STEAM BARGE FOUNDERED

Went Down in Lake Erie During a Gale.

CAUSED BY SHIFTING OF CARGO

Nine Persons Were Drowned and the Floating Four on Board Were Picked Up by a Life-Saving Crew.

Cleveland, July 1.—In a heavy north east gale last night the steam barge Margaret O'Neil, laden with stone from Kelley's island for Cleveland, foundered in Lake Erie, off Loraine. Nine persons were drowned. Four members of the crew have been picked up by passing steamers, and brought into port. The dead are:

Captain John C. Braun, master, of Cleveland.
Lizzie Braun, wife of the master.
Blanchard Braun, 3-year-old son.
Mrs. Cora A. Hitchcock, a passenger, of Cleveland.

William Doyle, fireman, Cleveland.
George Heffron, seaman, Cleveland.
Frank Higgins, watchman, Cleveland.
Two seamen, names and addresses unknown.

From the reports of the survivors, the O'Neil's cargo of stone shifted while the vessel was laboring in the trough of the sea. Shortly before she went down the rudder chains parted, allowing her to fall off into the trough. As the helpless craft rose on the top of a heavy sea, the stone slid to leeward, the barge came loose from the barge and floated on the water, while the rest of the ship went to the bottom.

The rescued members of the crew were floating on the surface of Lake Erie, clinging to bits of wreckage. The rescue was attended by exhibitions of extreme heroism, for a heavy sea was still running when they were picked up. Captain W. Longbrugh, of the State of Ohio, sighted the wreckage about 5:15 this morning, directly in the course from Cleveland to Toledo.

The big steamer immediately put into service her life-saving crew, and after sailing around the wreckage for an hour and a half Doyle was rescued. Heffron was thrown a line, but he was too weak to take hold of it, and went down in the presence of a large crowd on board the steamer. Several attempts were made to get the yawl into the water, but the sea was still running high, and the work was extremely perilous.

Heffron's death was a pathetic one for he grabbed the rope, and, being encouraged by the crowd, made a superhuman effort to put the rope around himself, but he was too weak, and had to give up the desperate struggle with the waves. The rescue of Doyle was effected with difficulty. Expert line men walked up and down the steamer, and every time the big boat could be worked near him a line would be thrown. Finally he reached one, and quickly got it around his body. He was more dead than alive when taken in. Captain W. Longbrugh said he did not leave the spot till he was sure that no others remained on the wreckage.

WANT A REPUBLIC.
Socialist How to Belgian Parliament Led to Rioting.

Brussels, July 1.—The storm of verbiage was renewed in the chamber of deputies today.

The socialists led a cheering crowd, shouting, "Vive la republique!" in the park, where a conflict with gendarmes occurred. Thence the mob proceeded to the public square, the shops closing as the rioters appeared.

The streets were filled by a shouting mob, which eventually gathered in front of the war ministry, where gendarmes who endeavored to disperse the rioters.

At the conclusion of a great meeting in the town hall this evening, thousands attempted to cross the Grand Place, in which the town hall stands. The gendarmes charged with drawn swords, and the crowd retaliated with stones. Shots were fired on both sides. Three persons were wounded, and a police officer was severely stabbed with a shoemaker's knife. The rioters on being dispersed, assembled at another point. A large crowd gathered in the Rue Royale, tearing up the paving stones and using these as missiles.

Finally, the civic guard was ordered out to relieve the police.

Despite these attempts to suppress the disturbances, rioting continued to a late hour, many persons being injured. A tramway conductor received two bullet-wounds. Ultimately the troops were called and 35 arrests were made, many of those taken into custody being in possession of revolvers.

The public prosecutor, with his entire staff, remains on permanent duty at the Hotel de Ville. It is rumored that one man who was wounded has since died.

The Brooklyn Repaired.
New York, July 1.—The cruiser Brooklyn, which was injured off the Battery Decoration day, was taken out of the drydock at the navy-yard today, thoroughly repaired.

Colored Soldiers Shoot a Sailor Man.
Winnemucca, Nev., July 1.—This evening a special train containing companies L and M of the Twenty-fifth infantry, and company K of the Twenty-fourth, colored regiments, arrived in Winnemucca. A number of the men left the train and raided a neighboring saloon. They wrecked the bar and stole what liquor there was in sight. Chris Deiss, the bartender, was shot down by one of the soldiers. Those who committed the outrage then fled to the train.

The Treasury Deficit.
Washington, July 1.—The treasury officials are now confident that the deficit for the present fiscal year will not exceed $90,000,000. One week ago the estimate was a little short of $100,000,000, but during the last few days the receipts have been rather above the estimates, while the expenditures have fallen off.

Clarksville, Mo., July 1.—Five men have been drowned in the Mississippi river this place by the overturning of a skiff. They were laborers engaged in government river improvement work.

STARVING MINERS.

Those on Kotzebue Sound Have No Money and Ask for Relief.

San Francisco, July 1.—The Associated Press has received a letter from Dr. J. S. Stone, formerly a well-known physician in this city, telling of the situation in the Kotzebue country. The letter is dated Kotzebue river, Alaska, south of Mangeluck river, January 1, 1899. Dr. Stone says that 1,500 men left Kotzebue for the interior, carrying provisions, clothing, mining tools, etc., on the strength of contracts issued by certain transportation companies announcing "The richest gold fields in Alaska," and offering other inducements to secure travel on their lines.

The doctors, writes Dr. Stone, were millions lost made out of whole cloth, and no gold has been found on Kotzebue sound or either the Kowak, Nensark or Selawik rivers, which flow into Botham inlet, a part of the sound, or any of their tributaries in anything like paying quantities. Up to date other large rivers have been prospected with no result. One thousand holes were sunk this winter, some of them 35 feet deep, with no bedrock or color being struck.

About November 1 a rush was started for the Alaskan reports being received of gold being found in enormous quantities, and hopeful prospects. After journeying 16 days, cutting trails, dragging heavily loaded sleds with the thermometer registering from 45 to 60 degrees below zero, we reached Beaver City, a settlement consisting of seven cabins, only to find the reports absolutely false.
