At a meeting of the directors of the state agricultural society, at Salem, last week, A. W. Cole, of this city, was appointed one of the marshals, and S. I. Shore, also of Scio, was reappointed to the position he held last year, that of superintendent of the grand stand. Mrs. Lillian Hibler was chosen as one of the pavilion judges.

Mr. Owen Martin a former resident of Lebanon died at the county poor farm Sunday, June 25, 1899, of paralysis aged 76 years. The deceased leaves a wife and nine children, one daughter, Mrs. Marion Elliott living in Boise City, Idaho, the others in different parts of this state. The remains were buried in the Albany cemetery on Monday.

P. S. Brenner, who has been in very poor health for sometime past, is slightly improved. The old gentleman is now past 90, and Mrs. Brenner is past 87, and they have been married nearly 40 years. It is doubtful if there is another couple in the county both of whom are living and who are as old and have enjoyed such a happy company for an equal number of years.

A. T. Powell and Geo. Glass are getting their machinery together preparatory to cutting grain the coming harvest. Mr. Powell has exchanged his big 10 foot binder for a 12 foot machine and will be prepared to cut more grain than before. He is very much in favor of these new binders, and any one contemplating the purchase of one of them would do well to call on him.

One enterprising American manager has already engaged Zola to dramatize the Dreyfus case. It now remains for another step more active to make a handsome offer to the late prisoner at Devil's Island to appear in the title role. Surely, a country which could find a man with nerve enough to ask Colonel Funston to swim a river in public for show and hoards need not hesitate at such.

Lumber for the new grain elevator is now arriving and the carpenters are at work. It will not be long until a new building will stand where the old one did. It will be about the same size, but will stand upon a stone foundation and will be a great deal more substantial. It will have nine bins, and with the floor space under the bins will have a total capacity of about 60,000 bushels of grain.

Chas. H. Chapman, president of the University of Oregon has departed for pastures new, leaving Eugene with few if any friends to bid him good-bye good-bye and well wishes. Mr. Chapman was a man spoiled by education. He had the education to be true, but conceit, arrogance and it is alleged, deceit had him. Here the bubble burst and he can now start over again.—Bohemian Nugget.

J. P. Crabtree this week received a letter from Mrs. Crabtree's sister, Mrs. Wm. Turnidge, who with her husband, went to the Allamont district in the early spring. Mrs. Turnidge relates the many hardships she was compelled to undergo in making the trip, but is confident that they will succeed in getting a good paying mine. They have lost the mine and are now engaged in developing it.

The Linn county W. C. T. U. and the Linn county Prohibition Club have united to give a grand temperance rally picnic at Brownsville July 4th, to which everybody is cordially invited. The picnic will be held at Brownsville, Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney, President of the State W. C. T. U., will deliver the principal address. The Misses Sheak, daughters of Prof. Henry Sheak, of Philomath College, will be heard in several selections of vocal music and other exercises, will make the entertainment well worth hearing.

Our attention has been called to the manner in which about a half dozen boys conducted themselves at the church last Saturday evening during the children's day exercises. If we should print the names of these young men it would bring tears to the eyes of several mothers who are among our prominent citizens, and who are not aware that their sons have been guilty of very disgraceful acts not only on this occasion but on numerous others. The presence of the city marshal was badly needed on the occasion to show and make it his duty to preserve order at such meetings as this one was.

In order to accommodate the growing demand on the part of Portland people for facilities to reach Yaquina bay in the bathing season of the summer, the Southern Pacific has arranged with the Corvallis & Eastern so that a night train will be run between Portland and Yaquina. It will leave the union passenger station, Portland Saturday evening at 7:45. For the next morning at 7:45, for the Saturday morning excursion, $6 will cover the entire cost of transportation and berth in sleepers.

We have said a good deal about cleaning up this town of ours, but as yet we have not seen much of the old rubbish turned to ashes. It is no use to put it off any longer. Dry weather has come and the streets and back yards should be cleared of the old boards, brush and other rubbish which makes the town look so dilapidated. The city council will be asked to order a general cleaning up pretty soon if it is not done otherwise. A petition is being circulated asking the council to grade and gravel main street and otherwise improve the appearance of the city, and our people should cooperate with them and do what they can to make this one of the neatest little cities in the valley.

Last Saturday two little girls came into our office and laid in a complaint regarding the conduct of three large boys. The little girls stated that these boys, who are all about 17 years of age, went up on the ditch, near the home of Mrs. Savage, where the three little girls had a nice little play house and liberally tore down the house and scattered all their playthings about. The little girls are about 8 years old, their playhouse was not damaged, but the boys in the least, and nothing but a desire to show their true character could prompt them to take part in such meanest. The little girls gave us the names of these boys, but out of respect for their parents we will not print them. It must be humiliating to the parents of such boys to know that they would be a party to such capers.

The race horse champions of Stayton are again in trouble. E. A. Downing has commenced action in the circuit court against Chas. Lutz for $100 attorney fees, costs and disbursements. Attorney Downing alleges that he was hired by Lutz to adjust certain difficulties growing out of the first race; that he sued the owners of Scio and attended to other matters for which he wants the $100. To collect this he attacked the same race mare, "Belle Flynn" Deputy Derby took possession of the mare and placed her in charge of W. Elder. Mr. Lutz and his friends employed L. H. McMahon to look after their interest and served a notice on Deputy Derby to the effect that the horse attached to the property of Jack Maxwell, of Liko was being required to put up bonds, which he did and the case is now ready for future developments.—Statesman.

A Big Cattle Sale.

W. M. Speer, of Sheridan, Wyoming, purchased Saturday of Craft Bros., of Scio, a band of 1200 head of cowboys which they were shipping for Wyoming Monday. The band will make a train load of 22 cars. The price paid for the cattle was $16.50 to $17 for steers and $14.50 to $15 for heifers. The shipment represents a total value of about $18,000.—Herald.

Prof. Miller will return to Mayville in the fall more here being engaged to teach for another year.

KISSING AMONG WOMEN.

The Fashionable Girl Being Abandoned by Fashionables in Eastern Cities.

Not a few society women of New York and other eastern centers of population have revolted against the practice of kissing each other when they meet. Kissing began to go out of fashion when physical culture came in. It was the athletic girl who helped to bring about the change in salutation, says the New York World. Dr. Sargent, Dr. Savage and other eminent but less prominent professors of physical development have unconsciously done more to solve the woman question than any other profession. Kissing, not being wholesome, is not good form, and that is why the fashionables have determined not to kiss. The last important case of kissing that society can remember occurred at the Marlborough-Hamersley wedding. It was a civil service for obvious reasons. Mayor Hewitt officiated. He was a personal friend of the late duke and an ardent admirer and intimate friend of the bridegroom's father. It was the bridegroom's intention to present him with a purse for the purchase of a souvenir, but his honor wouldn't have it. His fee was a kiss from the bride, and she paid it. In describing it afterward the duchess of Marlborough said that she offered her cheek, but the chose her lips; and everybody accused his honor of having taken a mean advantage of his position.

The decline of the society kiss began some time ago. It dates from the rise of the college women's gymnasium. Trainers from Yale and Harvard were invited into lecture courses; Smith, Vassar, Wellesley, Farmington and Ognonts girls went to hear them, and most of these athletic madams grew the physical culture fad which has eliminated kissing, headaches, nervous fainting spells and hand shaking to a degree. The society girl is calm. She has repose. She has powder on her face; it is to keep her cool, and even if she did not consider kissing bad form it would annoy her to have her complexion mottled.

CHAS. F. JOHNSON, Address, FARM JOURNAL, PHILADELPHIA.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and had fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me. I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by Peery & Peery.

The secret of happiness is usefulness, the secret of usefulness is unselfishness, and William Newey Channing says that his sympathy of life is, to live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion; to be worthy; not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to listen to stars and birds, babes and sages, with open heart; to study hard, to think quietly, act frankly, talk gently, await occasions, hurry never; in a word to let the spiritual unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common.
