Is Doing Well

We take the following from a letter written at Dawson City to an Albany friend, by C. W. Watts:

"W. E. Savage is well and is well pleased with his outlook for the winter. He will get $10 per day if he chooses to work for wages."

Don't Winter Inmate.

For sunshine, flowers and oranges take the Sunset Route via Los Angeles to all points East. Tourist excursion cars and chair cars to El Paso, Fort Worth, Kansas City, Chicago, Cincinnati, Houston, New Orleans and Washington, D. C.

For rates, guides and information address: C. H. MARRHAM, G. P. A., Portland, Oregon.

NOTICE.

From this time on I will sell sugar for CASH and PRODUCE only. And in future I will sell sugar at very little profit, but not on CREDIT.

I have to pay cash down for every sack I buy, and it is very hard for me to do this and credit out from six months to a year or two.

ROSS E. HIBLER.

Will Make Bicycles.

T. W. Dilley has completed arrangements for the manufacture of bicycles, and proposes to put a wheel on the market the coming season which will stand the racket. Mr. Dilley's many friends in this section are of the opinion that he knows just how a wheel should be built to stand up under constant use, and he has gained this knowledge by being in the repair business for several years. He proposes to sell his wheels at $30 each, and will turn out nothing but a strictly high grade machine. The gentleman is well and favorably known in this place having resided here for many years before moving to Corvallis, and that city should encourage him in his new enterprise.

Makes Electric Lights

Frank Dickey has manufactured an incandescent electric lamp for Policeman McClain. The lamp is so in the end of a short club, about the size and shape of a "billy," and a battery which furnishes the electricity is stored inside in small tin cans. The cans are soldered and the lamp can be carried in the sleeve and by touching a spring it throws a bright light. It is very useful around the depot those dark nights, and now the night policeman can search box cars for hoboes, without carrying a lantern or using up a box of matches. Mr. Dickey has a neat tin of his own manufacture which contains a very small electric lamp, and it throws a radiant light when he touches the button.—Herald.

There is no kick coming at the work done by the Salem Steam Laundry. You can send your laundry every Monday by taking it to the express office.

Harnish will be here to photograph you Feb. 16.

Call at the drug store for Mountain Halm Cough Cure, the best in the world.

Rev. Bagley, of Jefferson, is conducting services at the M. E. church in this city.

The best fountain pen made is the Waterman. You can get them at Dawson's Albany.

A suit has been commenced in the circuit court for the division of the Lebanon bank property.

If you want the best meal for the money (25c) served in the valley, go to the Albany lunch counter.

Frank Beard and Otto Bilyeu killed a large grey fox in the timber just south of town Wednesday.

Prof. T. J. Wilson is quite ill this week, and Dr. H. Cyrus presides over his room in the public school.

According to the Secretary of the State report Oregon destroyed 16,466 covotes last year at a cost of $36,092.

Manhattan horse remedies are positively guaranteed. They are the best on the market. Ross E. Hibler.

Mrs. I. M. Munkers' wife of Sheriff Munkers of Linn county, is in this city visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. O. Burkhardt.—Salem Journal.

Harnish the Albany photographer will be at his Scio gallery February 16th, and remain three days. Get ready in time, and don't wait until the last day.

The Roberts committee has finished its work, and the Congressional menagerie, when it is instituted will not have a polygamist as one of the star attractions.

Dr. E. O. Hyde, formerly of this city, has been appointed coroner of Crook county, a fact that the doctors many friends in this section will be pleased to learn.

Henry Hasler has so far recovered as to be able to sit up quite a good deal this week, and his friends are trusting that they will see him out among them before long.

A Los Angeles magistrate has formally declared, after investigation, that the trap-shooting of pigeons is not cruelty. The pigeon testimony was not taken.

Nine out of ten drummers carry a Waterman fountain pen. Why? Because they do more writing than anyone else, and want a good pen. Fred Dawson, Albany, is agent.

Don't go away from home for harness, saddles and horse furnishings when you can get them at home, up to date and at low prices. T. S. Coffey has just what you want in this line.

T. S. Coffey has just had a new assortment of saddles, the very best the market affords, and just what his patrons want. His prices are way down, and his goods give satisfaction.

Have you inspected Coffey's new line of harness? He keeps everything in the horse furnishing line, and also has a nice assortment of leather belting, harness oil, etc. Call and see him.

The Linn county levy continues to be the smallest. The Vanhull levy which is generally among the lowest in the state, is 18.40 mills. Wasco county 23 mills, Washington county 24 mills.

The high water last week undermined the north approach to the Stayton bridge, and for a short time travel over it was suspended. However, the damage has been repaired and travel resumed.

The Brownsville Times is in favor of a good wagon road to the mines, the uniting of the two school districts now maintained in the city, a cheese factory and a creamery in full operation by the first day of May.

H. S. Johnston & Co. have this week added a nice line of barrel robes and suits, which are strictly up to date, and are very reasonable in price. Barrel robes are becoming very fashionable and are being used by leading undertakers in all large cities.

"Well that's enough to try the patience of Job," explained the village minister as he threw aside the local paper. "Last Sunday I preached from the text, 'Be ye therefore steadfast,' said the good man, 'but the printer makes it read, 'Be ye there for breakfast.'"

There will be a meeting of the central committee and members of the People's party generally at the county court room on Jan. 31, 1900, at 10 o'clock, a. m. which all members of the party are requested to attend. By order of the chairman of the central committee H. M. Palmer.

T. S. Coffey is just at the present time enjoying quite an extensive trade in the harness and saddle line. He is quite busy putting up new goods for the spring trade, and his sales are well up to the mark.

He has by fair dealing built up a good trade, and his prospects for the future are very bright.

The capet rag social at the city hall last Saturday evening was a very pleasant affair, and the attendance was quite large. A very entertaining program was presented, and a social good time was had. The receipts will be turned over to the reading room, for the purpose of keeping up expense, and purchasing new books.

A subscriber wants to know what will hatch from an onion set? If dehorning a hydraulic ram is inhumane; if a hay crop is mortgaged when the dew is on the grass; if feeding my daughter or continuing will prevent her from running away with her lover; if a negro funeral is a blackberry; if a setting hen is an egg plant; if a mushroom is the place to get perillige?

In another column will be found the boundaries of South Scio precinct, together with the names of those who were taken into the precinct by reason of the change of the boundary lines, also those who were heretofore in the precinct, but are now in the Lacombe and Santiam precincts. We will next week, or later, publish the new lines of Lacombe and Santiam precincts.

The telephone solicitors who were working to establish a local exchange in Lebanon, were not very successful, and we understand that they did not meet with sufficient encouragement to justify putting in the exchange. Scio has a local exchange, and the telephone is well pleased with the service. Junction City will soon have an exchange, and we should think that the business men of Lebanon would see it to their interests to have the exchange put in there.

A few weeks ago a council of the Order of Pendo was organized in this city, and Miles Cary was among those who united with the new order. Shortly after that Mr. Cary was so unfortunate as to get his hand badly injured with a rusty nail, laying him up for two weeks and this week O. W. Morrow, secretary of the O. W. Pendo, in favor of Mr. Cary for $20 in payment of two weeks' absent benefits. The payment was made promptly, and speaks well for the new order.

Here is the late Bill Nye's definition of a newspaper: "It is a library. It is an encyclopedia, a time table, a romance, a gazette, a political resume, a ground plan of the civilized world, a low priced mitron in parvo. It is a sermon, a eulogium, an obituary, a shipwreck, a symphony in a small key, a melody of life and death, a grand aggregation of man's glory and his shame. It is, in short a bird's eye view of all the magnanimity and meanness, the joys and sorrows, births and deaths, the pride and poverty of the world, all for a few cents."

The people of Tillamook county are organizing the extension of the Astoria and Columbia River railroad from Seaside to their county, but President Hammond has stated that work will not be commenced until 1902 when it is his purpose to extend the line down the coast and connect with the Corvallis and Eastern at Yaquina Bay. The road will be built across the state, thus furnishing a trans-continental line from the great inland empire to the mouth of the Columbia river. Mr. Hammond and his associates are acquiring timber lands all along the line of the proposed road down the coast.—Corvallis Times.

The city council, of Lebanon, has instructed the marshal and his deputies to suppress the roudyism in that city, and see to it that there is less hoodlumism going on within the corporate limits. The order is doubtless timely, and most surely would be in this city. There is no possible use of so much noise on our streets at night, and no especially so since the greater part of it is made by young boys who should be at home, and in many instances should be asleep. Last Wednesday night the boys—some of the large enough to know better—chased over town and kept up a yelling equalled only by a Pine Indian until almost midnight. This sort of conduct on the part of the rising generation of our city does not offer a very flattering recommendation for their future, and they should begin at once to change their ways. It might be well also for their parents to turn over a new leaf and exercise a trifle more vigilance over their boys.

Manager E. E. Larimore, of the fiber company was greatly astonished and considerably angered last Thursday morning, upon going up to the mill and finding his water wheel a total wreck. The wheel had just been completed and put into the race the night before, and Mr. Larimore is quite strongly of the opinion that some one wanted to see how hard a nutter it would be to stop it, and with this idea in mind looked a scumming and put the wheel, with the result that it was soon reduced to a total wreck. Just why anyone should do a trick of this kind is not known, still there are persons who would let their curiosity get away with them to the extent of destroying property. However, the wheel has been rebuilt, and made much stronger, with the result that it would take quite a bit of work to destroy it. If it was possible that someone did, maliciously or otherwise, destroy the first wheel they should be prosecuted for the act, but finding the guilty party is going to be a hard thing to do.

The board of school directors of this city has requested us to say that they have adopted a set of very stringent rules regarding the conduct of scholars during intermission and will also keep an eye open for trespassers on the school ground, with a view to prosecuting all offenders regarding who they may be. There are a number of young men in the city who make it a special point to visit the school grounds during intermissions for the purpose of loafing about, and the older scholars, and we are compelled to say that there are a number of the young ladies who attend our schools who look for the visits of these same young men more than they do to their studies, and it is to prevent this sort of conduct that the school board has made the rules referred to. The young men who are guilty of loafing about the school grounds and the street adjacent to the school property would do well to devote their time to some more profitable occupation. Young ladies who attend school should have more respect for their studies than to be guilty of conduct which provokes criticism of this kind, and we are informed that unless they strictly obey the new regulations they will be subject to severe punishment and perhaps expulsion from the school ground is no place for idlers, and hereafter all visitors of the school grounds should be strictly obeyed. Young ladies who are guilty of such conduct should be subject to severe punishment and perhaps expulsion from the school ground is no place for idlers, and hereafter all visitors of the school grounds should be strictly obeyed. Young ladies who are guilty of such conduct should be subject to severe punishment and perhaps expulsion from the school ground is no place for idlers, and hereafter all visitors of the school grounds should be strictly obeyed.

There is a simple reason why a man at work around the water on a rainy day should slip and fall in, but there is a mystery hanging over three individuals in this locality, who went out duck hunting one day last week, and who do not care to say a word about how they got their feet wet. The facts in the case however, are about like this: George Phillips, whom everybody knows as a partman of rounon, Clarence Warwick and Ed. Woodmanse went out last week in search of ducks, and we are putting it mildly when we say that they got started toward Mr. Clason's residence, and again walked into the same ditch. Fortune favors the brave, however, and they again headed for the farm house, and upon their arrival they found the water in the ditch had risen to the level of the house. The only members of the household liberally to go and visit the neighbors—pledged to secrecy, however,—they proceeded to dry out. This was accomplished by standing around a red hot fire in a semi-circle, and waiting for about an hour, after which they marched forth again, each pledged never to "give it away."

After the marriage ceremony last Friday night, we were invited to the spacious dining room, where the tables were growing under their load of good things, prepared by careful and skilful hands for the occasion, and it would not be fair to even think that there were any who did not do ample justice to the occasion. The News joins the happy couple many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Those present to witness the happy event were: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crabtree and three children, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morris and daughter, of Albany, Newton Center and three children, Mr. and Mrs. T. Turner, and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Games and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pindexter and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Griffin and child, Mr. and Mrs. John Yilling and two children, and Clifford Griffin.

The American people are waking up to the importance of the fact that now is the time to build the Nicaragua canal.

H. E. Barnister, of Jordan, was in Scio Wednesday.

Miss Belle Brown, of Jefferson, was visiting in Scio this week.

Frank Birtcher was a county seat visitor Saturday of last week.

Warren Cyrus was over to Albany Friday evening, returning Saturday.

Mr. Wiley, of Silverton, was visiting in Scio this week, the guest of C. S. Young.

Miss Maudie Daniel, of this city, was visiting in Lebanon last week. She returned home Thursday.

V. Chadok returned Saturday from Corvallis, where he had been attending the farmer's short course.

Mrs. Newbold, of Albany, was in Scio this week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Miller.

Mrs. C. V. Johnson who has been visiting at Salem for some time past, returned home Wednesday of last week.

J. J. Barnes was over to the county seat Friday and Saturday, visiting, relatives and looking after some business matters.

Misses May Carl and Ida Shelton, of Oregon City, have returned home after a visit with relatives here of several weeks' duration.

Hon. Jeff Myers, of Salem, was visiting his father and sisters in this city Wednesday, and incidentally looking after business matters.

M. Daniel was shaking hands with friends in this city, the middle of the week. He reports things quite lively at Monmouth and vicinity.

W. F. Hibler, who recently disposed of his farm, a few miles east of this city, has moved his family to this city, and now occupies one of Mrs. King's residences.

Mrs. E. E. Larimore and the baby returned from Portland Friday of last week, after a visit with relatives, medical treatment. She also visited at the home of her mother, at Forest Grove.

H. M. Cox, who is selling musical instruments for C. A. Whale, of Salem, returned to the State capital the first of the week, after several days work in this section, with, we understand, considerable success.

Rev. Edward Ottinus, of Turner, was in Scio this week, assisting Rev. Bagley, who was conducting a protracted meeting in this city. Rev. Ottinus is a Southern Oregon acquaintance of the editor of this paper, and was a very pleasant caller at his office.

Joseph Gray, of Mt. View, of Olinville, Miss., arrived in Scio last week, and is now looking over our section of the country with a view of locating. At present they are visiting with Alice Vann, lately from the latter place, now a resident of this favored section of the earth.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Morris drove to Jefferson Sunday last, and from there they took the train for Albany, where Mrs. Morris and the baby, visited with relatives and friends, while Frank went on to Corvallis where he attended the cheese and butter making lectures of the farmer's short course, at the Agricultural college.

Dr. A. G. Prill left Saturday last for New York city, accompanied by Dr. Hill, of Albany, and the two will enter a medical school in that city for the purpose of taking a post graduate course in medicine and surgery. They expect to be absent about six weeks. Dr. Prill has charge of Dr. Hill's practice during his absence.

E. E. Larimore and E. W. Hill drove to Albany Thursday, but to have some work done at the Albany Iron works. They returned home Friday. The roads between this city and the county seat are the best in the world, at least though they are now in a better condition than they were the time last year. However, it is pretty tough on a team to make the trip in a day.

MARRIED.

HORACE BOB-CRABTREE.—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crabtree, three miles south of Scio, Wednesday, January 21, 1900.

David Horneburgh and Miss Clara B. Crabtree, of Shelton, J. P. Crabtree, the ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of invited friends and relatives, and the young people set out on life's long journey amid the best wishes and congratulations of a host of friends.

Mr. Horneburgh is a young man of whom all speak in words of highest praise. He has resided here for some time, and has acquired considerable property. He is possessed of good business ability, and is spoken of as a gentleman in every sense of the word. Miss Crabtree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crabtree, and was born and raised in this county, and is held high in the esteem of all who know her.
