Twenty sheepshearing machines are in operation on the ranch of N. H. Croft, on Birch creek, near Pendleton. These machines are removing on the average 2000 fleeces of wool each day, or about 100 to the machine. Power is furnished by the use of a horsepower turned by six horses. This is the first time machines ever been operated in this country, and shepherds are inclined to believe that the days of shearing sheep by hand have passed and that all sheep in the future will be sheared by machine. The machines are operated on the Cotrell ranch and the bands of sheep are driven there for shearing. The advantage is not so much in the shearing of a large number of sheep than by the old method, but in the better manner in which the fleece is taken off the sheep's back. By the hand shearing method the shearer was apt to cut the fiber and thus injure the selling quality of the wool. In machine shearing the fleece comes from the sheep's back in perfect condition, and it is claimed that each fleece is worth 5 cents more on the average than when sheared by hand.

I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have used all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found one remedy that has been a success as a cure, and that is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

P. E. Grisham, Gary Mills, La. For sale by Peery & Peery.

Mrs. W. E. Savage has received a photograph of Mr. Savage and his nine and cabin, which is located near Dawson City, Alaska. The photo gives a good idea of the condition of the country and shows how the mines are worked. There were five men in the group, and all were dressed as though they were in a warmer country than Alaska.

An exchange gets off the following: "If you are the salt of the earth, women are undoubtedly the sugar. Salt is necessary—sugar is a luxury. Vicious men are salt-peter stern men are rock salt, and nice, gentlemanly men are table salt. Old maids are brown sugar, and pretty girls the fine pulverized sugar. Pass the pulverized sugar, please."

Kyle, Wheeler & Co., who have been buying cattle in this county, have 17 carloads of cattle at Albany Tuesday, and 15 carloads at Junction City. Part of the cattle were loaded when it appeared that there was hitch about the payment, and the cattle were unloaded. There were in all about 1500 head, all young cattle, and were being shipped to Omaha, Neb. They were valued at $40,000.

Bids were opened at Washington Tuesday for a site for Salem's government building. There were twenty-seven tenders. D. F. Wagner secured his contract at Liberty street corner for $23,100. A special agent will be sent to Salem quite soon to confer with our people and view the sites offered.

The 27th annual reunion of the pioneers of Oregon will be held in Portland June 15th, when a program of great interest will be presented. The opening prayer will be by the chaplain Rev. A. J. Hunsaker of McMinnville, a former Albany man, of 1847, the vernal address by Hon. J. A. Wainwright, of San Francisco, a pioneer Oregonian of 1845, and the occasional address by Chief Justice Wolverson, 1853. A banquet will follow.

Among the unique honors that will be paid to Admiral Dewey when he comes to Washington will be the presentation of a set of autograph letters of praise from the president, the vice-president, all the members of the cabinet, nearly every senator and representative of the last congress, prominent state and municipal officials from every state and territory, and eminent business and professional men. It will be a testimonial such as no other man ever received, and will show the world that Americans know how to honor their heroes as well as to produce them.

The body of Fish Commissioner Hollister D. McGuire, who was drowned in the North Umpqua river, below Winchester, April 8, was recovered Saturday by Chapman, T. A. Gee and Creed Gilliam. The body of State Senator A. W. Reed, who was drowned with Mr. McGuire, has not been found. Mr. McGuire's body had risen and floated a short distance. The clothing caught in brush on the east side of the river, about 400 yards below the point where Commissioner McGuire and Senator Reed were drowned. Mr. McGuire's watch was stopped at 2:10.

The horse race which is to take place at this city tomorrow, Saturday, promises to be a good one, and a large crowd in town Monday will witness the race, and many were away disappointed, and it is hoped that the race tomorrow will be run without so much trouble in starting. Alex Williams has given notice that he will be allowed to trespass upon his pasture and barn lot as they did Monday, and those who attend the race should bear this in mind. A great deal of good pasture was ruined the other day by several men and boys running their horses over it, when really they had no right inside the fence.

Last Monday was "horse race day" in Scio, the occasion was the means of bringing quite a crowd to this city. A track had been prepared in the lane near Alex Williams' farm, at West Scio, and the horses were on the ground soon after noon. The race was between Wm. Richardson's Pat Murphy and a horse from Stayton known as Spokane Bell. The riders were up about three o'clock, but it was after six before the race was run, and then Pat Murphy came through alone, owing to a misunderstanding. Pat's rider was under the impression that his opponent said "go," but instead it seems he said "whom." The judges said it was a race, but it was decided to run the race over, and Saturday (tomorrow) was called upon as the day for the final. The horses are to be ready to go at one o'clock, and it is likely that there will be more than one race on that day. There is quite a little money up now on the outcome and it is quite likely that a good deal more will be put up before the race is finally run. Although there was quite a crowd at the race all were very quiet and peaceable. The best of the pre-rivals among those having the race in charge, and their aim is to make a friendly, social event.

PURELY PERSONAL

Sheriff L. A. Munkers was in Scio a short time Monday.

David Myers was an Albany visitor of the first of the week.

Win. Jones, of Jefferson, was up to view the races Monday.

R. D. Calavan was over from Albany with a backload of horse race spectators.

Oscar Johnson, of Salem, was in Scio over Sunday, visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. R. E. Hibler went to Portland Saturday to visit with relatives and friends for a few days.

Rev. Matlock, of Eugene, conducted services at the Christian church in this city last Sunday.

Benj. Serfing was up from Monmouth the first of the week visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Phillips went to Silverton Tuesday to visit with relatives and friends a few days.

Photographer Britain is up at Jordan this week with his large tent, fully prepared to do all kinds of work.

Attorney T. J. Wilson, of this city has been admitted to practice before the interior department at Washington.

S. I. Shore was out among his friends again this week. He has had quite a serious time of it, but is now much improved.

Joseph Nemetz of Bruno, Nebraska, who has been looking over the resources of our country. He left for his home Tuesday.

Frank Coffey and Mr. Frester, of Salem, were in Scio Monday. These gentlemen are house-movers, and are now engaged in raising the Catholic church near Jordan.

H. H. Hendine drove to Stayton Sunday to visit with friends. He was accompanied by Mrs. Laura Paul and Mrs. F. J. Irvine, the latter going to visit with her sister, Mrs. Falls.

M. E. Bilyeu, who has been up at Scioville for a couple of weeks past returned home Monday. The visit at the springs did not benefit him as he had hoped, still his health is somewhat improved.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Hyde and family left Tuesday evening for Albany from which place they will go presumably to Prineville, Oregon. Their friends in this vicinity wish them much success.

Mrs. C. V. Johnson returned from Salem Monday evening. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Lillian Handlett, and Miss Allie Crossen, both of Salem, who will visit here for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Cyrus left Saturday for Albany and Salem where she will visit for a few days. As soon as the weather conditions will permit she will erect a new cottage to replace the one recently destroyed by fire.

Andrew Schinost and Anton Paal, of Beemer, Nebraska, arrived in Scio last week, and will look over the country with a view to a future home. They are fine appearing gentlemen, and we hope they will locate among us.

Chas. E. Ivy left Sunday for his home in Bassburg, Wash., after a two week's visit with his father, John Ivy, and sister, Mrs. S. I. Shore. Mrs. Shore, who has been quite ill for some weeks past, is now rapidly improving.

C. N. Young was down to Silverton over Sunday. He was invited to attend a concert given at that place by the Marine band, and at which they were going to play his Maccabee march. Mr. Young has received many flattering complaints for his musical composition.

Fred Smith was down from the Bogart mill over Sunday. He has been employed at the mill as engineer for the past month, and states that things are running in nice shape up there and the prospects is good for turning out a large quantity of fine lumber the coming season.

Prof. E. C. Peery has closed his school at Moro, and returned to Scio Wednesday evening. He took off his hat and held his breath in surprise when he first entered the drug store—of which he is one of the proprietors. His many friends in this section are glad to welcome him home again.

Answering the supposed question of a foreigner as to how many states there are in the Union, the Salt Lake City Tribune says: Forty-five states and some territories; they fill all spaces between the two great oceans, and at one bugle call last summer in every one, soldiers fell into line; the tread of the thousands was like the tolling of their standards reflected back the sunlight through one-eighth of the sun's daily round. And they all speak one language, all sing the same songs; all turn for inspiration to the same flag; and though each is a separate wave, when blended make but one ocean, and when in full roar the shores of the nation are shaken, for in majesty, in latent power in unapproachable splendor, there is no counterpart for them in the records that have existed since nations were first organized on earth.

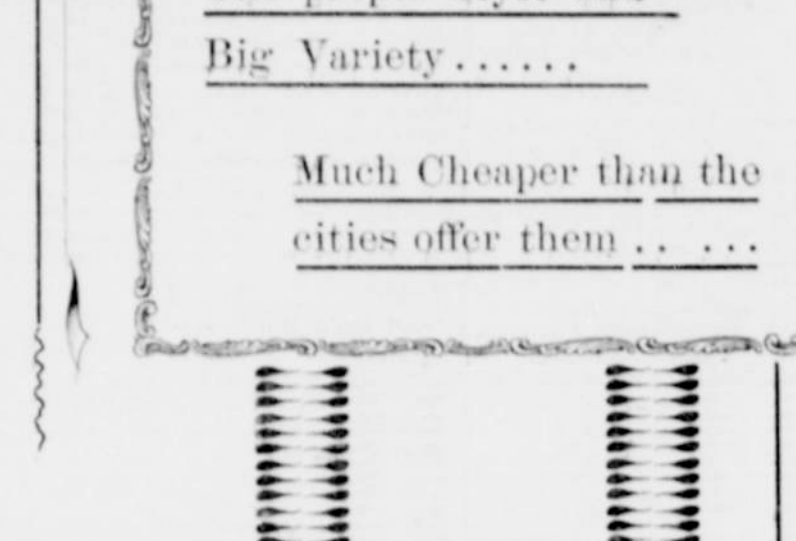

The Scientific American, May 29, contains a picture of Linnus H., owned by J. T. Rutherford a brother of Rutherford Brothers of Turner. His mane is 11 feet long and his tail 10 feet. He is a son of the Oregon Wonder, and was in Albany five or six years ago, being exhibited in a tent next to the Democrat office under the name of Oregon Wonder Jr. His name was afterwards changed. In the write up Oregon gets no credit in connection with the wonderful Oregon horse.

Some unknown miscreants near Eugene Thursday last week attacked with some stones the north-bound freight train, carrying passengers and fired a shot through the caboose half a mile out of Creswell. Three traveling men, Ph. Joseph and W. A. Williams, of Portland, and M. L. Campbell of Eugene were in close range of the shot but no one was injured.
