.

J. Flemming, of Scio, has purchased the Rogers Boarding House in this city and has taken charge of the business, which he will conduct in a first-class manner.—Herald.

H. S. Johnston & Co., have recently purchased two new machines which will be added to their planing mills, which will better equip it for all kinds of work on short notice.

Walt Blyven was taken quite suddenly ill on Friday last with a light paralytic stroke, but has about recovered from the effects of it now, and is able to be out among his friends.

S. E. Higgins has this week turned out another piece of handsome office furniture, in the shape of an oak desk, which occupies a very prominent place in Dr. A. G. Prill's front office.

One of James Arnold's sons is ill with the malarial fever. This is about the last of the disease, which however, found quite a number of victims in this vicinity the past winter.

I have 80 acres of good heavy timber one and one-half miles south of Scio which I will sell or contract with some sawmill men to cut on the shares. Address S. F. Zysset, Scio Ore.

The $35,000 tract (650 acres) of land purchased by the state for a bench of scio in Union has been leased for $750 per year. The Union Republican says that is not half enough rent for the property.

Dr. L. J. Todd makes a specialty of fevers, and can break up all pneumonia, brain fever and all infantile fevers in a few hours, and effect a complete cure in a day. Office on Main street, Scio Ore.

T. J. Munkers has purchased a new Rambler bicycle for Mrs. Munkers. L. L. Calavan, Ross E. Hibler, T. J. Claxton, Wm. May, G. W. Munkers, and F. J. Irvine have each purchased wheels for their daughters.

Spawling & Co. have a large gang of men at work cutting white fir logs near the C. & E. bridge across the Santiam, and they in turn are loaded on flat cars by the aid of a large electric and shipped by rail to Oregon City.

Wm. Brendler and Andy Jennings are just about the best fishermen in this neck of the woods, which fact is proven by the string of fine trout which they landed Saturday. They caught them in the North Santiam.

W. A. Ewing has asked the city council for permission to improve his building near the bank. It will be raised about a foot, put up, and will be fitted up for the use of jeweler A. W. Hagley, and real estate agent R. Shelton.

Bicycles are getting quite plentiful in Scio just now, and no one seems to be just in the swim without they have a new wheel. R. E. Hibler has sold quite a number of Rambler wheels, and A. W. Hagley has disposed of several wheels, and has more coming.

H. S. Johnston, who had a very severe attack of the measles in this city some time ago, is now about fully recovered. He is at present with his parents at Mehama, but the effect of the measles caused him to have a good deal of trouble with his eyes. He will return to Scio in a few weeks.

There seems to be quite a rivalry among the mohair buyers in this locality, but as usual the Scio merchants are not taking a back seat. They have purchased at the fair price, and have secured quite a quantity in this section of the country, and have purchased some in the immediate vicinity of other towns in the valley.

W. A. Ewing received a telephone message Monday from Hood River announcing the illness of his aunt, and whose recovery was thought doubtful at that time. Some weeks ago Mr. Ewing paid his aunt a visit, and she was then quite low, but since improved a great deal, but was much worse the first of the week.

PURELY PERSONAL

Mrs. Susie Blyven is visiting in Albany this week.

Norman Lang was an Albany visitor the latter part of last week.

All members are asked to be present on that evening, as it is regular meeting night of the Scio lodge, and a good attendance is desired.

S. M. Daniel came up from Monmouth Saturday last to look after his business interests here. He returned to Monmouth Wednesday, but reports the prospects quite good for the coming year, and his friends hereabouts, and they are quite numerous, too, are hoping that he will meet success at every turn of the road.

Prof. E. C. Peery, principal of the Mann schools, has been elected to the position for another year. He will close his first year on the 19th of May, and will spend the summer in Scio. He has been elected as leader of the brass band at Monmouth, and looks as though he had just about permanently connected himself with that thriving bunch grass town.

T. D. McClain, of Munkers, was in Scio Saturday last and left a card of invitation on our desk, for which he gets THE NEWS and the Oregonian another year. Mr. McClain now has on hand about 75 cords of fine fir wood which he will not doubt find ready sale for as soon as the roads will permit hauling.

Mr. McClain has in past year supplied our people with a fine quality of oak wood, and the coming season will be no exception.

STARVING PARIS DOCTORS

Not Enough Patients—Free Hospitals Cus Into the Practice of Many Physicians.

A double suicide, which shocked Paris the other day, brought to the attention of the public the financial straits in which, it is said, the majority of the physicians of that city live, says the New York World. Dr. Arnaud de Langlard, an old physician, who had been decorated by the government for brave conduct during the cholera epidemic many years ago, committed suicide with his wife because his practice had dwindled to the vanishing point and starvation was staring them in the face.

In comment upon the tragedy several newspapers asserted that in Paris not more than one doctor out of five is able to make more than the barest living. Among the causes of this poverty among physicians is the destitution of most of their patients. Medical science has made such great strides, too, that maladies of all sorts are now more quickly cured, and such precautions are taken to prevent the spread of contagious diseases that epidemics are becoming practically unknown. The number of doctors, on the other hand, has rapidly increased. Another reason why there is not practice enough to go around is that in many of the hospitals people can be treated for nothing or at a very nominal figure. Many of these hospitals have training schools which are free, in which are taught the rudiments of medicine and surgery. These schools are largely attended and many sick people are taken in hand at their own homes by some members of the family who has profited by this instruction.

Signs of Longevity.

The primary conditions of longevity are that the heart, lungs and digestive organs, as well as the brain, should be large. If these organs are large, the trunk will be long and the limbs comparatively short. The person will appear tall in sitting and short in standing. The hand will have a long and somewhat heavy palm and short fingers. The brain will be deeply cased, as shown by the blue of the ear being low. The blue hazel or brown hazel eye is a favorable indication. The nostrils being large, open and free, indicates large lungs. A pinched and half-closed nostril indicates small or weak lungs.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Beauty is Blood Deep.
