A FEW FARM NOTES

From the Rural Spirit.

The large entry list received at Salem plainly shows that it pays to hang up liberal purses.

The world's champion guideless pacer Del Norte 2:04½ is being worked at Salem, Oregon.

There will be some hot competition in the show rings at the state fairs this year, as well as in the speed department.

Frank C. Baker has just returned from a months visit to Honolulu. He will now devote some of his time preparing his fine horses for the state fair show rings.

None of the Oregon horses won at the Santa Rosa meeting. Tickets won second, Bill Frazier and Alta Dell won fourth moneys, and Deceiver got behind the flag.

Hon. Thos. H. Tongue, who has always had faith in the horse business, will prepare quite a lot of his standard bred trotters including Lovelace 2:20 for the state fairs.

We are pleased to learn that Robert Leighton, of Vancouver, B. C., is to be presiding judge at the Oregon state fair race meeting this year. This is a splendid selection as Mr. Leighton is honest, competent and fearless.

The dates of the California Oregon and Washington state fairs are so arranged that race horses and exhibitors can attend each fair. Now if we can pursuade our Idaho brethren to fall in line, what a fine circuit we would have of the state fair alone.

If reports of loss of wheat are confirmed there will be a big demand for stock hogs this fall and hogs that formerly were put on the market in half fat condition will now be held until put in prime condition. This will probably make hogs more scares than ever for the next two months.

The government crop report for August contained no surprises. It indicated a yield of about 535,000,000 bushels of wheat, which, though 140,000,000 less than last year, has been exceeded only twice, one in 1891 and again in 1898. The corn crop promises 2,200,000,000 bushels. This is 279,000,000 bushels greater than last year, and has only been exceeded once, in 1896. The loss in money value of wheat, therefore promises to be offset by the increase in corn.

Oscar Hyde who died a short time since, was not only the youngest member of the A. O. U. W. of this place, but was the youngest man ever taken into this lodge. He had been a member about nine months, and at the time of his death was aged 19 years and five months. He had paid into the beneficiary fund of the order $10 80 and in dues $2.50 and his parents will now receive $2000.—Lebanon E.-A.

About 1000 recruits from the East have reported to Colonel Plummer at Vancouver for enlistment in the 35th regiment of volunteers and squads of from two to 50 continue to arrive daily. Colonel Plummer has requested the war department not to send any more men from the Eastern station as he has a decided preference for Western men.

A Portland man named Ford recently inherited $1,000 from a California relative. He drew $600 out of the bank and a couple of friends had it before he had gone two blocks Then he drew the other $400 out and invested it in the recent Astoria races. A fool and his money are soon parted.

The following is from the Malheur County Advocate: "A large immigration from Missouri has been passing through this section the past week, some 20 or more wagons containing upwards of 100 persons having already arrived. All are headed for Western Oregon."

Edward L. Mims, a Pendleton lawyer who shot J. Henry Miller in a saloon, has been charged with murder by the coroner's jury and will have to do some live rustling to prevent being stretched by hemp.

Americans Prettiest Country Homes.

A page of pictures of twenty-four of "The Prettiest Country Homes in America" is shown in the September issue of The Ladies Home Journal. As the tendency of the day is to remove from the central yards of our cities to the suburbs, such a page is both timely and interesting affording many ideas to the prospective building of a suburban house.

Good Enough to Take.

The finest quality of loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to that of maple syrup, making it very pleasant to take. As a medicine for the cure of coughs colds, la grippe, croup and whooping cough it is unequaled by any other. It always cures, and cures quickly. For sale by Peery and Peery.

New Bankruptcy Cases.

E. A Schiffler, of Albany tailor, yesterday filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court. His liabilities amount to $5125.99, and his assets consist of "no property, personal or real."

T. L. Henness, of Albany insurance agent, also filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court. His liabilities amount to $2707.32. His assets consist of a half interest in judgments of doubtful value, amounting to $4040, and personal property, exempt valued at $245—Oregonian.

From South Africa.

Mark E. Carey arrived in Albany Sunday morning direct from South Africa. He was met here by his mother Mrs. E. R. Carey and sister Miss Alice, and left this morning by carriage for their home in Prineville. Mr. Cary left seven years ago for South Africa to make his fortune and has succeeded in doing so returning with, it is reported $35,000 to his credit. He is a young man of splendid character and deserves his good fortune, made by hard work and rustle. He got out just ahead of the trouble between England and Kruger but saw it coming.—Democrat.

The Thistle Law.

At the last session of the legislature a law was passed known as the "Thistle Law" which for the benefit of farmers and others we summarize as follows: "It shall be the duty of each road supervisor of each district in the state to ascertain from time to time and know whether there is in his district any weed known as "Russian thistle," the "Canada thistle" or the "Chinese thistle," and he shall as he ascertains that there is any of such weeds and before any thereof has shed its bloom or commences to form its seed notify the county judge, in writing of the existence of such weed, and in a similar manner notify the owner or occupant of the premises upon which said weeds or thistles may be.

If, after such notice, the owner shall fail or refuse to destroy such weed, it shall be the duty of the road supervisor to call such help as he may deem necessary and go upon said land and cause said to be extirpated in such a manner as to prevent the spreading of the seed from the same. Upon the completion of said work, the supervisor shall file with the county clerk an itemized statement of the expense, verified by his oath. The county clerk shall cause to be entered upon a lien docket provided for that purpose, the amount of such charges and expenses, and this amount, when so docketed, shall constitute a first lien prior and superior to all other liens and charges upon such lands or premises except taxes.

If said charges and expenses are not paid by the owner within six months after the same is docketed, the district attorney shall bring suit in the name of the county for the foreclosure of said lien; and the lands affected shall be sold under execution for the payment and satisfaction of such expenses and charges and of said lien and all charges touching the same.

If within ten days after the statement has been filed and the lien docketed, and no objections have been filed the county court shall pay the supervisor out of the county funds the amount of such charges and expenses, and the same shall thereafter be recovered to the use of the county.

Chaplain Gilbert of the Second Oregon regiment in his remarks at the banquet at Eugene gave some interesting statistics concerning the regiment. He says the total number of officers and enlisted men was 1331; average age, 24.98 years; average weight, 148½ pounds; married, 89; students, 156; clerks, 141, lawyers, 15, bookkeepers, 15; carpenters 29; farmers, 123; laborers, 165; mechanics, 66; teachers, 28; merchants, 34; college graduates, 114; employed when enlisted, 1190; members of the church 531. It was fifteen months and ten days from the time they enlisted until they were discharged and they lost from sickness, disease, battle and other causes 54 men.

A cyclone struck along the road between Sumpter and Cracker creek twisting the timber as though it were matches, hurling some of it across the roadway, thus delaying traffic the other day.

The threshing crews in this locality are all at work and are getting out lots of grain. As a rule the grain is not very badly damaged, still it will not go onto the market as first-class grain. The market price seems to be about 48 to 50 cents.

The new grain warehouse walles are completed and the elevator tower is about finished. In a few days more roof will be on and the building will be ready for grain The work on the building has been greatly delayed—partly on account of lumber and partly on the weather.

George F. Mitchell, of Salem, while on his way home from Spokane fell from the cars at Oregon City last Saturday and was killed. His body was found on the track just north of Oregon City where he undoubtfully accidentally fell off the cars.

Billey Miller, of Shelburn, who played ball in Albany several years ago, was in the city today. He has been playing ball in Eastern Oregon this year and recently a few games at Independence. Miller is one of the best catchers in the state.—Monday's Democrat.

The cosmopolitan character of the Dreyfus case is emphasized in the fact that L. Leon Bureau, the private secretary of Labori, Dreyfus lawyer, was Saturday in Seattle on his way back as fast as cars and boats would take him with evidence in the case, which he had obtained on the Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territory.

Barny Bond, who served three years in the army and during which time was at Cuba and Manila, has again enlisted. His time expired in May, and he arrived home from Manila in July, but he is not yet tired of army life and will enlist in the new regiment now forming at Vancouver. He was in Scio last fall, and has many friends here.

The Wiley B. Allen music house of Portland have undertaken quite an attractive means of advertising. They have fitted up a special car and loaded it with pianos. They stop at all stations of any size and give free concerts in the evening. The car was here from Saturday until Tuesday. It is in charge of Mr. Geo. Allen, who travels with a fine team.

Mrs. Rucker, who lived near Providence, died Wednesday evening. She had been ill for sometime past with a complication of diseases, and underwent an operation a short time ago. She was about 50 years of ago, and was a widow, her husband having died about a year and a half ago. The funeral took place at Providence yesterday afternoon.

Sunday morning the weather changed from wind and rain to bright warm sunshine, and again the farmers are wearing a bright smile. There is very little of the grain in this locality badly damaged, and the prospect is now favorable for threshing, and it is likely that all the grain will be threshed before we have any more rainy weather.

Hop picking will commence in earnest next week. Most of the yards in this locality are ready to pick and all promise a good yield. There are several acres in this section and they will distribute several dollars before the season is over. Prices for hops this year are pretty good, and as a result those who have hop yards are considering themselves lucky.

There will be another ice cream social tomorrow night on behalf of the school house seating fund. There has been quite a comfortable little sum raised in this way already, and with the help of a few more ice cream socials sufficient money will been raised to seat the assembly hall in good shape. Let all turn out and eat all the ice cream their purses will permit of.

Mrs. John Parker died at her home in Portland Thursday last, and her remains were laid to rest in the Masonic cemetery at Albany Saturday last. Her husband died at Dawson city something over a year ago. The family formerly lived in Albany, and had many friends and relatives there. Mrs. Parker was an aunt of Mrs. M. C. Gill of this city. An unmarried daughter is the only surviving member of the family.

The ice cream social last Saturday evening was a decided financial success. The weather was decidedly against the proposition, but this did not seem to make much difference, and several gallons of cream were disposed of at a net gain of $20.75. This is the largest amount received from any of the socials and much credit is due those having the matter in charge for their success, taking into consideration the fact that the weather was unfavorable and hardly anybody was in the ice cream mood.

The Herald of Albany states that some of the country sportsmen are shooting China pheasants in violation of the law. If Geo. Stimson finds out that the Herald has called him a "country" sportsman the fur will fly. By the way, it is our opinion that the so called country sportsman is just about as apt to keep within the bonds of the law as are those "city chaps," from Albany as well as other cities, who "hike" over a man's farm with a band of dogs and do not pay any more attention to a trespass notice than if it wasn't there. A man can be a pretty good law abiding sportsman even if he dont belong to some "rod and game club."

Clarence Alexander met with quite a serious accident on Monday of this week, and one which may cause him to lose an arm. He was driving a team at his uncles farm near town and got down to open a gate, and took hold of one of the horses rein to lead the team through the gate when it begin to run and kick. Clarence held onto the horse and tried to stop them but fell and the wagon run over his left arm just above the elbow, mashing the bone to a pulp. Dr. Prill was called and dressed the injury, but the bone was so badly shattered that it will be a difficult matter to get it in place again and hold it long enough to allow new bone to form, and it may have to be amputated.

What might have been a fatal accident happened to Porter Long Wednesday afternoon while he was assisting in moving the engine with the McDonald threshing crew. He was riding on the fly-wheel, and in some way the wheel turned and Mr. Long was thrown back-ward and slid down between the hind wheel of the engine and the fly-wheel, and was wedged between them so solid that his body acted as a brake and held the hind wheel of the engine solid. As a result his clothes were pretty badly torn from his back, and several bad gashes cut in his back and hips, to say nothing of the several square feet of cuticle which was removed. Mr. Long had presence of mind enough to hang onto the fly-wheel, and had he let go his grip the engine would have passed over his body. He was brought to town and Dr. Prill dressed his injuries and he will soon be about again.

There is no doubting the fact that the state fair this year is going to be just about the best meeting that has been held on the state fair grounds for some years past. The new management have left nothing undone that would tend to make the fair worthy of the patronage of the people, The people, however, those whose patronage it takes to make the fair a success, have been greatly dissapointed during the past few years in the manner by which the fair has been conducted and should the coming meeting not come up to what the management have promised the people would doubtless turn a deaf ear to all future fairs. However we have every faith in the success of the coming meeting. We believe that what has been said is true and that we will have a meeting this fall worthy of the name of a state fair. We are in hopes that it will be a true representative of the state and its resources, and earnestly believe that it will. Our people should all arrange to attend and thus show our appreciation for the efforts of the new management.

P. company, and was a sergeant in the company of volunteer engineers who were enlisted for service at Manila, but who only went as far as Honolulu and were mustered out.

Messrs. A. D. Hopper, of Spokane, W. F. Boardman, of San Francisco, and E. E. Larimore, of Portland were in Scio yesterday for the purpose of perfecting plans for the establishment of a flax fiber plant in this city. They have a flax threshing machine here and have sent to San Francisco for an expert mechanic to take charge of it, and next week will give a practical test of its thrashing and flax saving qualities. The establishment of the flax fiber plant in this city means a great deal for Scio and surrounding country. It will provide a market for all the flax straw that our farmers can produce, aside from employing a good many men in the factory, and will therefore be the means of distributing a good many thousands of dollars among our people each year. These gentlemen have the appearance of being thorough business men, and come to us with sufficient capital to push the project to a successful end. It is earnestly hoped that our people—farmers and business men—each and every one will do what they can for the establishment of this enterprise.

His feet slipped and he fell, striking his left hand on the sharp bit of the axe, cutting a gash diagonally across it, severing the leaders and cutting the index and second fingers almost entirely off. Dr. Hawk dressed the injury and Geo. is taking his summer vacation.—Jefferson Review.

The following from the Standard, of Montgomery City, Mo. whose editor was recently in Oregon at the National Convention will make even Oregonians open their eyes: "Speaking of potatoes this good story is told of a certain gentleman. Visiting an Oregon town, he was entertained by a friend. With the frankness of Western hospitality, his friend inquired what were the Easterner's favorite dishes. I have never seen the day he replied, when I couldn't eat a good baked potato and a piece of fat and tender roast mutton. At dinner the next evening a huge platter was borne in with nine baked potatoes aggregating 62 pounds in weight. The biggest one fell to the lot of the Eastern guest. It weighed 11 pounds; broken open it was mealy and white with a perfect flavor. And this is the first day I ever knew when I couldn't eat one baked potato, was the comment of the astonished guest."

The announcement is made by Senator Harris, of Kansas, that he will introduce three bills in congress next winter, one for increasing the length of the president's term of office to six years and disqualifying him for re-election, another that senators shall be elected by direct vote of the people, and third, to make the term of congressman four years instead of two, as at present. The three bills each have merit, but we doubt very much whether they can be passed through congress. Once past that body and submitted to the people we believe they will vote for the changes in the constitution especially the law electing senators by vote of the people instead of the legislature. That is the most important provision suggested.—West Side.

Eugene having an interesting time on the flour question. In response to an article in the Guard charging that the raise to 3.50 a barrel, with wheat at 50 cents was extortionate one firm admitted that the price was unreasonable and could not exist, but since the rain they had been unable to get wheat and the demand for flour was greater than could be met and the raise was only temporary. The firm had offered as high as 60 cents for wheat for milling purposes in order to meet the demand for flour, At the same time Fisher in Corvallis, the Guard says, was selling flour $2 80.
