Mineral Spring College.

Last Wednesday Dr. J. L. Hill, of this city, donated the Mineral Spring College at Scioville a tract of land containing 17 acres north and adjoining the town of Scioville and the board of trustees of the college will build a new college building on the land in the near future. The location is a slightly one and for many years has been looked upon as an ideal spot for an educational institution. Dr. Hill will plat fifty acres of land adjoining the new site, and the new addition will be known as College Hill addition. The board of trustees will act as agents for the addition and will sell the property. When a portion of it is sold Dr. Hill will donate the same to the college endowment fund. The deal was completed Wednesday and yesterday three blocks of College Hill had been sold for cash. The college people are very enthusiastic over the project and expect to sell the entire tract in a few months. The present buildings will be used as a preparatory department for the new college.

The college is under the management of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and is the only Cumberland Presbyterian institution devoted to educational purposes west of the Rocky mountains. It is in a prosperous condition and will be one of the state's leading colleges.—Albany Herald.

What is the matter of Jefferson. Instead of issuing bonds in the usual style to pay for their new school house they have levied a tax on the whole business. Really this is a good example. It is business.—Democrat.

Read the new adv. of W. R. Blyen on this page.

Mrs. Alex. Montgomery is ill at her home in this city, but is improving.

Mrs. Walter Bilyeu has been quite ill for several days past, but is now much improved.

Wm. Brownner has purchased a couple of fine Jersey cows this week from Wm. Rutledge.

Dr. Carl is at the Scio hotel and will remain several days. Call and get your teeth repaired.

You should call on T. S. Coffey and see his line of new saddles. You can save money by getting his prices.

Ex-Governor Lord will not accept the Persian mission, which was tendered him by the president, without his solicitation.

Last Monday A. R. and Wm. McDonald purchased the batonville output of the creamery for the year, the price being 10 cent per hundred pounds.

Cascade Camp, M. W. A., of this city, report quite an increase in membership late, having initiated four new members at their last meeting.

Mrs. V. A. McKnight and daughter are now prepared to dress making. Cutting and fitting a specialty. Latest fashion books on hands. Scio, Ore.

T. S. Coffey has rented the Redding residence property, recently vacated by Mrs. Mary Leigh, and will move his family thereto in a short time.

Rev. Longbottom, of Albany, filled his regular appointment in this city last Sunday evening, and delivered a very interesting as well as instructive sermon.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Munkers has been quite ill with typhoid fever for several weeks past, but is now much improved.

Jeweler Hagey has disposed of quite a number of bicycles during the past few weeks, and among them was a fine Cleveland, which was purchased by Claude Shelton.

Miss Eugene Gill was very sick last Sunday evening, but recovered by being presented with a new bicycle by her father, M. C. Gill. Little Zelman Simpson is also the proud possessor of a wheel.

While in town last week T. L. Duggar ordered a set of hand-made harness of T. S. Coffey, and added that he could get several dollars cheaper than any where else in the county.

M. E. Bilyeu is somewhat under the weather this week, but his friends are looking for his early recovery. He had an attack of the grip early in the spring, and has not fully recovered from the effects of the disease.

M. W. Phillips is in the chicken business on quite an extensive scale. He has an incubator which holds 300 eggs, and out of the first 300 eggs he got 290 chickens, and now has another 300 eggs in the "incubator."

A terrible story comes from Clatsop county of the death of four timber cruisers at the foot of Sugar Leaf mountain in that county, probably the result of eating canned goods as no marks were found about them. One of the men was W. T. Radt, at one time a resident of Yaquina Bay, and well known in this county.

J. S. Morris has just completed pruning and cultivating his apple orchard just outside of town, and reports that the orchard was somewhat damaged by the early frosts, but not to any great extent. Some varieties are not blooming as heavy as Mr. Morris hoped for, still in the long run it will perhaps be better for the orchard.

The superintendent has examined the eyes of 100 children, between the ages of ten and fourteen years, says the Albany Public School Bulletin. Every eye had some defect, have in some sense or other defective eyes, the cause of which is not clear. The examination will be continued, and an official report filed with the board.

R. Shelton received another carload of business on the 14th inst. The business in this vicinity is no small affair when we take into consideration the fact that there will be about 2000 acres this spring, and the contract price calls for $1.00 per bushel. The average yield in this section is from eight to ten bushels, and will result in distributing quite a number of dollars herabouts another fall.

Speaking about raising chickens, Ed Daley was making his brags the other day that he had sold this spring and after three weeks of continuous "settling" she hatched every egg. Of course Ed was feeling pretty good about his "success" and was receiving the congratulations of his friends until someone gave the snap away. The facts of the case were that the old hen only set on one egg, and has one chicken. As a poultry raiser, Ed is a success.

As soon as the improvements on the Exchange building are completed and A. W. Hagey and R. Shelton get located one will have to present his card at the door or be regularly introduced in order to transact business with these gentlemen. The building has been divided into four rooms and a glass front put in, with double doors. Mr. Hagey will occupy the south room and will have it fitted up in last-class style for a modern jewelry store, with a large city hospital in the rear room, and Mr. Shelton will have his real estate office in the north room.

Lee Erickson, a young man who lives near Sweet Home, accidentally shot Miss Kate Sterling at Foster on Thursday last week, causing a slight flesh wound. Word was sent to the young lady's mother, and she started at once for the scene of the accident, on horseback, but the horse fell with her and she received injuries which resulted in her death before she reached the bedside of her daughter. E. T. Bogart, of Larwood was in Scio Friday last, and paid this office a substantial call. Mr. Bogart has about completed arrangements for operating his mill above Larwood, known as the Pitchford mill, and will soon be turning out a superior quality of lumber. Mr. B. is a practical sawmill man and thoroughly understands every detail connected with the mill work.

DIED.

CYRUS—In this city, Sunday, April 23, 1894, Maude, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cyrus, aged 16 years, one month and 13 days.

Only one short week has elapsed since we were called upon to note the departure by death of one of Scio's young people, and now it becomes our painful duty to repeat the sad intelligence that another summons has been issued, and another life has been given up; another home has been darkened and the once happy family are left heart-broken and sad.

The death of Miss Cyrus was a particularly sad one. She was born near Scio, and with the exception of two years, had spent her life here. About three years ago she united herself with the Baptist Church at Providence, near this city, and was a devoted christian at the time of her death.

Early in January Miss Cyrus was taken ill with the measles, and before she had fully recovered she contracted a cold which settled on her lungs, and, after three months of patient suffering death came and she bid farewell to home, friends and loved ones and, in the full realization of a brighter, happier home beyond, crossed over the dark river. She was a student in the public schools and was a favorite with both scholars and teacher. She was a faithful scholar and her only wish was to acquire a finished education. Her life was a happy one and she was at all times cheerful, and while lying on the sick bed and enduring pain and suffering she would not give up, but oftentimes would indulge in song raving than tears.

Besides a loving father and mother, one sister and four brothers—one of whom is a member of Co. I, second Oregon volunteers now at Manila—she leaves a host of sorrowing friends and companions to mourn her early death.

The funeral occurred at Providence church at 1 o'clock Sunday evening, the services being conducted by W. W. Richardson, and the remains were carefully laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to tender my most heartfelt thanks to my friends in Scio for their kind attention and sympathy during the sickness and burial of my beloved wife. May you each and every one meet with as timely sympathy and attention when you come to attend the last sickness and burial of your loved ones.

S. W. DUGGAR.

Notice.

Although Dr. A. G. Prill has got an injunction against me, restraining me from practicing my medicine in the city limits of Scio, yet I am pleased to inform my former patients that I am still permitted to practice medicine in the country as formerly. I shall fit up an office just outside the city limits where I will be found able and willing to attend to all calls.

Yours very truly,
E. O. HYDE, M. D.

Given Four Months in Jail.

On February 14th a saddle was stolen from James Ewing, and also from George Rockwell. A couple of days afterward warrants were issued for the arrest of Charley Slavens and Herbert Mills on the charge of larceny of the saddles.

One of the men was W. T. Radt, at one time a resident of Yaquina Bay, and well known in this county.

Mills returned home a few days ago and Constable John Carroll went over Wednesday and brought him back before Justice Justice Lovelace when he entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment in the county jail. A brother of Mills is in the jail awaiting trial at the next term of court charged with two crimes, and another brother is out on bail, charged with one crime. Lebanon E. A.

Not all voters of this county perhaps are aware of the fact that before they go to the polls again to cast their ballots it will be necessary for them to be registered in order to be a qualified elector. The Hiram registration bill introduced at the regular session of the legislature became a law, and it is now in full force and effect. As the law is interpreted, a registering official will be in each precinct at a specified time to receive the voter's name, age, occupation, height, weight, color of hair and eyes, previous occupation, place of birth, whether a naturalized citizen or not, and a few other little points concerning appearance and character, just to make sure he is entitled to the full right of suffrage in this big country of ours, and of field to be a person authorized to administer oath, and if voter fails to present himself for register he will probably not be allowed to cast his much prized little ballot. Voters should be aware of this law, should it be enforced, and conduct themselves accordingly.—Oregon Union.
